Democrats Retain Edge In Congress

In County Courthouse Contests

9 Of 10 Incumbents Win; Dawson Victor Over Ursu

Nine of 10 incumbents — five Democrats and four Republicans — were returned to Courthouse posts by Columbiana County voters in the general election Tuesday.

County Engineer John Ursu of Jennings Ave., Salem, a Democrat asking a second term, was the only incumbent who did not win, according to complete but unofficial returns from the 170 precincts.

Bert A. (Hush) Dawson Jr. of N. Shady Ln. Rd., an engineer at the H. K. Porter Co. and the Republican nominee, was credited with a 111 - vote victory over Ursu that may prompt a request for a recount if it stands up in the official canvass.

The returns showed:

Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats have retained control of a Congress that may be called on to elect the next president and vice president.

But the cross currents of an extraordinary election left in utter doubt the crucial questions whether the House would get the presidential decisions and if it does whether a Democratic majority would elect the party's nominee, Hubert A. Humphrey.

Democrats were assured a numerical majority in both branches of Congress, keeping a grip on the key Senate and House offices and committee chairmanships that play major roles in shaping and handling legislation.

Their margins were reduced, however, in both chambers. They had controlled the old House, 246 to 186, with three vacancies, and the Senate, 63 to 37.

Returns tabulated so far gave Democrats 234 of the 435 seats in the new House and Republican 183, with 18 races still undecided.

In the 100-member Senate, where 34 seats were to be filled, Democrats were assured of control with 54, including holdover members, and Republicans 39. In the undecided races, Democrats led for five seats and Republicans for two.

If no presidential ticket wins a majority of the electoral vote, the House elects a president and the Senate a vice president.

But the election in the House would be by states, with 26 votes seeded for victory. The President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican Richard M. Nixon was elected 37th President of the United States today, bursting by Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey with narrow windup victories in California, Illinois and Ohio.

The 55-year-old former vice president went over the top at 11:35 a.m. EST by capturing Illinois' 26 electoral votes for a total of 287 votes in the Electoral College.

Earlier, he closed in on the White House by taking his native California with 40 electoral votes and Ohio with its 26 votes.

With four states still in doubt —Alaska, Maryland, Missouri and Washington—Nixon had put together a dramatic victory over Humphrey with 30 states in his electoral column.

The popular-vote race was a virtual deadlock and the final result was delayed for hours after the polls had closed.

In New York, Nixon stopped short of claiming victory. He apparently was awaiting a statement of concession from Humphrey.

George C. Wallace of the American Independent party was a distant third.

Shortly after 10 a.m. Humphrey placed a telephone call to his Republican rival for the presidency.

He turned to friends in his Minneapolis hotel suite and said: "I don't want any sympathy from any of you."

Smoleski Edges Patrick; Democrats Rule Hancock

In a hotly-contested race, Lou Smoleski appears to have been elected Hancock County sheriff by the narrow margin of 49 votes over Ralph J. Patrick.

Both are residents of Weirton.

Democrats swept all seven posts in the county, according to complete but unofficial returns in Tuesday's election.

The vote for sheriff from the county's 39 precincts showed:

Hays Wins An 11th Term

Rep. Wayne L. Hays of Flushing, Democrat, will go back to the House of Representatives in 1969 to begin his 11th term from the 18th Congressional District.

The veteran legislator scored an easy 33,033-vote victory in Tuesday's general election over his Republican challenger, Dr. James F. Sutherland, a Martins Ferry physician.

Complete, unofficial returns from the 644 precincts in the six-county district showed:

Hays	96,727
Sutherland	63,694

HAYS, 56, has served as the district's congressman since 1949. Dr. Sutherland, 40, has been engaged in the general practice of medicine for 16 years.

Hays carried every county in the district in overwhelming his opponent.

Columbiana County's 170 precincts gave the incumbent 24,233 to the 17,963 for the challenger.

In Jefferson County's 148 precincts, Hays rolled up 25,639 votes to the 12,036 given Dr. Sutherland. Harrison County's 34 precincts cast 4,156 for the Democrat and 3,402 for the Republican.

In Tuscarawas County, the 130 precincts cast 16,145 for Hays and 13,108 for Dr. Sutherland. Carroll County showed 4,415 for Hays and 4,255 for Dr. Sutherland.

In Belmont County, where both men reside, the 132 precincts cast 22,139 for Hays and 12,905 for Dr. Sutherland.

Nixon Triumphs In Ohio As Saxbe Beats Gilligan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Republican Richard M. Nixon captured Ohio's 26 electoral votes today, scoring a close victory in a state which he easily carried in his 1960 campaign against John F. Kennedy.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey rallied with a late surge of votes from strong Democratic areas that cut into Nixon's lead and kept the outcome in doubt until this morning. But he was unable to overcome the 100,000-vote margin Nixon piled up in early returns Tuesday night.

Nixon considered Ohio crucial to winning the White House.

Moore Is Elected W. Va. Governor

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Republican Arch A. Moore Jr. won the closest governor's race in 52 years, but Democrats took all the other statewide contests as well as the five congressional seats at stake in the West Virginia election Tuesday.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey captured the state's seven electoral votes for president with a vote total equal to the combined totals of Republican Richard M. Nixon and third-party contender George C. Wallace, who ran a distant third.

By overwhelming margins, West Virginia voters ratified two constitutional amendments. One authorizes a $350-million roads bond issue. The other shifts budget - making responsibilities from the seven-member State Board of Public Works to the governor alone.

Democrats Control State House

HHH Wins Pennsylvania; Schweiker Topples Clark

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey won Pennsylvania's 29 crucial electoral votes Tuesday, riding to victory on a landslide in Democratic Philadelphia — the same way John F. Kennedy knocked off the same Richard M. Nixon in 1960.

But a young Republican Congressman, Richard S. Schweiker—bucking a Democratic tide that swept three statewide offices and gave the Democrats a 14-13 edge in the U.S. House—and one-half control of the state legislature—derailed the bid of veteran Joseph S. Clark for a third term in the U.S. Senate.

Humphrey fashioned his triumph with a 270,000-vote majority in the nation's fourth largest city, where nearly one-fifth of the state's 5.6 million voters are registered.

Eight years ago Kennedy captured Philadelphia by 331,000 and Pennsylvania by 116,000.

No Republican has ever won the presidency without winning Pennsylvania.

George C. Wallace, the third party nominee who was expected to hurt the Democrats the most, apparently cut deeply into Nixon territory — but, even so, trailed far behind his best expectations.

RICHARD SCHWEIKER
Defeats Sen. Clark.

With 8,569 of the state's 9,492 precincts reported, or 90 per cent, Humphrey had 1,975,102, Nixon 1,859,510 and Wallace 324,785.

In the Senate race, with 8,588 precincts, Clark had 1,843,391 including a majority of 191,000 in Philadelphia, against 2,124,077 for Schweiker.

Applegate Wins; Wetzel Returned

State Rep. Douglas Applegate of Steubenville, a Democrat, was named state senator from the five-county 30th District in Tuesday's general election, winning by a margin of nearly 5,000 votes over the Republican incumbent, John Longsworth of Salem, who was seeking a second term.

Complete but unofficial returns from the 460 precincts showed:

Applegate	58,221
Longsworth	50,757

—:—

STATE Rep. Clarence L. (Dutch) Wetzel of Lisbon, a Republican, was returned to a 10th term as Columbiana County's state representative, receiving an 1,182 margin over his Democratic opponent, Roy Allen of Columbiana.

Complete, unofficial returns from the county's 170 precincts showed:

Wetzel	21,077
Allen	19,895

In the state senatorial race, Longsworth carried his home county with 22,748 votes to the 17,288 given Applegate, a 40 - year-old Steubenville real estate broker.

Applegate rolled up 25,066 votes in his home county of Jefferson, which gave Longsworth 11,688.

In Tuscarawas County, Applegate polled 9,171 votes to Longsworth's 7,674. Carroll County gave Longsworth 5,220 and Applegate 2,952.

In Harrison County, Applegate polled 3,742 and Longsworth 3,427.

Pancake Supper Slated Saturday By Kiwanis Club

Plans have been completed for the Kiwanis Club's semi-annual public pancake and sausage supper Saturday night at Westgate School cafeteria.

Collin Neal, chairman, and Dayton Allen, president- elect, who are in charge, said pancakes will be served from 5 to 7:30.

Those planning to attend a Sweet Adelines barbershop quartet program later that night are invited to the supper, Neal said.

Members of the East Liverpool and Beaver Local High School Key Clubs will assist. The meal will be prepared and served by Kiwanians, assisted by the cafeteria staff.

Proceeds will be used for the club's community service projects, including the current "Save The Clock" campaign to erect the former Central School tower clock in a downtown location.

A bake sale will be conducted by wives of club members.

Tickets are available from members or at the door Saturday.

Pancake Supper Slated Saturday By Kiwanis Club

Plans have been completed for the Kiwanis Club's semi-annual public pancake and sausage supper Saturday night at Westgate School cafeteria.

Collin Neal, chairman, and Dayton Allen, president-elect, who are in charge, said pancakes will be served from 5 to 7:30.

Those planning to attend a Sweet Adelines barbershop quartet program later that night are invited to the supper, Neal said.

Members of the East Liverpool and Beaver Local High School Key Clubs will assist. The meal will be prepared and served by Kiwanians, assisted by the cafeteria staff.

Proceeds will be used for the club's community service projects, including the current "Save The Clock" campaign to erect the former Central School tower clock in a downtown location.

A bake sale will be conducted by wives of club members.

Tickets are available from members or at the door Saturday.

The Case For Unity

Americans were looking at each other today with wonderment over the political attitudes of the country's voters which resulted in a near stand-off in the race for President.

Tuesday's balloting was seemingly less of a decision-making act of the electorate on national policy and leadership than a ritual catharsis—an attempt of the nation to rid itself of the burdensome war in Vietnam, the nervous twitchings of social unrest, the uncertainty of purpose.

Unlike many presidential selections of the past when the country was troubled, Tuesday's balloting produced no major changes of course to which its citizens could commit themselves with a vow of unity, for today we still have the war, the violence and the confusion. The reality of 1968 is not that the candidates failed to offer definitive solutions to our troubles, but that there are no such clear solutions.

Americans must recognize that the infinitely complex existence of today has no immediate, easy answers or explanations; in fact, there are some problems which cannot be solved—a near heresy to a pragmatic people who have always been confident of an ability to "fix it."

What we are promised now is a fresh look at our purposes and policies, and a new effort to reshape them to different directions, unshackled from tired opinions and restricting prejudices, unhampered by old commitments and poorly made promises.

No new leader of an electorate as divided as ours can ask for complete unity and total support. But he does deserve an honest and responsive citizenry which will meet its duties, and which will look beyond selfish wants and personal gain to what is best for the nation.

Americans have always prized individual freedoms and the right to achieve their own destiny with their own talents in their own identity. But they have also recognized responsibilities to their neighbors, to their community and to their nation — and their sons and daughters and the rest of the world have been the better for it. We should do no less today and tomorrow than we did in the past, for the need is that much greater.

In Search Of Spies

The widening investigation of spy activities in West Germany has some Western defense officials wondering where it all will end.

Starting in October a string of espionage disclosures has startled North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) representatives and undermined faith in West Germany.

Rear Adm. Hermann Ludke's death — labeled a possible suicide — came after miniature camera snapshots of secret NATO papers were turned over to officials by a Bonn photography laboratory employe.

STILL UNEXPLAINED are the suicides of five government employes that occurred in October. Among the dead are the deputy chief of the Federal Intelligence Service and a colonel in the German army.

Adding to the scandal were reports of the theft of a Sidewinder missile from Zell Air Base that had been shipped to Moscow.

The West German mood was caught in an editorial cartoon last week that depicted members of the Moscow hierarchy opening up an air freight crate and finding Gerhard Schroder, Bonn's defense minister, inside.

High Federal Republic leaders find no humor in the spy incidents and an investigation has been started into operations of the country's three espionage services.

THOUSANDS of East German spies are known to be in West Germany but until the recent turn of events, it was believed the heavy concentration of American, British, French and German agents was sufficient to impair their effectiveness.

That confidence no longer exists.

The restoration of Western confidence in West Germany is the primary goal of the investigation. How successful the Federal Republic is could determine how much Western help it has in fending off Communist powers.

Something New In Middle East

New violence that broke out in Amman, Jordan, yesterday contained a hint that a peaceful Middle East settlement may begin to take shape in the near future.

The fact that Monday's fighting involved Arab against Arab, rather than Arab versus Israeli, strengthens King Hussein's argument that he seeks a peacefull negotiated end to existing conditions.

KING HUSSEIN ordered Jordanian government troops to put down an attempt by dissident Arab commandos to stir up civil strife. There was wide-spread shooting and demonstrations throughout the Jordanian capital.

Arab guerrilla units have been raiding Israeli installations from bases in Jordan. Israel has been threatening reprisals if the terrorist activity did not stop.

Last Thursday, King Hussein expressed a desire for a political settlement with Israel "within a short time." This is contrary to the plans of guerrilla groups who seek to "liberate" all of Palestine, not just the Arab territories lost to Israel in last year's six-day war.

The break now has been made.

The king is out on the peaceful settlement limb and is trying to keep the Arab guerrillas from sawing it off.

Attempting to sway support to his side, he made a radio pledge that guerrilla attacks would continue against Israel when "purified from these stealthy, treacherous elements."

THE IMPACT OF THE PLEDGE is taken away by his firm handling of dissident commandos and insistence on a peaceful approach to a solution.

The Jordanian king by no means is the mouthpiece of the Arab world in its struggle with Israel. Gamal Abdel Nasser, president of the United Arab Republic (UAR), still holds that distinction.

Nevertheless, should Jordan and Israel come to terms over disputed territory through negotiation, the agreement could not be overlooked by the rest of the Arab world.

Jordanian-Israeli progress would not defuse the Middle East, but would be a long stride in the right direction.

That Quicksand Called Crime

Crime is like quicksand —once it gets a hold on you it has a good chance of claiming you.

Although it used different words to say so, the Federal Bureau of Investigation said substantially that in the text of a newly released study of crime

The Bureau's reasearch showed that once a man becomes involved in crime he tends to make a career of it. And this is in spite of all efforts to salvage him, to pull him out of the quicksand.

FURTHERMORE, THE STUDY reveals it seems to make no difference what kind of punishments administered for the initial offense. Almost inevitably further crimes are committed.

The FBI study involved 17,876 persons who were charged with committing serious crimes and then later were released to the streets. It disclosed that 60 per cent of them were arrested again on new charges within the four-year period covered by the study.

Of those who got off scott free in their first encounter with the law, through acquittal or dismissal of indictment, 11 per cent became repeaters.

But, at the same time, 72 per cent of those who served full sentences in prison got in trouble again within the four-year period. And 71 per cent of those who got off with just a fine at the time of their convictions became repeaters.

Even the parole system failed to keep 59 per cent of the offenders from committing new crimes. And of those who were paroled through guidance centers, the "halfway houses," a disappointing 68 per cent became involved in further crime.

The FBI's report is certainly grim. It clearly indicates that penologists have met with very little success in their efforts to reduce the rate of those returning to crime.

THE BUREAU MADE the sober comment that its study raises "serious questions about the effectiveness" of all current methods of rehabilitating criminals.

Surveys and studies such as the FBI's crime-repeater study clearly shows what is happening. Now our social psychologists, psychiatrists and penologists need to come up with the reasons why it is happening.

The crime situation would be drastically improved if the repeater could be eliminated. Attention to this problem is urgent.

Smell Of Money

Respectability is coming to garbage.

An environmental pollution control expert in New York has predicted that it won't be too many years before the search for an answer to this country's problem of what to do about garbage and refuse disposal will lead to a salvage process.

The expert sees household refuse transported to automated transfer stations where it would be sorted according to its salvageability.

For example, wood products would be made into charcoal, metal would be saved from scrap, paper, rags and glass could all be reprocessed, vegetable matter would become compost and whatever refuse was left could be taken to land fills.

That means that much-maligned garbage, through a salvage process, could be converted into materials worth billions. Yep that's respectability.

A Glimmer Of Hope

A newspaper survey of Negroes in Detroit's ghetto area contains a glimmer of hope for an orderly solution to America's slum problem.

The Detroit Free Press questioned Negroes residing in the area that erupted into the nation's worst riot last year and found an apparent readiness on the part of the citizens to join the city's economic and social mainstream.

Significantly, all but an extreme minority of militants share a willingness to work within the existing system to improve their economic and social status.

This indicates to us a new phase in the ghetto transformation — look toward responsible leadership by the Negro majority and a turning away from the futility of violence.

To be sure, the survey covered only one ghetto area, but it dovetails with other studies conducted in various parts of the country that point toward a new area in race relations.

When the Negro majority takes the leadership reins out of the hands of extremists, it will have found common ground with the white majority that seeks eradication of the ghetto.

'You Have Visitors From The White House, Mr. President!'

VICTOR RIESEL

New Chicago Confrontation

CHICAGO — More history is being made and new battlelines are being drawn here in Daley-town, far from fortress Hilton.

Some industrialists have decided that confrontation — albeit peaceful and legalistic—is the best policy to deal with tough, direct-actionist, self-appointed black militants.

Victor Riesel

So General Electric, harassed here by a handful of sit-inners and pickets, has gone to the National Labor Relations Board and charged the new Black Labor Federation, some of its leaders and one of its affiliates, with unfair labor practices.

Labor and industrial insiders are rezoning in on the action. It is the first such move. It sets precedent. It may wildfire through big cities, where black caucuses have been challenging big unions and corporation executives, pulling quickie strikes, provoking wildcats and forcing big factories to suspend production for hours and even shut down for a day.

Leaders of the Black Labor Federation say they simply want to make unions and industry "more relevant to the needs of the black man," and charged that "organized labor is yet another force within white society to help perpetuate the status quo and to oppose the black man's quest for total equality."

LABOR LEADERS in the big cities, especially where there are concentrations of steel, auto and transportations installations, report that "black caucuses" want to bypass the legitimate unions, tear up collective bargaining agreements, and take over "representation" of thousands of plant workers.

Recently black action, usually led by 40 or 50 millitants seeking the support of many thousands of uninterested black and other minority employes, have disrupted auto factories and steel mills.

Many of the corporations hit by the militants have fine records on minority employment. Here, General Electric has been going all out with educational programs, orientation courses, heavy employment of black and Spanish-speaking workers, and bonuses for black recruitment and steady attendance, at its Hotpoint household appliance operation.

Of its 3,600 hourly rated blue-collar employes, some 1,200 (actually more than 33 per cent of the union members) are from minority communities. Of course there are frictions, factions and fist fights. But under contract with Sheet Metal Local 571, the plant has worked smoothly.

Last summer, a black militant, Willie Plunkett, ran for local president, lost, and organized the Afro-American Employees of Hotpoint.

THEN HE AND OTHERS launched the Black Labor Federation early in October. Just about ing the case, reinstated the Spanish-speaking employe got into a brawl inside the plant. Both were suspended. Then, "supervision," reviewing the case, reinstated the Spanish-speaking chap and fired the Negro. The decision was that he had started the fight.

The next day, Thursday, Oct. 10, the Afro-American committee pulled a 55-minute sit-down. The following Monday, Willie Plunkett, the 27-year-old committee chairman, held a well-attended lunchtime news conference outside the plant gate. He and his colleague threatened to shut down the plant if their demands were not met.

The militants wanted General Electric, now under contract with the Sheet Metal workers until Oct. 26, 1969, to recognize the Afro-American group as the employes' collective bargaining agent.

Then the Afro-American committee went back into the building. But they refused to work. "Supervision" urged them to resume their work. They refused. They were asked to leave—some 33 sit-inners in all. Again they refused. So the big installation was shut down for the day at considerable cost.

CAME THE DAWN, also came pickets. For a week, handfuls of Afro-American committee members stalked the gates. They were ignored by virtually all workers—black, white, English-speaking and Spanish-Speaking. There was no backlash. Nor did anyone ask onyone out front. In the meantime, Willie Plunkett and 32 others were suspended.

But they continced to demand they be recognized as the plant's collective bargaining agent.

They were supported by the Black Labor Federation.

Then, determined to settle once and for all the right of a tiny band of militants, regardless of color, to harass unions and industrialists, General Electric filed its unfair labor practice action with the NLRB.

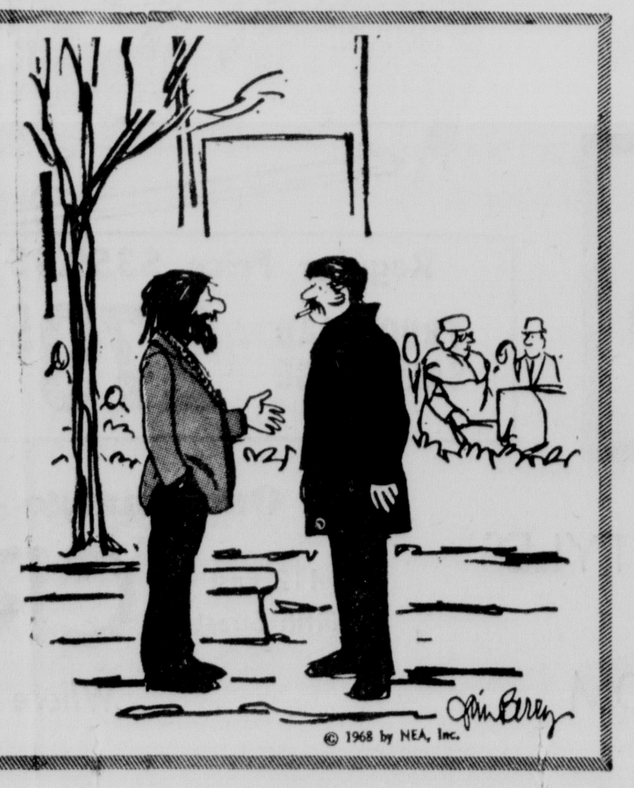
The document, filed with the regional board on Oct. 15, charges that Hotpoint has been picketed on and off since Oct. 14, in violation of the federal labor law. If the board examiner finds the Black Labor Federation guilty of unfair labor practice, he will order it to desist.

If William Plunkett and his co-leaders refuse, the matter goes into the courts for enforcement. If the courts support the board, the government must enforce the law.

It will take a long time. But the issue has been confronted on a new and ever-widening front. Sooner or later, we'll know who speaks for whom and whose rights are being violated.

Berry's World

"I'll tell you why I could vote, because I have a very 'high threshold of irrelevance'!"



Letter From Max

By Martin Miller

Most readers know that Truman Twill, who wrote in this space for umpteen years, was a conscientious watcher and admirer of Mrs. Jackie Kennedy, our former First Lady. When queried about what he thought about her marriage to Aristotle Socrates Onassis he said simply, "I was crushed." Truman Twill and an old school chum, similarly retired, are now batting around the country in a house trailer — New England, Tennessee, Michigan and expecting to winter in Florida. They touch down at home base now and then.

At the Olympics in Mexico City the records went down about at the same rate as the runners who were exhausted by the thin atmosphere. But to us pseudo-scientists it was clear that the reason the records in the jumping events were broken so much was because the force of gravity is weaker in Mexico City which is at 8,000 feet.

As on the moon, the less gravity the higher a person can jump.

Okay, so gravity is in direct proportion to the product of the masses of the earth and the jumpers and varies inversely as the square of the distance separating them.

Or to put it simply, the gravitational force is equal to the quotient of the product of the masses divided by the square of the distance between them.

So all you have to do is to take the mass of the earth which is six sextillion, 600 quintillion short tons and multiply it times the weight of the Olympics jumper and divide what you get by the square of the distance of the jumper from the center of the earth.

The earth's radius is 4,000 miles, so Mexico City would be about 4,001½ miles from the center of the earth. Thus you would multiply 4,000 times 4,000, and then 4,001½ times 4,001½.

Then you divide each of those squares into whatever you had after multiplying six sextillion and 600 quinteillion short tons by the weight of the jumper and you can see how much lighter a jumper would feel in Mexico City than at sea level or someplace else.

To multiply the weight of an 175-pound jumper times the weight of the earth you would have to reduce or expand six sextillion and 600 quintillion short tons to pounds which comes out to approximately 13,200,000,000.000,000,000,000,000 pounds.

But this is doing enough of your work for you. The rest is easy, just multiplication and division, anyone can do that.

Please don't remember that you read it here first.

"Sock it to me" jokes may be becoming a new fad.

Our domestic wit offers these contributions:

"It may be an electrical outlet to you but it's a socket to me."

"He may be Hector Hugh Munro to you but he's saki to me."

It violates our principles to explain jokes but for those who never heard of Hector Hugh Munro he was a writer who used the pen-name Saki and wrote some of the most terrifying short stories you ever read.

Faithfully yours,
MAX

Commissioner Writes

I attempt to visit the County Home at least every two weeks. I visit and speak to all the inmates and they appreciate it. If I am there through the noon hour, I eat with the cooks and other help.

If Mr. Boyce, the superintendent, would continue spending for the next two months as he has been, he will overspend his budget by an estimated $50,000. On two different occasions I have spoken to him regarding his budget, and his answer has been, "We will know how it stands at the end of the year."

Mr. Boyce admits he will run over his budget when he speaks of using $16,000 that is still unencumbered but not in his budget. In 1967 there was $35,000 of a balance to supplement funds for 1968, and if we do not carry over this $16,000, we will have $34,000 less for 1969 or only $258,000.

The budget this year is $222,000. There is no known available source for any more money this year.

The Case For Unity

Americans were looking at each other today with wonderment over the political attitudes of the country's voters which resulted in a near stand-off in the race for President.

Tuesday's balloting was seemingly less of a decision-making act of the electorate on national policy and leadership than a ritual catharsis—an attempt of the nation to rid itself of the burdensome war in Vietnam, the nervous twitchings of social unrest, the uncertainty of purpose.

Unlike many presidential selections of the past when the country was troubled, Tuesday's balloting produced no major changes of course to which its citizens could commit themselves with a vow of unity, for today we still have the war, the violence and the confusion. The reality of 1968 is not that the candidates failed to offer definitive solutions to our troubles, but that there are no such clear solutions.

Americans must recognize that the infinitely complex existence of today has no immediate, easy answers or explanations; in fact, there are some problems which cannot be solved—a near heresy to a pragmatic people who have always been confident of an ability to "fix it."

What we are promised now is a fresh look at our purposes and policies, and a new effort to reshape them to different directions, unshackled from tired opinions and restricting prejudices, unhampered by old commitments and poorly made promises.

No new leader of an electorate as divided as ours can ask for complete unity and total support. But he does deserve an honest and responsive citizenry which will meet its duties, and which will look beyond selfish wants and personal gain to what is best for the nation.

Americans have always prized individual freedoms and the right to achieve their own destiny with their own talents in their own identity. But they have also recognized responsibilities to their neighbors, to their community and to their nation — and their sons and daughters and the rest of the world have been the better for it. We should do no less today and tomorrow than we did in the past, for the need is that much greater.

In Search Of Spies

The widening investigation of spy activities in West Germany has some Western defense officials wondering where it all will end.

Starting in October a string of espionage disclosures has startled North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) representatives and undermined faith in West Germany.

Rear Adm. Hermann Ludke's death — labeled a possible suicide — came after miniature camera snapshots of secret NATO papers were turned over to officials by a Bonn photography laboratory employe.

STILL UNEXPLAINED are the suicides of five government employes that occurred in October. Among the dead are the deputy chief of the Federal Intelligence Service and a colonel in the German army.

Adding to the scandal were reports of the theft of a Sidewinder missile from Zell Air Base that had been shipped to Moscow.

The West German mood was caught in an editorial cartoon last week that depicted members of the Moscow hierarchy opening up an air freight crate and finding Gerhard Schroder, Bonn's defense minister, inside.

High Federal Republic leaders find no humor in the spy incidents and an investigation has been started into operations of the country's three espionage services.

THOUSANDS of East German spies are known to be in West Germany but until the recent turn of events, it was believed the heavy concentration of American, British, French and German agents was sufficient to impair their effectiveness.

That confidence no longer exists.

The restoration of Western confidence in West Germany is the primary goal of the investigation. How successful the Federal Republic is could determine how much Western help it has in fending off Communist powers.

Something New In Middle East

New violence that broke out in Amman, Jordan, yesterday contained a hint that a peaceful Middle East settlement may begin to take shape in the near future.

The fact that Monday's fighting involved Arab against Arab, rather than Arab versus Israeli, strengthens King Hussein's argument that he seeks a peacefull negotiated end to existing conditions.

KING HUSSEIN ordered Jordanian government troops to put down an attempt by dissident Arab commandos to stir up civil strife. There was wide-spread shooting and demonstrations throughout the Jordanian capital.

Arab guerrilla units have been raiding Israeli installations from bases in Jordan. Israel has been threatening reprisals if the terrorist activity did not stop.

Last Thursday, King Hussein expressed a desire for a political settlement with Israel "within a short time." This is contrary to the plans of guerrilla groups who seek to "liberate" all of Palestine, not just the Arab territories lost to Israel in last year's six-day war.

The break now has been made.

The king is out on the peaceful settlement limb and is trying to keep the Arab guerrillas from sawing it off.

Attempting to sway support to his side, he made a radio pledge that guerrilla attacks would continue against Israel when "purified from these stealthy, treacherous elements."

THE IMPACT OF THE PLEDGE is taken away by his firm handling of dissident commandos and insistence on a peaceful approach to a solution.

The Jordanian king by no means is the mouthpiece of the Arab world in its struggle with Israel. Gamal Abdel Nasser, president of the United Arab Republic (UAR), still holds that distinction.

Nevertheless, should Jordan and Israel come to terms over disputed territory through negotiation, the agreement could not be overlooked by the rest of the Arab world.

Jordanian-Israeli progress would not defuse the Middle East, but would be a long stride in the right direction.

That Quicksand Called Crime

Crime is like quicksand —once it gets a hold on you it has a good chance of claiming you.

Although it used different words to say so, the Federal Bureau of Investigation said substantially that in the text of a newly released study of crime

The Bureau's reasearch showed that once a man becomes involved in crime he tends to make a career of it. And this is in spite of all efforts to salvage him, to pull him out of the quicksand.

FURTHERMORE, THE STUDY reveals it seems to make no difference what kind of punishments administered for the initial offense. Almost inevitably further crimes are committed.

The FBI study involved 17,876 persons who were charged with committing serious crimes and then later were released to the streets. It disclosed that 60 per cent of them were arrested again on new charges within the four-year period covered by the study.

Of those who got off scott free in their first encounter with the law, through acquittal or dismissal of indictment, 11 per cent became repeaters.

But, at the same time, 72 per cent of those who served full sentences in prison got in trouble again within the four-year period. And 71 per cent of those who got off with just a fine at the time of their convictions became repeaters.

Even the parole system failed to keep 59 per cent of the offenders from committing new crimes. And of those who were paroled through guidance centers, the "halfway houses," a disappointing 68 per cent became involved in further crime.

The FBI's report is certainly grim. It clearly indicates that penologists have met with very little success in their efforts to reduce the rate of those returning to crime.

THE BUREAU MADE the sober comment that its study raises "serious questions about the effectiveness" of all current methods of rehabilitating criminals.

Surveys and studies such as the FBI's crime-repeater study clearly shows what is happening. Now our social psychologists, psychiatrists and penologists need to come up with the reasons why it is happening.

The crime situation would be drastically improved if the repeater could be eliminated. Attention to this problem is urgent.

Smell Of Money

Respectability is coming to garbage.

An environmental pollution control expert in New York has predicted that it won't be too many years before the search for an answer to this country's problem of what to do about garbage and refuse disposal will lead to a salvage process.

The expert sees household refuse transported to automated transfer stations where it would be sorted according to its salvageability.

For example, wood products would be made into charcoal, metal would be saved from scrap, paper, rags and glass could all be reprocessed, vegetable matter would become compost and whatever refuse was left could be taken to land fills.

That means that much-maligned garbage, through a salvage process, could be converted into materials worth billions. Yep that's respectability.

A Glimmer Of Hope

A newspaper survey of Negroes in Detroit's ghetto area contains a glimmer of hope for an orderly solution to America's slum problem.

The Detroit Free Press questioned Negroes residing in the area that erupted into the nation's worst riot last year and found an apparent readiness on the part of the citizens to join the city's economic and social mainstream.

Significantly, all but an extreme minority of militants share a willingness to work within the existing system to improve their economic and social status.

This indicates to us a new phase in the ghetto transformation — look toward responsible leadership by the Negro majority and a turning away from the futility of violence.

To be sure, the survey covered only one ghetto area, but it dovetails with other studies conducted in various parts of the country that point toward a new area in race relations.

When the Negro majority takes the leadership reins out of the hands of extremists, it will have found common ground with the white majority that seeks eradication of the ghetto.

'You Have Visitors From The White House, Mr. President!'

VICTOR RIESEL

New Chicago Confrontation

CHICAGO — More history is being made and new battlelines are being drawn here in Daley-town, far from fortress Hilton.

Some industrialists have decided that confrontation — albeit peaceful and legalistic—is the best policy to deal with tough, direct-actionist, self-appointed black militants.

Victor Riesel

So General Electric, harassed here by a handful of sit-inners and pickets, has gone to the National Labor Relations Board and charged the new Black Labor Federation, some of its leaders and one of its affiliates, with unfair labor practices.

Labor and industrial insiders are rezoning in on the action. It is the first such move. It sets precedent. It may wildfire through big cities, where black caucuses have been challenging big unions and corporation executives, pulling quickie strikes, provoking wildcats and forcing big factories to suspend production for hours and even shut down for a day.

Leaders of the Black Labor Federation say they simply want to make unions and industry "more relevant to the needs of the black man," and charged that "organized labor is yet another force within white society to help perpetuate the status quo and to oppose the black man's quest for total equality."

LABOR LEADERS in the big cities, especially where there are concentrations of steel, auto and transportations installations, report that "black caucuses" want to bypass the legitimate unions, tear up collective bargaining agreements, and take over "representation" of thousands of plant workers.

Recently black action, usually led by 40 or 50 millitants seeking the support of many thousands of uninterested black and other minority employes, have disrupted auto factories and steel mills.

Many of the corporations hit by the militants have fine records on minority employment. Here, General Electric has been going all out with educational programs, orientation courses, heavy employment of black and Spanish-speaking workers, and bonuses for black recruitment and steady attendance, at its Hotpoint household appliance operation.

Of its 3,600 hourly rated blue-collar employes, some 1,200 (actually more than 33 per cent of the union members) are from minority communities. Of course there are frictions, factions and fist fights. But under contract with Sheet Metal Local 571, the plant has worked smoothly.

Last summer, a black militant, Willie Plunkett, ran for local president, lost, and organized the Afro-American Employees of Hotpoint.

THEN HE AND OTHERS launched the Black Labor Federation early in October. Just about ing the case, reinstated the Spanish-speaking employe got into a brawl inside the plant. Both were suspended. Then, "supervision," reviewing the case, reinstated the Spanish-speaking chap and fired the Negro. The decision was that he had started the fight.

The next day, Thursday, Oct. 10, the Afro-American committee pulled a 55-minute sit-down. The following Monday, Willie Plunkett, the 27-year-old committee chairman, held a well-attended lunchtime news conference outside the plant gate. He and his colleague threatened to shut down the plant if their demands were not met.

The militants wanted General Electric, now under contract with the Sheet Metal workers until Oct. 26, 1969, to recognize the Afro-American group as the employes' collective bargaining agent.

Then the Afro-American committee went back into the building. But they refused to work. "Supervision" urged them to resume their work. They refused. They were asked to leave—some 33 sit-inners in all. Again they refused. So the big installation was shut down for the day at considerable cost.

CAME THE DAWN, also came pickets. For a week, handfuls of Afro-American committee members stalked the gates. They were ignored by virtually all workers—black, white, English-speaking and Spanish-Speaking. There was no backlash. Nor did anyone ask onyone out front. In the meantime, Willie Plunkett and 32 others were suspended.

But they continced to demand they be recognized as the plant's collective bargaining agent.

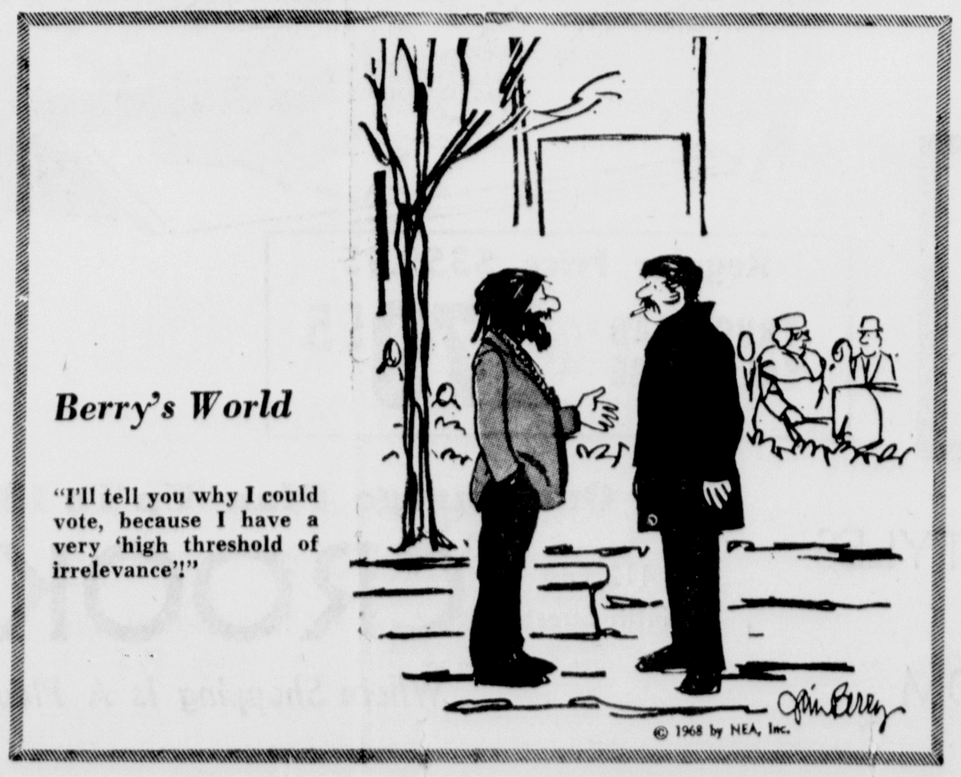
They were supported by the Black Labor Federation.

Then, determined to settle once and for all the right of a tiny band of militants, regardless of color, to harass unions and industrialists, General Electric filed its unfair labor practice action with the NLRB.

The document, filed with the regional board on Oct. 15, charges that Hotpoint has been picketed on and off since Oct. 14, in violation of the federal labor law. If the board examiner finds the Black Labor Federation guilty of unfair labor practice, he will order it to desist.

If William Plunkett and his co-leaders refuse, the matter goes into the courts for enforcement. If the courts support the board, the government must enforce the law.

It will take a long time. But the issue has been confronted on a new and ever-widening front. Sooner or later, we'll know who speaks for whom and whose rights are being violated.



Letter From Max

By Martin Miller

Most readers know that Truman Twill, who wrote in this space for umpteen years, was a conscientious watcher and admirer of Mrs. Jackie Kennedy, our former First Lady. When queried about what he thought about her marriage to Aristotle Socrates Onassis he said simply, "I was crushed." Truman Twill and an old school chum, similarly retired, are now batting around the country in a house trailer — New England, Tennessee, Michigan and expecting to winter in Florida. They touch down at home base now and then.

At the Olympics in Mexico City the records went down about at the same rate as the runners who were exhausted by the thin atmosphere. But to us pseudo-scientists it was clear that the reason the records in the jumping events were broken so much was because the force of gravity is weaker in Mexico City which is at 8,000 feet.

As on the moon, the less gravity the higher a person can jump.

Okay, so gravity is in direct proportion to the product of the masses of the earth and the jumpers and varies inversely as the square of the distance separating them.

Or to put it simply, the gravitational force is equal to the quotient of the product of the masses divided by the square of the distance between them.

So all you have to do is to take the mass of the earth which is six sextillion, 600 quintillion short tons and multiply it times the weight of the Olympics jumper and divide what you get by the square of the distance of the jumper from the center of the earth.

The earth's radius is 4,000 miles, so Mexico City would be about 4,001½ miles from the center of the earth. Thus you would multiply 4,000 times 4,000, and then 4,001½ times 4,001½.

Then you divide each of those squares into whatever you had after multiplying six sextillion and 600 quinteillion short tons by the weight of the jumper and you can see how much lighter a jumper would feel in Mexico City than at sea level or someplace else.

To multiply the weight of an 175-pound jumper times the weight of the earth you would have to reduce or expand six sextillion and 600 quintillion short tons to pounds which comes out to approximately 13,200,000,000.000,000,000,000,000 pounds.

But this is doing enough of your work for you. The rest is easy, just multiplication and division, anyone can do that.

Please don't remember that you read it here first.

"Sock it to me" jokes may be becoming a new fad.

Our domestic wit offers these contributions:

"It may be an electrical outlet to you but it's a socket to me."

"He may be Hector Hugh Munro to you but he's saki to me."

It violates our principles to explain jokes but for those who never heard of Hector Hugh Munro he was a writer who used the pen-name Saki and wrote some of the most terrifying short stories you ever read.

Faithfully yours,

Commissioner Writes

I attempt to visit the County Home at least every two weeks. I visit and speak to all the inmates and they appreciate it. If I am there through the noon hour, I eat with the cooks and other help.

If Mr. Boyce, the superintendent, would continue spending for the next two months as he has been, he will overspend his budget by an estimated $50,000. On two different occasions I have spoken to him regarding his budget, and his answer has been, "We will know how it stands at the end of the year."

Mr. Boyce admits he will run over his budget when he speaks of using $16,000 that is still unencumbered but not in his budget. In 1967 there was $35,000 of a balance to supplement funds for 1968, and if we do not carry over this $16,000, we will have $34,000 less for 1969 or only $258,000.

The budget this year is $222,000. There is no known available source for any more money this year.

JAMES BOYD,
County Commissioner

sense, his razor-thin loss to John F. Kennedy in the 1960 presidential race.

It also completed a remarkable political comeback.

After losing to Kennedy, Nixon was beaten by Edmund G. (Pat) Brown for the governorship of California. Nixon moved to New York City and became a lawyer.

Now, six years later, he has won the White House with 17 more electoral votes than needed. The incomplete votes from the other four states could add to his total.

Humphrey had been given almost no chance until a few days ago of beating Nixon.

In the end, he almost matched the Republican in votes, but he trailed by more than 100 votes in the Electoral College.

At 11:43 a.m. EST the popular vote stood: Nixon, 29,161,060, or 43 per cent; Humphrey, 28,925,270, also 43 per cent, and Wallace 9,058,846, or 13 per cent.

The electoral vote at that time was Nixon 287, Humphrey 172 and Wallace 45. Four states with 34 votes remained undecided.

The Republican resident will have to work with a Democratic Congress.

In the Senate, Republicans picked up a net gain of four seats but fell short of taking control. With a tight race in Oregon still undecided, the lineup was 58 Democrats and 41 Republicans.

In the House, Republicans scaled down by five seats a commanding Democratic edge. The final result was expected to be 243 Democrats and 192 Republicans.

In the governors contests that have little over-all national impact but offer the winning party grass roots power, Republicans increased their present majority of 26.

Republican National Chairman Ray Bliss described the election results at 4 a.m. EST as a "cliffhanger" which the GOP would win because it was then moving ahead in the crucial states of New Jersey, Ohio and Wisconsin.

Bliss continued to predict a Nixon victory in Texas, saying that he understood Dallas-area returns were delayed by computer trouble.

Bliss contended as he has throughout that the Republicans had a good chance of winning California.

One of Nixon's top advisers, Herbert G. Klein, claimed that the Republican candidate would wind up with an electoral majority of more than 300.

Klein said that Wallace "cut in on us heavily" in Pennsylvania, which Humphrey won. No Republican has been elected president in this century without Pennsylvania's support.

Appearing on early morning television, Humphrey said that the contest had been "a donnybrook and anything can happen." He said he doesn't believe the result will be known until later in the day.

Humphrey said he is "an optimistic man" and "I feel that way tonight."

If the issue should go to the Electoral College, members could cross party lines. Only 16 states and the District of Columbia bind their electors to support the popular-vote winner and even those laws have not been tested for constitutionality.

Nixon has said he would be willing to accept as the presidential victor "the man who receives the most votes for the office, who ever that man may be."

Humphrey did not accept Nixon's invitation to let the plurality winner take all. He said he felt bound to follow the "constitutional process" of letting the decision go to the House, if it came to that.

Wallace's comment was that "this election is not over yet." This seemed an obvious reference to the possibility that the decision might go to the Electoral College, since Wallace would have little influence on a choice made by the House.

Humphrey's main strength was built around New York, Pennsylvania and Texas, all heavy electoral vote states, with support in the northeastern states.

Nixon fashioned his electoral vote strength largely from midwestern and western areas as well as a fringe of states around the Deep South and New Jersey.

How much President Johnson's Thursday decision to halt attacks on North Vietnam affected the outcome remained problematical.

Nixon's advisers thought Johnson's action may have added a percentage point to Humphrey's support. But they also thought refusal of South Vietnam to send a delegation to the Paris peace talks might have subtracted this.

The Vietnam issue seemed to have no overriding effect on Senate races, where doves and hawks registered victories and defeats.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and a leading critic of the Johnson administration's Asian policies, won re-election. But Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., another dove, was defeated. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and Edward Gurney of Florida, regarded as hawks, won Republican seats.

Wallace's impact on the outcome would be limited to what he might do about Electoral College votes, if he got the opportunity to do anything. Outside the South and the border states, Wallace's political muscle is flabby.

In Delaware, Indiana, Idaho, Maryland, Nevada and West Virginia he got slightly more than 10 per cent of the popular vote.

He had 9 per cent of ballots counted in California, Illinois, Michigan and New Jersey, 8 per cent in Pennsylvania, 7 per cent in Wisconsin and 5 per cent in New York and Massachusetts.

Wallace's vote did not keep Nixon from carrying Florida, Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, South Carolina and Oklahoma. Nor was the third party candidate able to take Texas away from Humphrey.

Nevertheless, Wallace's vote in some of the larger states was bigger than the difference between the percentages of the two major party candidates. In such instances there were no clear indications which of the two he had damaged most.

Expected massive protests against the election failed to materialize except for isolated incidents. About 350 youths, a mere handful compared with the crowds assembled for the Democratic National Convention, marched in an orderly way through Chicago's loop and then disbanded.

In Newark, N.J., police used their billy clubs to contain a demonstration of about 200 persons after fighting broke out. Two were arrested.

In New York, after a Union Square rally, the protesters invaded the midtown area and 70 were arrested. In Washington 100 demonstrators near the White House were booked by police.

Wetzel also defeated his Democrat opponent for the same post in the 1966 election.

A salesman, Wetzel attended Lisbon schools and Mt. Union College in Alliance and Carnegie Tech in Pittsburgh.

and Joseph E. O'Neill, both of Youngstown and both Democrats. Although Johnson and McKenna were nominated in the primaries in May, they ran without party labels yesterday on the nonpartisan judicial ballot.

Johnson, 46, formerly served on the 7th District Court before a recent redistricting. The area was split, with seven counties in the southern section retaining the designation of the 7th District and five other counties nearer Lake Erie taking on the designation of the 11th Appeals Court District.

Johnson, a practicing attorney, served on the court until the last election, when he was defeated. At one time, he was the court's presiding judge.

McKenna, 40, has served 18 months as a county judge. He also served six years as an assistant county prosecutor in Jefferson County.

McKenna carried his home county and adjoining Belmont County, while Johnson carried the other six. A wide margin in Mahoning County helped assure Johnson's victory.

Columbiana County cast 17,720 votes for Johnson and 16,369 for McKenna. Jefferson County showed 6,789 for Johnson and 14,653 for McKenna.

In Belmont County, Johnson polled 11,817 to McKenna's 14,158. Carroll County gave Johnson 3,900 and McKenna 2,910. Harrison County showed 2,999 for Johnson and 2,856 for McKenna.

In Mahoning County, Johnson received 55,796 to McKenna's 34,930. Monroe County showed 1,775 for Johnson and 1,685 for McKenna. Noble County gave Johnson 1,611 and McKenna 1,170.

In the Senate, Republicans picked up a net gain of four seats but fell short of taking control. With a tight race in Oregon still undecided, the lineup was 58 Democrats and 41 Republicans.

In the House, Republicans scaled down by five seats a commanding Democratic edge. The final result was expected to be 243 Democrats and 192 Republicans.

In the governors contests that have little over-all national impact but offer the winning party grass roots power, Republicans increased their present majority of 26.

Republican National Chairman Ray Bliss described the election results at 4 a.m. EST as a "cliffhanger" which the GOP would win because it was then moving ahead in the crucial states of New Jersey, Ohio and Wisconsin.

Bliss continued to predict a Nixon victory in Texas, saying that he understood Dallas-area returns were delayed by computer trouble.

Bliss contended as he has throughout that the Republicans had a good chance of winning California.

One of Nixon's top advisers, Herbert G. Klein, claimed that the Republican candidate would wind up with an electoral majority of more than 300.

Klein said that Wallace "cut in on us heavily" in Pennsylvania, which Humphrey won. No Republican has been elected president in this century without Pennsylvania's support.

Appearing on early morning television, Humphrey said that the contest had been "a donnybrook and anything can happen." He said he doesn't believe the result will be known until later in the day.

Humphrey said he is "an optimistic man" and "I feel that way tonight."

If the issue should go to the Electoral College, members could cross party lines. Only 16 states and the District of Columbia bind their electors to support the popular-vote winner and even those laws have not been tested for constitutionality.

Nixon has said he would be willing to accept as the presidential victor "the man who receives the most votes for the office, who ever that man may be."

Humphrey did not accept Nixon's invitation to let the plurality winner take all. He said he felt bound to follow the "constitutional process" of letting the decision go to the House, if it came to that.

Wallace's comment was that "this election is not over yet." This seemed an obvious reference to the possibility that the decision might go to the Electoral College, since Wallace would have little influence on a choice made by the House.

Humphrey's main strength was built around New York, Pennsylvania and Texas, all heavy electoral vote states, with support in the northeastern states.

Nixon fashioned his electoral vote strength largely from midwestern and western areas as well as a fringe of states around the Deep South and New Jersey.

How much President Johnson's Thursday decision to halt attacks on North Vietnam affected the outcome remained problematical.

Nixon's advisers thought Johnson's action may have added a percentage point to Humphrey's support. But they also thought refusal of South Vietnam to send a delegation to the Paris peace talks might have subtracted this.

The Vietnam issue seemed to have no overriding effect on Senate races, where doves and hawks registered victories and defeats.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and a leading critic of the Johnson administration's Asian policies, won re-election. But Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., another dove, was defeated. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and Edward Gurney of Florida, regarded as hawks, won Republican seats.

Wallace's impact on the outcome would be limited to what he might do about Electoral College votes, if he got the opportunity to do anything. Outside the South and the border states, Wallace's political muscle is flabby.

In Delaware, Indiana, Idaho, Maryland, Nevada and West Virginia he got slightly more than 10 per cent of the popular vote.

He had 9 per cent of ballots counted in California, Illinois, Michigan and New Jersey, 8 per cent in Pennsylvania, 7 per cent in Wisconsin and 5 per cent in New York and Massachusetts.

Wallace's vote did not keep Nixon from carrying Florida, Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, South Carolina and Oklahoma. Nor was the third party candidate able to take Texas away from Humphrey.

Nevertheless, Wallace's vote in some of the larger states was bigger than the difference between the percentages of the two major party candidates. In such instances there were no clear indications which of the two he had damaged most.

Expected massive protests against the election failed to materialize except for isolated incidents. About 350 youths, a mere handful compared with the crowds assembled for the Democratic National Convention, marched in an orderly way through Chicago's loop and then disbanded.

In Newark, N.J., police used their billy clubs to contain a demonstration of about 200 persons after fighting broke out. Two were arrested.

cincts favored Wetzel by 1,340 to 814.

ALLEN polled 2,154 votes in 17 Wellsville precincts to 1,616 for Wetzel, while Leetonia's 9 precincts gave the Columbianan 1,206 ballots to 1,132 for the Roller Coaster Rd. resident. Voters in 7 Salineville precincts also favored Allen by 632 to 579.

Wetzel also defeated his Democrat opponent for the same post in the 1966 election.

A salesman, Wetzel attended Lisbon schools and Mt. Union College in Alliance and Carnegie Tech in Pittsburgh.

A graduate of Columbiana High School, Allen studied political science and history for three years at Youngstown University. He was employed for eight years at the weekly Columbiana Ledger as an apprentice, sports columnist, news editor and managing editor.

places, however, Wetzel had a margin of 617, with 4,082 votes to 3,465 for Allen.

In the vote in other areas, Wetzel received 1,952 votes to Allen's 1,666 in 14 East Palestine precincts, 1,801 to 1,533 in 13 Lisbon precincts and 1,771 to 1,436 in Columbiana's 13 precincts. Voters cast 1,322 votes for the incumbent representative to 754 for Allen in 8 Hanoverton area precincts. Wetzel received 386 votes to 370 for Allen in four Rogers precincts, while 7 East Rochester precincts favored Wetzel by 1,340 to 814.

and Joseph E. O'Neill, both of Youngstown and both Democrats. Although Johnson and McKenna were nominated in the primaries in May, they ran without party labels yesterday on the nonpartisan judicial ballot.

Johnson, 46, formerly served on the 7th District Court before a recent redistricting. The area was split, with seven counties in the southern section retaining the designation of the 7th District and five other counties nearer Lake Erie taking on the designation of the 11th Appeals Court District.

Johnson, a practicing attorney, served on the court until the last election, when he was defeated. At one time, he was the court's presiding judge.

McKenna, 40, has served 18 months as a county judge. He also served six years as an assistant county prosecutor in Jefferson County.

McKenna carried his home county and adjoining Belmont County, while Johnson carried the other six. A wide margin in Mahoning County helped assure Johnson's victory.

Columbiana County cast 17,720 votes for Johnson and 16,369 for McKenna. Jefferson County showed 6,789 for Johnson and 14,653 for McKenna.

In Belmont County, Johnson polled 11,817 to McKenna's 14,158. Carroll County gave Johnson 3,900 and McKenna 2,910. Harrison County showed 2,999 for Johnson and 2,856 for McKenna.

In Mahoning County, Johnson received 55,796 to McKenna's 34,930. Monroe County showed 1,775 for Johnson and 1,685 for McKenna. Noble County gave Johnson 1,611 and McKenna 1,170.

Deaths and Funerals

Margaret Horton

Services will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. at the Boyce Methodist Church for Miss Margaret Ann Horton, 15, of 2206 Ohio Ave., daughter of Henry R. and Iola Hughes Horton, who died Monday evening at Children's Hospital, Pittsburgh.

Services originally had been scheduled for the Dawson Funeral home. The Rev. Paul George will officiate.

Friends may call at the funeral home this afternoon and night.

Joseph E. Peters

Joseph E. Peters, 64, of Rogers RD 1 died at 12:45 p.m. Tuesday at Rochester General Hospital after a brief illness.

Mr. Peters was born April 30, 1904, in Scranton, Pa., a son of the late John and Mary Peters. He had resided in the Negley - Rogers area since 1936, moving from the Midland area about 13 years ago. He had been employed in the hot strip maintenance department at Crucible Steel's Midland Division for 25 years. He was a member of Local 1212.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Nancy B. Peters, at home; five daughters, Mrs. Robert (Patricia) Young of East Palestine and Miss Nancy Peters, Miss Mary Peters, Miss Marcella Peters and Miss Theresa Peters, all at home; four sons, Benny Peters of East Liverpool, Lawrence Peters and Charles Peters of Negley and James Peters at home, and six grandchildren.

Services will be held Friday at 1:30 p.m. at the Dawson Funeral Home. Burial will be at Cresthaven Memorial Gardens, East Fairfield.

Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday afternoon and night.

Stonewall J. Bowen

Stonewall J. Bowen, 63, of 109 Grant St., Newell, died of a heart attack at home today at 3:30 a.m.

Mr. Bowen was born Oct. 21, 1905, in Wayne County, W. Va., a son of David Bowen and Rebecca Furgeson Bowen. He had resided in Newell 47 years. He was a former caster at the Taylor, Smith and Taylor pottery, retiring in 1952.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Virginia Simmons Bowen, at home; two daughters, Mrs. Ernest (Mary) Spurlock of Chester and Mrs. Ermil (Charlene) Wallen of Salineville; a son, Stonewall J. (Pete) Bowen Jr. of Chester, and 11 grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

Services will be held Friday at 2 p. m. at the Chester Chapel of the Arner Funeral Homes by the Rev. Harold Smith of the Newell Church of the Nazarene. Burial will be in Locust Hill Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight after 7 and Thursday afternoon and night.

Clinton L. Maze

Clinton L. Maze, 67, of 519 Woodlane Ave., Midland, died Tuesday at 4:05 p. m. at Rochester General Hospital.

A resident of Midland three years, he was a retired employe of the Timken Roller Bearing Co. of Canton and a member of the Morning Star Church at Massillon. He was born May 18, 1901, at Bonneville, Miss.

Survivors include a son, Joseph Maze of Canton; a daughter, Mrs. Jessie Porter of Rienzi, Miss.; five sisters, Mrs. Dealie Heard and Mrs. Elma Coleman of Denver, Colo., Mrs. Molly Floyd of Corinth, Miss., Ruth Lee Woodard of Bruce, Miss., and Mrs. Cassie Penney of Midland, and nine grandchildren.

The Leavell Funeral Home at Midland is in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Carrie Hasson

Mrs. Carrie S. Hasson, 87, of 234 Virginia Ave., Chester, widow of George A. Hasson, mayor of Chester from 1912 to 1914, died Tuesday at 10 p. m. at City Hospital, where she had been a patient three weeks.

Mrs. Hasson had been a patient at Fox Nursing Home for 15 months. Her husband died in 1954. She was born March 13, 1881, in Hancock County, a daughter of Thomas Gamble and Sara Huff Gamble. She was a lifetime resident of Chester and a member of the Westminster United Presbyterian Church and Crescent Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star.

She is survived by a son, Virgil G. Hasson of Chester.

Services will be held Friday morning at 10:30 at the Chester Chapel of the Arner Funeral Homes by the Rev. Donald Bell. Burial will be in Locust Hill Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday afternoon and night.

Fire Truck Levy Okayed At Wellsville

Wellsville voters gave approval Tuesday to a new 2-mill levy to raise funds for purchase of a fire truck, but rejected a half-mill levy that would have provided money for parks and playgrounds.

The fire truck levy, which will be in effect two years, received this vote:

For the Levy	1,260
Against Levy	901

The final tabulation on the park levy showed:

For the Levy	992
Against Levy	1,139

Traffic Manslaughter Case Handed To Jurors At Lisbon

LISBON — Closing arguments in the traffic manslaughter trial of an East Palestine youth began at 10 this morning in Common Pleas Court.

The jury then took the case following the charge by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard.

Gilbert R. Ashbridge, 20, told the jury this morning he has no recollection of the accident which resulted in the death of Gary A. Norton, 23, of Astoria, N. Y., July 31, 1967, on Route 170 just north of Negley.

Ashbridge was critically injured — suffering a cerebral concussion, crushed pelvis and fractured leg. His companion, Ronald W. Hughes of Chestertown, Md., was less seriously hurt.

Ashbridge testified he was looking straight ahead and was on his own side of the road as he entered the curve. He said he remembers nothing more until he woke up in the hospital five days later.

During cross - examination by John B. McDonald, assistant prosecuting attorney, Ashbridge said he had four draft beers at the Valley Inn in Negley during the afternoon.

Hughes testified Monday that Ashbridge and he met at Valley Inn in the afternoon and planned to go to Chautauqua Lake that night. He said he was looking under the front seat for a can opener when the impact occurred and regained consciousness later in the ambulance.

Ptl. W. C. Muckleroy of Ohio Highway Patrol Post 15 at Lisbon was on the stand Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning.

He said his investigation indicated the Corvair went left of center. The Cadillac upset off the west side of the road and Norton was pinned inside. He died of a cerebral concussion.

During cross - examination, the patrolman said he could not go along with defense counsel's suggestion that the Cadillac was on the wrong side of the road.

Defense Counsel James D. Primm Jr. called two other witnesses this morning:

Robert Flickinger, who was bartender at the East Palestine VFW post, testified he talked to Norton in the VFW about 5:30 p.m. — about 15 minutes before the accident.

Lawrence E. Wilson of East Palestine, a foreman at the L. W. Nash Co., said he was driving south on Route 170 about 5:40 when a Cadillac with New York plates "passed me at a high rate of speed — I estimated it at 70 miles per hour." He said he came upon the accident later and saw the Cadillac upside down.

Moore

wide margin of 2,755 votes, has ocratic state chairman James M. Sprouse by less than 9,000 a West Virginia gubernatorial race been so close.

Sprouse, 44-year-old Charleston lawyer, led through the early tabulation Tuesday night. But Moore overtok and passed Sprouse as missing blocs of precincts reported late Tuesday night and early today.

Moore overtook and passed Sprouse as missing blocs of precincts reported late Tuesday night and early today.

—:—

THE GUBERNATORIAL count was complicated — and confused - by computer difficulties in the News Election Service tabulation center in New York.

These were the latest NES statewide totals:

—President: 2,334 (93 per cent) of 2,511 precincts: Humphrey 346,070 (50 per cent); Nixon 280,835 (40 per cent); Wallace 66,872 (10 per cent).

—Governor: 2,340 precincts (93 per cent); Moore 345,680 (51 per cent); Sprouse 336,867 (49 per cent).

Moore appeared to have carried all 10 counties in the 1st Congressional District, his home bailiwick, as well as 15 of the 20 counties in the sprawling 2nd District.

Also in the Moore column were four of seven counties in the 3rd District — including Kanawha, the state's most populous county — and seven of 10 counties in the 4th District — including Cabell, the No. 2 county in population.

SPROUSE swept all seven counties of the far-south 5th District, a coal - mining area which is a Democratic stronghold.

More than two - thirds of the precincts still unreported were in counties where Moore was leading.

Democratic legislator John P. "Jay" Rockefeller IV, nephew of the Republican governors of New York and Arkansas, drew the biggest vote total of the race for secretary of state.

The 31-year-old Rockefeller— considered a strong possibility for the 1972 governor's race— defeated John S. Callebs of Huntington, on leave from a social studies teaching post at Marshall University. Rockefeller will succeed Democratic incumbent Robert D. Bailey, who did not run again.

—RESULTS from 2,327 precincts showed 396,773 for Rockefeller and 255, 338 for Callebs.

In the closest of the congressional races, former Rep. Robert H. Mollohan, Fairmont Democrat, defeated Republican Tom Sweeney of Wheeling in their contest for the 1st District seat being vacated by Moore. The outcome left West Virginia's Washington delegation all-Democratic.

—Mollohan, Moore's immediate predecessor as 1st District congressman, led Sweeney 79,892 to 68,220 in returns from 552 of 558 precincts.

Easily winning re-election to the U.S. House from the other districts were Democratic incumbents Harley O. Staggers in the 2nd District, who will be returning to Washington for his 11th consecutive term; John M. Slack Jr. in the 3rd District, Ken Hechler in the 4th District, and James Kee in the 5th.

ASIDE from the Moore - Sprouse contest, the closest statewide race was the one in which 33 - year - old Democrat Chauncey Browning Jr. of Charleston won election to succeed C. Donald Robertson as state attorney general. Robertson was nosed out by Sprouse for the Democratic nomination for governor in the primary last May.

Browning, former public institutions commissioner and son of a State Supreme Court judge, defeated Republican Charles H. Haden II, 31-year-old Morgantown lawyer and ex-legislator, in the attorney general race.

—Results from 2,327 precincts showed 333,680 for Browning and 299,435 for Haden.

Ohio

crat John J. Gilligan, a former congressman. Gilligan had unseated veteran Sen. Frank J. Lausche in the Democratic primary.

No Republican candidate has ever won the presidency without carrying Ohio.

The usual slow vote count in Cleveland and other Democratic strongholds in northeastern Ohio kept election watchers on the edge of their seats as Humphrey kept inching closer.

With 12,859 of 13,078 precincts reporting, Nixon carried Ohio on 1,766,384 votes, or 46 per cent to Humphrey's 1,658,933 or 44 per cent. Wallace received 461,929, or 10 per cent, of the votes at that point.

State Republican leaders had predicted that Nixon would at least win Ohio by the 273,000-vote margin he carried the state in 1960. Nixon, according to the polls and newspaper accounts, did have a commanding lead up until the final two weeks of the campaign.

Wallace apparently did more damage to Nixon than Humphrey. The former Alabama governor's alleged strength among blue collar Democrats fizzled as Humphrey ran well in industrial areas. Wallace's vote was about what state leaders of the two major parties predicted he would get.

Absentee voter ballots were counted in with other returns Tuesday.

With 93 per cent of the 13,078 precincts tallied, Saxbe had 1,723,720 votes--51 per cent, while Gilligan collected 1,670,857 votes, or 49 per cent.

In the senate race with the same polling places, Saxbe held 1,660,412 votes or 51 per cent to 1,606,668, or 49 per cent.

In the 24 congressional races, Republicans lost one seat with the outcome of one district still in doubt. Republicans held a 19-5 margin before the election.

Ohio is sending its first Negro to Congress in history — Louis Stokes, brother of Cleveland Mayor Carl B. Stokes, who defeated another Negro, Charles Lucas, in the revamped 21st District.

The Republican ousted was Rep. Frances P. Bolton, whose 28-year reign in the 22nd District was brought to an end by Democratic Rep. Charles A. Vanik. It was the first congressional defeat for the wealthy, 83-year-old widow.

Vanik was the incumbent in the 21st District, but jumped into Mrs. Bolton's territory after his own area was made predominantly Negro by redistricting last January. Vanik apparently sensed that black voters would want to elect one of their own to Congress.

Saxbe, three - term attorney general, is the first Republican to be elected to the Senate from Ohio in 14 years.

This was Saxbe's second try for the Senate. He unsuccessfully sought his party's nomination in 1954. A rugged individual, Saxbe is a polished politician underneath.

The 52-year-old lawyer conducted a vigorous campaign, based largely on the law and order theme and "the need for a change in Washington."

A Vietnam dove, Saxbe called for more federal aid for vocational education and less federal spending for welfare.

Saxbe began his public career at age 29 when he was elected to the Ohio House.

He was a bomber pilot in World War II. He and his wife Dolly have three children.

Gilligan, 47, was a strong advocate to bring an immediate end to the Vietnam war. He had openly attacked the Johnson administration's war policy, and helped draft a Vietnam peace plank that was rejected at the Democratic National Convention.

All three of the presidential candidates campaigned hard in Ohio, which Nixon won by 273,000 votes over John F. Kennedy in the 1960 race.

Republican State Chairman John S. Andrews had predicted a similar margin of victory for Nixon in Ohio this year. But Humphrey ran stronger than expected.

Wallace's vote was about what Republican and Democratic leaders predicted the former Alabama governor would get. Wallace had claimed tremendous strength among rank-and-file union members, but this did not materialize.

Although Wallace ran a distant third, he won a victory of sorts by getting his name on the Ohio ballot, with the help of the U.S. Supreme Court. The court ordered Ohio to place his name on the ballot.

This was the first time in 20 years that Ohioans had more than two presidential candidates to choose from. The last previous third-party candidate was Henry Wallace in 1948.

Republicans appeared to have kept their margin in both chambers of the state legislature.

In other statewide voting, Issue 1—Gov. James A. Rhodes' $759 million bond issue for highways and other capital improvements was approved, while Issure 2, which would have enabled the legislature to provide for property tax exemptions for certain homeowners, was defeated.

Kingsley A. Taft was re-elected as chief justice of the Ohio Supreme Court. Thomas M. Herbert was elected a justice of the high court, succeeding his father, Justice Paul M. Herbert, who is retiring. Justice John M. Matthias, unopposed, was elected in a third contest for a court seat.

Schweiker

There were approximately 150,000 absentee ballots issued, all to be counted on Nov. 15, but state election officials said past experience shows they are generally fairly evenly divided between both major parties—and wouldn't change the present unofficial voter verdicts.

Democrats wrested control of the State House of Representatives from the GOP, but the Republicans retained control of the State Senate.

Voters overwhelmingly approved a $28 million loan to pay for a bonus for Vietnam War veterans and elected these Democrats to state office: treasurer —Grace M. Sloan; auditor general—Robert P. Casey, and Superior Court Judge William F. Cercone.

Twenty-four incumbent Congressmen won easy re-election. Three newcomers succeeded men of their own party.

Thomas Z. Minehart, Democratic State Chairman, said Humphrey's Pennsylvania victory was "attributable mainly to the extraordinary courage of the man himself, but a large share of the credit must be given to the forward policies of Presidents Johnson and Kennedy."

Clark, who had achieved national fame in 1951 by winning Philadelphia's mayoralty and ending 68 years of GOP rule, said in his concession that he thinks Schweiker will be a good senator "but I think I might have made a better one."

Schweiker, holding his three-year-old son in his arms as he thanked his supporters at a victory party, and said "personal contact and hard work did it for me."

The 42-year-old four-term Congressman who had represented a predominantly Republican district in suburban Philadelphia, said he didn't make an issue of the Vietnam War — Clark was one of the leading doves in the Senate "and when President Johnson stopped the bombing it fit right in with us."

Ticket splitting has been common practice in Pennsylvania for some time, especially prevalent back when Clark first won his Senate seat in 1956 from Republican James H. Duff, a former governor.

Clark upset Duff by 18,000 votes while Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower was winning Pennsylvania, in his successful presidential re-election bid, by 400,000.

you only get what you pay for
You've probably heard it so many times it doesn't mean much to you anymore. It should though. It's just as true as it ever was. Especially when it comes to clothing.
At the Chambers Co. we don't offer cheaply-made clothing for sale. We handle only quality merchandise. Why? Because we think you have a right to the best. Sure two $50 men's suits will last longer than one $100 suit. But that's as far as it goes. The $50 suit will never fit right, never look right, never feel right. Our Hart, Shafner & Marx suits will fit perfectly, and look impeccably stylish and masculine. It's a matter of hand-stitching. The more a suit has, the better it looks, feels, and wears.
Its the same with our Florsheim shoes, Arrow shirts, and Dobbs hats. Good clothing is good clothing. Period.
Women's Fashions? We don't alter our position one bit. We offer the best of current fashions. For women who care to look especially attractive in their clothes. Clinton L. Maze, 67, of 519 Woodlane Ave., Midland, died Tuesday at 4:05 p. m. at Rochester General Hospital.

A resident of Midland three years, he was a retired employe of the Timken Roller Bearing Co. of Canton and a member of the Morning Star Church at Massillon. He was born May 18, 1901, at Bonneville, Miss.

Survivors include a son, Joseph Maze of Canton; a daughter, Mrs. Jessie Porter of Rienzi, Miss.; five sisters, Mrs. Dealie Heard and Mrs. Elma Coleman of Denver, Colo., Mrs. Molly Floyd of Corinth, Miss., Ruth Lee Woodard of Bruce, Miss., and Mrs. Cassie Penney of Midland, and nine grandchildren.

The Leavell Funeral Home at Midland is in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Carrie Hasson

Mrs. Carrie S. Hasson, 87, of 234 Virginia Ave., Chester, widow of George A. Hasson, mayor of Chester from 1912 to 1914, died Tuesday at 10 p. m. at City Hospital, where she had been a patient three weeks.

Mrs. Hasson had been a patient at Fox Nursing Home for 15 months. Her husband died in 1954. She was born March 13, 1881, in Hancock County, a daughter of Thomas Gamble and Sara Huff Gamble. She was a lifetime resident of Chester and a member of the Westminster United Presbyterian Church and Crescent Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star.

She is survived by a son, Virgil G. Hasson of Chester.

Services will be held Friday morning at 10:30 at the Chester Chapel of the Arner Funeral Homes by the Rev. Donald Bell. Burial will be in Locust Hill Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday afternoon and night.

Traffic Manslaughter Case Handed To Jurors At Lisbon

LISBON — Closing arguments in the traffic manslaughter trial of an East Palestine youth began at 10 this morning in Common Pleas Court.

The jury then took the case following the charge by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard.

Gilbert R. Ashbridge, 20, told the jury this morning he has no recollection of the accident which resulted in the death of Gary A. Norton, 23, of Astoria, N. Y., July 31, 1967, on Route 170 just north of Negley.

Ashbridge was critically injured — suffering a cerebral concussion, crushed pelvis and fractured leg. His companion, Ronald W. Hughes of Chestertown, Md., was less seriously hurt.

Ashbridge testified he was looking straight ahead and was on his own side of the road as he entered the curve. He said he remembers nothing more until he woke up in the hospital five days later.

During cross - examination by John B. McDonald, assistant prosecuting attorney, Ashbridge said he had four draft beers at the Valley Inn in Negley during the afternoon.

Hughes testified Monday that Ashbridge and he met at Valley Inn in the afternoon and planned to go to Chautauqua Lake that night. He said he was looking under the front seat for a can opener when the impact occurred and regained consciousness later in the ambulance.

Ptl. W. C. Muckleroy of Ohio Highway Patrol Post 15 at Lisbon was on the stand Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning.

He said his investigation indicated the Corvair went left of center. The Cadillac upset off the west side of the road and Norton was pinned inside. He died of a cerebral concussion.

During cross - examination, the patrolman said he could not go along with defense counsel's suggestion that the Cadillac was on the wrong side of the road.

Defense Counsel James D. Primm Jr. called two other witnesses this morning:

Robert Flickinger, who was bartender at the East Palestine VFW post, testified he talked to Norton in the VFW about 5:30 p.m. — about 15 minutes before the accident.

Lawrence E. Wilson of East Palestine, a foreman at the L. W. Nash Co., said he was driving south on Route 170 about 5:40 when a Cadillac with New York plates "passed me at a high rate of speed — I estimated it at 70 miles per hour." He said he came upon the accident later and saw the Cadillac upside down.

wide margin of 2,755 votes, has ocratic state chairman James M. Sprouse by less than 9,000 a West Virginia gubernatorial race been so close.

Sprouse, 44-year-old Charleston lawyer, led through the early tabulation Tuesday night. But Moore overtok and passed Sprouse as missing blocs of precincts reported late Tuesday night and early today.

Moore overtook and passed Sprouse as missing blocs of precincts reported late Tuesday night and early today.

—:—

THE GUBERNATORIAL count was complicated — and confused - by computer difficulties in the News Election Service tabulation center in New York.

These were the latest NES statewide totals:

—President: 2,334 (93 per cent) of 2,511 precincts: Humphrey 346,070 (50 per cent); Nixon 280,835 (40 per cent); Wallace 66,872 (10 per cent).

—Governor: 2,340 precincts (93 per cent); Moore 345,680 (51 per cent); Sprouse 336,867 (49 per cent).

Moore appeared to have carried all 10 counties in the 1st Congressional District, his home bailiwick, as well as 15 of the 20 counties in the sprawling 2nd District.

Also in the Moore column were four of seven counties in the 3rd District — including Kanawha, the state's most populous county — and seven of 10 counties in the 4th District — including Cabell, the No. 2 county in population.

SPROUSE swept all seven counties of the far-south 5th District, a coal - mining area which is a Democratic stronghold.

More than two - thirds of the precincts still unreported were in counties where Moore was leading.

Democratic legislator John P. "Jay" Rockefeller IV, nephew of the Republican governors of New York and Arkansas, drew the biggest vote total of the race for secretary of state.

The 31-year-old Rockefeller—considered a strong possibility for the 1972 governor's race—defeated John S. Callebs of Huntington, on leave from a social studies teaching post at Marshall University. Rockefeller will succeed Democratic incumbent Robert D. Bailey, who did not run again.

—RESULTS from 2,327 precincts showed 396,773 for Rockefeller and 255, 338 for Callebs.

In the closest of the congressional races, former Rep. Robert H. Mollohan, Fairmont Democrat, defeated Republican Tom Sweeney of Wheeling in their contest for the 1st District seat being vacated by Moore. The outcome left West Virginia's Washington delegation all-Democratic.

—Mollohan, Moore's immediate predecessor as 1st District congressman, led Sweeney 79,892 to 68,220 in returns from 552 of 558 precincts.

Easily winning re-election to the U.S. House from the other districts were Democratic incumbents Harley O. Staggers in the 2nd District, who will be returning to Washington for his 11th consecutive term; John M. Slack Jr. in the 3rd District, Ken Hechler in the 4th District, and James Kee in the 5th.

ASIDE from the Moore - Sprouse contest, the closest statewide race was the one in which 33 - year - old Democrat Chauncey Browning Jr. of Charleston won election to succeed C. Donald Robertson as state attorney general. Robertson was nosed out by Sprouse for the Democratic nomination for governor in the primary last May.

Browning, former public institutions commissioner and son of a State Supreme Court judge, defeated Republican Charles H. Haden II, 31-year-old Morgantown lawyer and ex-legislator, in the attorney general race.

—Results from 2,327 precincts showed 333,680 for Browning and 299,435 for Haden.

crat John J. Gilligan, a former congressman. Gilligan had unseated veteran Sen. Frank J. Lausche in the Democratic primary.

No Republican candidate has ever won the presidency without carrying Ohio.

The usual slow vote count in Cleveland and other Democratic strongholds in northeastern Ohio kept election watchers on the edge of their seats as Humphrey kept inching closer.

With 12,859 of 13,078 precincts reporting, Nixon carried Ohio on 1,766,384 votes, or 46 per cent to Humphrey's 1,658,933 or 44 per cent. Wallace received 461,929, or 10 per cent, of the votes at that point.

State Republican leaders had predicted that Nixon would at least win Ohio by the 273,000-vote margin he carried the state in 1960. Nixon, according to the polls and newspaper accounts, did have a commanding lead up until the final two weeks of the campaign.

Wallace apparently did more damage to Nixon than Humphrey. The former Alabama governor's alleged strength among blue collar Democrats fizzled as Humphrey ran well in industrial areas. Wallace's vote was about what state leaders of the two major parties predicted he would get.

Absentee voter ballots were counted in with other returns Tuesday.

With 93 per cent of the 13,078 precincts tallied, Saxbe had 1,723,720 votes--51 per cent, while Gilligan collected 1,670,857 votes or 49 per cent.

In the senate race with the same polling places, Saxbe held 1,660,412 votes or 51 per cent to 1,606,668, or 49 per cent.

In the 24 congressional races, Republicans lost one seat with the outcome of one district still in doubt. Republicans held a 19-5 margin before the election.

Ohio is sending its first Negro to Congress in history — Louis Stokes, brother of Cleveland Mayor Carl B. Stokes, who defeated another Negro, Charles Lucas, in the revamped 21st District.

The Republican ousted was Rep. Frances P. Bolton, whose 28-year reign in the 22nd District was brought to an end by Democratic Rep. Charles A. Vanik. It was the first congressional defeat for the wealthy, 83-year-old widow.

Vanik was the incumbent in the 21st District, but jumped into Mrs. Bolton's territory after his own area was made predominantly Negro by redistricting last January. Vanik apparently sensed that black voters would want to elect one of their own to Congress.

Saxbe, three - term attorney general, is the first Republican to be elected to the Senate from Ohio in 14 years.

This was Saxbe's second try for the Senate. He unsuccessfully sought his party's nomination in 1954. A rugged individual, Saxbe is a polished politician underneath.

The 52-year-old lawyer conducted a vigorous campaign, based largely on the law and order theme and "the need for a change in Washington."

A Vietnam dove, Saxbe called for more federal aid for vocational education and less federal spending for welfare.

Saxbe began his public career at age 29 when he was elected to the Ohio House.

He was a bomber pilot in World War II. He and his wife Dolly have three children.

Gilligan, 47, was a strong advocate to bring an immediate end to the Vietnam war. He had openly attacked the Johnson administration's war policy, and helped draft a Vietnam peace plank that was rejected at the Democratic National Convention.

All three of the presidential candidates campaigned hard in Ohio, which Nixon won by 273,000 votes over John F. Kennedy in the 1960 race.

Republican State Chairman John S. Andrews had predicted a similar margin of victory for Nixon in Ohio this year. But Humphrey ran stronger than expected.

Wallace's vote was about what Republican and Democratic leaders predicted the former Alabama governor would get. Wallace had claimed tremendous strength among rank-and-file union members, but this did not materialize.

Although Wallace ran a distant third, he won a victory of sorts by getting his name on the Ohio ballot, with the help of the U.S. Supreme Court. The court ordered Ohio to place his name on the ballot.

This was the first time in 20 years that Ohioans had more than two presidential candidates to choose from. The last previous third-party candidate was Henry Wallace in 1948.

Republicans appeared to have kept their margin in both chambers of the state legislature.

In other statewide voting, Issue 1—Gov. James A. Rhodes' $759 million bond issue for highways and other capital improvements was approved, while Issue 2, which would have enabled the legislature to provide for property tax exemptions for certain homeowners, was defeated.

Kingsley A. Taft was re-elected as chief justice of the Ohio Supreme Court. Thomas M. Herbert was elected a justice of the high court, succeeding his father, Justice Paul M. Herbert, who is retiring. Justice John M. Matthias, unopposed, was elected in a third contest for a court seat.

There were approximately 150,000 absentee ballots issued, all to be counted on Nov. 15, but state election officials said past experience shows they are generally fairly evenly divided between both major parties—and wouldn't change the present unofficial voter verdicts.

Democrats wrested control of the State House of Representatives from the GOP, but the Republicans retained control of the State Senate.

Voters overwhelmingly approved a $28 million loan to pay for a bonus for Vietnam War veterans and elected these Democrats to state office: treasurer —Grace M. Sloan; auditor general—Robert P. Casey, and Superior Court Judge William F. Cercone.

Twenty-four incumbent Congressmen won easy re-election. Three newcomers succeeded men of their own party.

Thomas Z. Minehart, Democratic State Chairman, said Humphrey's Pennsylvania victory was "attributable mainly to the extraordinary courage of the man himself, but a large share of the credit must be given to the forward policies of Presidents Johnson and Kennedy."

Clark, who had achieved national fame in 1951 by winning Philadelphia's mayoralty and ending 68 years of GOP rule, said in his concession that he thinks Schweiker will be a good senator "but I think I might have made a better one."

Schweiker, holding his three-year-old son in his arms as he thanked his supporters at a victory party, and said "personal contact and hard work did it for me."

The 42-year-old four-term Congressman who had represented a predominantly Republican district in suburban Philadelphia, said he didn't make an issue of the Vietnam War — Clark was one of the leading doves in the Senate "and when President Johnson stopped the bombing it fit right in with us."

Ticket splitting has been common practice in Pennsylvania for some time, especially prevalent back when Clark first won his Senate seat in 1956 from Republican James H. Duff, a former governor.

Clark upset Duff by 18,000 votes while Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower was winning Pennsylvania, in his successful presidential re-election bid, by 400,000.

Fire Truck Levy Okayed At Wellsville

Wellsville voters gave approval Tuesday to a new 2-mill levy to raise funds for purchase of a fire truck, but rejected a half-mill levy that would have provided money for parks and playgrounds.

The fire truck levy, which will be in effect two years, received this vote:

For the Levy	1,260
Against Levy	901

The final tabulation on the park levy showed:

For the Levy	992
Against Levy	1,139

You've probably heard it so many times it doesn't mean much to you anymore. It should though. It's just as true as it ever was. Especially when it comes to clothing.

At the Chambers Co. we don't offer cheaply-made clothing for sale. We handle only quality merchandise. Why? Because we think you have a right to the best. Sure two $50 men's suits will last longer than one $100 suit. But that's as far as it goes. The $50 suit will never fit right, never look right, never feel right. Our Hart, Shafner & Marx suits will fit perfectly, and look impeccably stylish and masculine. It's a matter of hand-stitching. The more a suit has, the better it looks, feels, and wears.

Unseats Davis

Springer Victor In Beaver Race

FRANK W. SPRINGER

A "door-to-door" campaign paid off for Frank W. Springer, 56, Beaver Democrat, who unseated incumbent Robert O. Davis, 58, Beaver Republican, in a close Beaver County race for state representative from the 13th Legislative District at Tuesday's general election.

Davis, an attorney, was seeking his second two - year term. Springer is owner and operator of a retail store.

The vote margin was a very narrow 169, according to complete but unofficial returns. Absentee ballots could change the totals, but officials have indicated they do not believe they will make any significant difference in the final outcome. There were 2,100 absentee ballots issued for the entire county. Not all would be in the 13th District. Davis carried his own Beaver area, but lost heavily in some districts, including Midland.

Absentee ballots do not have to be returned to the Board of Elections until Nov. 15 at 10 a. m. and are valid if postmarked on the day of the election.

DAVIS SAID today he does not plan to seek a recount, but rather will wait until the absentee ballots are counted. He thanked all those who supported him, stating, "I did the best job I could for the people of the 13th District and Beaver County. I congratulate my opponent on a good race."

The unofficial count was:

Davis	9,706
Springer	9,875

More than 85 per cent of the eligible voters cast ballots, county officials said.

According to tradition, Beaver County remained Democrat.

Although U.S. Sen. Joseph Clark, a Democrat, lost in his bid for another term in Pennsylvania, Beaver County gave him a good lead over his opponent, and winner, Richard S. Schweiker, 42, of Worcester, a Republican. The county tally was:

Clark	46,695
Schweiker	37,263

Beaver joined Butler and Lawrence Counties to return Rep. Frank M. Clark, 52, of Bessemer, a Democrat, to another term as representative from the 25th Congressional District. His opponents were Richard L. Doolittle, 38, of Beaver Falls, a Republican, and Albert H. Thornton, 46, of Rochester, the Constitutional candidate. Clark received a 2-to-1 vote in Beaver County over Doolittle.

The vote was:

Clark	101,961
Doolittle	57,545
Thornton	1,161

Although all the votes have not been tallied in 27 precincts in Washington County, Ernest P. Kline, 39, of Beaver Falls, a Democrat, appears to have easily defeated his GOP opponent George C. Garmen, 59, of New Brighton for a second term as state senator from the 47th Senatorial District. The Constitutional candidate was William L. Shaefer, 44, of Beaver.

In Beaver County the vote was:

Kline	53,980
Garner	23,356
Shaefer	1,242

In conjunction with the national races, Beaver County proved itself a Democrat stronghold by voting overwhelmingly for Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey. He outdistanced GOP leader Richard Nixon by almost two to one. George Wallace made only a token showing.

The unofficial Beaver County vote was:

Humphrey	44,720
Nixon	27,271
Wallace	7,811

Voters elected Democrats in three other races for state representatives, selecting Joseph P. Kolter of New Brighton over Chester Roser of New Brighton, Republican, and Lewis E. Daufen, Constitutional, 14th District; Charles D. Stone of Hopewell over Edward T. Murphy Jr. of Center Township, Republican, 15th District, and Robert K. Hamilton of Ambridge over Albert S. Kuhni of Baden, Republican, and James H. Barley, Constitutional.

The unofficial count was:

14th District
Roser	8,128
Kolter	10,025
Daufen	242
15th District
Murphy	8,046
Stone	13,025
16th District
Kuhni	8,189
Hamilton	10,934
Bartley	310

SHERIFF Russell J. VanFossan of East Palestine, Republican, won by a margin of 15,799 over his Democratic opponent, Forrest Young of Salineville RD 2, a constable in Franklin and Wayne Townships and Summitville village marshal.

The tabulation showed:

VanFossan	28,394
Young	12,595

County Recorder John Wargo of E. Chestnut St., Lisbon, a Democrat bidding for a second term, won by a margin of nearly 10,000 over Mrs. Velma Cope of E. Lincoln Way, Lisbon, Republican, who is a reporter for the Lisbon Journal and secretary of the County Fair Board.

The figures showed:

Wargo	25,388
Cope	15,405

County Treasurer Vincent C. Judge of 261 W. Lincoln Way, Lisbon, Democrat, was elected to his seventh term with a resounding victory over Mrs. Virginia M. Shipley of Stewart Rd., Salem, Republican, a technician at Salem City Hospital.

The tabulation showed:

Judge	26,737
Shipley	14,308

Three incumbents were returned without opposition.

Prosecutor J. Warren Bettis of Salem, a Republican, had no opposition in his bid for a second term, receiving 32,565 complimentary votes. Coroner William A. Kolozsi, Democrat, was returned without opposition to the post he has held since 1959. The Salem physician received 33,322 complimentary votes.

Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard of 2759 St. Clair Ave. was returned to his third six-year term without opposition, scoring 33,499 complimentary votes.

Judge Buzzard was nominated on the Republican ticket at the primaries, but his name appeared yesterday on the nonpartisan judicial ballot.

County Judge James L. MacDonald of near Lisbon also was returned without opposition. He received 24,756 complimentary votes on the nonpartisan ballot in the County Court District, which is comprised of all county territory outside East Liverpool and Liverpool Township. Judge MacDonald serves in the County Southwest Area Court at Lisbon, a post he has held since 1959.

IN THE county engineer's race, Dawson carried all except two of the major population areas in the county. Ursu outpolled Dawson in 29 Salem area precincts, where the incumbent received 4,887 votes to the challenger's 2,671, and in the Leetonia area, where Ursu received 1,363 to Dawson's 982.

BERT DAWSON
Wins Engineer Contest.

Forty-nine precincts in the East Liverpool area gave Dawson 6,603 and Ursu 4,641. East Palestine showed 1,821 for Dawson and 1,740 for Ursu. Columbiana cast 1,634 for Dawson and 1,522 for Ursu.

The Lisbon district showed 1,789 for Dawson and 1,568 for Ursu. Hanoverton cast 1,040 for Dawson and 1,038 for Ursu. The Rogers district showed 388 for Dawson and 369 for Ursu.

In the Salineville area, Dawson received 621 to 572 for Ursu. The East Rochester area gave Dawson 1,198 and Ursu 971, while Wellsville cast 1,944 for Dawson and 1,909 for Ursu.

Ursu was virtually out of the race until the Salem district's 29 precincts, last to report, gave him a margin of 2,210 over the challenger.

In the commissioner's race, the 49 East Liverpool area precincts cast 4,217 for Gard, 3,679 for Gause, 3,177 for Greenisen and 4,828 for Sowards. The Salem district's 29 precincts showed 3,649 for Gard, 3,548 for Gause, 5,073 for Greenisen and 2,501 for Sowards.

In the Columbiana area, Gard received 1,398, Gause, 1,754, Greenisen, 1,723 and Sowards 966.

Unseats Davis

Springer Victor In Beaver Race

A "door-to-door" campaign paid off for Frank W. Springer, 56, Beaver Democrat, who unseated incumbent Robert O. Davis, 58, Beaver Republican, in a close Beaver County race for state representative from the 13th Legislative District at Tuesday's general election.

FRANK W. SPRINGER

Davis, an attorney, was seeking his second two - year term. Springer is owner and operator of a retail store.

The vote margin was a very narrow 169, according to complete but unofficial returns. Absentee ballots could change the totals, but officials have indicated they do not believe they will make any significant difference in the final outcome. There were 2,100 absentee ballots issued for the entire county. Not all would be in the 13th District. Davis carried his own Beaver area, but lost heavily in some districts, including Midland.

Absentee ballots do not have to be returned to the Board of Elections until Nov. 15 at 10 a. m. and are valid if postmarked on the day of the election.

DAVIS SAID today he does not plan to seek a recount, but rather will wait until the absentee ballots are counted. He thanked all those who supported him, stating, "I did the best job I could for the people of the 13th District and Beaver County. I congratulate my opponent on a good race."

The unofficial count was:

Davis	9,706
Springer	9,875

More than 85 per cent of the eligible voters cast ballots, county officials said.

According to tradition, Beaver County remained Democrat.

Although U.S. Sen. Joseph Clark, a Democrat, lost in his bid for another term in Pennsylvania, Beaver County gave him a good lead over his opponent, and winner, Richard S. Schweiker, 42, of Worcester, a Republican. The county tally was:

Clark	46,695
Schweiker	37,263

Beaver joined Butler and Lawrence Counties to return Rep. Frank M. Clark, 52, of Bessemer, a Democrat, to another term as representative from the 25th Congressional District. His opponents were Richard L. Doolittle, 38, of Beaver Falls, a Republican, and Albert H. Thornton, 46, of Rochester, the Constitutional candidate. Clark received a 2-to-1 vote in Beaver County over Doolittle.

The vote was:

Clark	101,961
Doolittle	57,545
Thornton	1,161

Although all the votes have not been tallied in 27 precincts in Washington County, Ernest P. Kline, 39, of Beaver Falls, a Democrat, appears to have easily defeated his GOP opponent George C. Garmen, 59, of New Brighton for a second term as state senator from the 47th Senatorial District. The Constitutional candidate was William L. Shaefer, 44, of Beaver.

In Beaver County the vote was:

Kline	53,980
Garner	23,356
Shaefer	1,242

In conjunction with the national races, Beaver County proved itself a Democrat stronghold by voting overwhelmingly for Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey. He outdistanced GOP leader Richard Nixon by almost two to one. George Wallace made only a token showing.

The unofficial Beaver County vote was:

Humphrey	44,720
Nixon	27,271
Wallace	7,811

Voters elected Democrats in three other races for state representatives, selecting Joseph P. Kolter of New Brighton over Chester Roser of New Brighton, Republican, and Lewis E. Daufen, Constitutional, 14th District; Charles D. Stone of Hopewell over Edward T. Murphy Jr. of Center Township, Republican, 15th District, and Robert K. Hamilton of Ambridge over Albert S. Kuhni of Baden, Republican, and James H. Barley, Constitutional.

The unofficial count was:

14th District
Roser	8,128
Kolter	10,025
Daufen	242
15th District
Murphy	8,046
Stone	13,025
16th District
Kuhni	8,189
Hamilton	10,934
Bartley	310

a second term. The holdover commissioner is James Boyd of near East Liverpool, also a Republican.

The complete, unofficial returns showed:

Gard	18,861
Gause	19,799
Greenisen	18,500
Sowards	17,053

Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey of Columbiana, Democrat, rolled up a margin of 15,847 in winning a third full term over his GOP opponent, Robert J. Dutcher of Salem RD 3, a machine shop foreman at the E. W. Bliss Co. in Salem.

The complete, unofficial returns showed:

Stacey	28,199
Dutcher	12,352

—:—

SHERIFF Russell J. VanFossan of East Palestine, Republican, won by a margin of 15,799 over his Democratic opponent, Forrest Young of Salineville RD 2, a constable in Franklin and Wayne Townships and Summitville village marshal.

The tabulation showed:

VanFossan	28,394
Young	12,595

County Recorder John Wargo of E. Chestnut St., Lisbon, a Democrat bidding for a second term, won by a margin of nearly 10,000 over Mrs. Velma Cope of E. Lincoln Way, Lisbon, Republican, who is a reporter for the Lisbon Journal and secretary of the County Fair Board.

The figures showed:

Wargo	25,388
Cope	15,405

County Treasurer Vincent C. Judge of 261 W. Lincoln Way, Lisbon, Democrat, was elected to his seventh term with a resounding victory over Mrs. Virginia M. Shipley of Stewart Rd., Salem, Republican, a technician at Salem City Hospital.

The tabulation showed:

Judge	26,737
Shipley	14,308

Three incumbents were returned without opposition.

Prosecutor J. Warren Bettis of Salem, a Republican, had no opposition in his bid for a second term, receiving 32,565 complimentary votes. Coroner William A. Kolozsi, Democrat, was returned without opposition to the post he has held since 1959. The Salem physician received 33,322 complimentary votes.

Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard of 2759 St. Clair Ave. was returned to his third six-year term without opposition, scoring 33,499 complimentary votes.

Judge Buzzard was nominated on the Republican ticket at the primaries, but his name appeared yesterday on the nonpartisan judicial ballot.

County Judge James L. MacDonald of near Lisbon also was returned without opposition. He received 24,756 complimentary votes on the nonpartisan ballot in the County Court District, which is comprised of all county territory outside East Liverpool and Liverpool Township. Judge MacDonald serves in the County Southwest Area Court at Lisbon, a post he has held since 1959.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Aid For The Leaf Raker

DEAR FOLKS: Do you ever rake up leaves and have the wind come right along and scatter them again? Then when you finally do gather them, you have to reach down, pick them up and put them in a container of some sort.

Heloise

Well, I solved this problem.

One day I happened to spy my big-square-type wastebasket in the kitchen. I took it out in the year, laid it on its side side and swept those leaves in with my yard rake. Nothing to it.

Because the basket was plastic, it was lightweight, and the leaves just scooted in as if they had grease on them. The straight side of the wastebasket stayed flat on the ground and caught more leaves than a round one would.

So don't spin your wheels trying to rake them all in a pile, then bending over to pick them up when you can use this method. It will save you lots of stooping.

With all the leaves we've got to rake as well as other chores to be done, any way we can save energy, time or trouble, is O.K. by me.

P.S. And if you want to line the inside with plastic bag from the dry cleaners first, sure is easy to just tie a knot in the end before removing. Then it's easy to stack them up on garbage day.

DEAR HELOISE: My two boys love pancakes and always want to pour the syrup themselves.

I was always worried about them breaking the heavy bottle or pouring on too much syrup. Then I decided that it would be so much simpler if I put the syrup in an empty liquid detergent bottle (cleaned thoroughly and rinsed with vinegar water).

This is light enough for the children to handle, unbreakable, and takes up less storage space.

Best of all — if you are squeezing on the bottle when pouring the syrup, then let up on the pressure, the syrup stops flowing. So, when you turn the bottle upright, there is no drip and no sticky dribbling down the sides of the bottle.

MRS. MAX TULLY.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: When I read in your column the suggestion about storing cold cream in the 'fridge, I said to myself — Great — I'll try it, and in went my big jumbo jar of cold cream.

Unfortunately, I neglected to mention it, or turn the jar so the label caught the eye.

Well, my brother came home from a late date — hungry — and glued his tuna sandwich together with it!

I can't tell you the kind of language we heard around here at 2 a.m., but we have sure had a lot of fun because of it.

MRS. E. TAYLOR.

DEAR HELOISE: I've found that if I handwash permanent-press shirts or wash these shirts by themselves, there will be no lint in the end of collars.

The "dirt" is usually a result of washing the shirts with other clothes and picking up lint.

MRS. KATELMAN.

HELOISE.

True.

-:-

DEAR HELOISE: If you are painting and get spots of paint on you, just rub a little cold cream on the spots while you are working.

When you take a shower or bath later, the paint washes right off.

MRS. OLA MAYER.

DEAR HELOISE: How many of your readers put up a fight with cellophane tape every time you use it, unless it's on the convenient cutter?

Most of the time it comes with a piece of paper on the end to start it off.

So why not put a tiny piece of paper (preferably brown because it's stronger), or a small button on the end after each usage?

JEAN SPICE.

DEAR HELOISE: I've found an answer to those wrinkled nylon headscarves.

Officers Report Rise In October Traffic Crashes

East Liverpool police investigated 85 traffic mishaps in October, a gain of seven from 78 in September, it was shown today in the monthly summary of departmental activities.

One person was killed in the mishaps and 11 were injured, including one pedestrian. Officers logged 665 radio transmissions and made 86 arrests, including three for driving while intoxicated.

The department investigated 10 burglaries, 23 petty thefts and 25 instances of vandalism. Nine autos were reported stolen. Nine persons were reported missing, with three still unlocated.

Seventeen cars were towed off streets, principally as a result of traffic mishaps. Sixteen casualty reports were filed on persons aided by police after they were injured or taken ill.

The statistics are compiled monthly by Capt. Kenneth Mooney and Det. William A. Devon of the detective bureau for use of the local department and agencies such as the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the National Safety Council.

The U.S. Geological Survey scientists calculate that the heat in the upper six miles of earth crust beneath the United States equals the energy generated by 900 trillions tons of coal.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Aid For The Leaf Raker

DEAR FOLKS: Do you ever rake up leaves and have the wind come right along and scatter them again? Then when you finally do gather them, you have to reach down, pick them up and put them in a container of some sort.

Heloise

Well, I solved this problem.

One day I happened to spy my big-square-type wastebasket in the kitchen. I took it out in the year, laid it on its side side and swept those leaves in with my yard rake. Nothing to it.

Because the basket was plastic, it was lightweight, and the leaves just scooted in as if they had grease on them. The straight side of the wastebasket stayed flat on the ground and caught more leaves than a round one would.

So don't spin your wheels trying to rake them all in a pile, then bending over to pick them up when you can use this method. It will save you lots of stooping.

With all the leaves we've got to rake as well as other chores to be done, any way we can save energy, time or trouble, is O.K. by me.

P.S. And if you want to line the inside with plastic bag from the dry cleaners first, sure is easy to just tie a knot in the end before removing. Then it's easy to stack them up on garbage day.

DEAR HELOISE: My two boys love pancakes and always want to pour the syrup themselves.

I was always worried about them breaking the heavy bottle or pouring on too much syrup. Then I decided that it would be so much simpler if I put the syrup in an empty liquid detergent bottle (cleaned thoroughly and rinsed with vinegar water).

This is light enough for the children to handle, unbreakable, and takes up less storage space.

Best of all — if you are squeezing on the bottle when pouring the syrup, then let up on the pressure, the syrup stops flowing. So, when you turn the bottle upright, there is no drip and no sticky dribbling down the sides of the bottle.

MRS. MAX TULLY.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: When I read in your column the suggestion about storing cold cream in the 'fridge, I said to myself — Great — I'll try it, and in went my big jumbo jar of cold cream.

Unfortunately, I neglected to mention it, or turn the jar so the label caught the eye.

Well, my brother came home from a late date — hungry — and glued his tuna sandwich together with it!

I can't tell you the kind of language we heard around here at 2 a.m., but we have sure had a lot of fun because of it.

MRS. E. TAYLOR.

DEAR HELOISE: I've found that if I handwash permanent-press shirts or wash these shirts by themselves, there will be no lint in the end of collars.

The "dirt" is usually a result of washing the shirts with other clothes and picking up lint.

MRS. KATELMAN.

HELOISE.

True.

-:-

DEAR HELOISE: If you are painting and get spots of paint on you, just rub a little cold cream on the spots while you are working.

When you take a shower or bath later, the paint washes right off.

MRS. OLA MAYER.

DEAR HELOISE: How many of your readers put up a fight with cellophane tape every time you use it, unless it's on the convenient cutter?

Most of the time it comes with a piece of paper on the end to start it off.

So why not put a tiny piece of paper (preferably brown because it's stronger), or a small button on the end after each usage?

JEAN SPICE.

DEAR HELOISE: I've found an answer to those wrinkled nylon headscarves.

Officers Report Rise In October Traffic Crashes

East Liverpool police investigated 85 traffic mishaps in October, a gain of seven from 78 in September, it was shown today in the monthly summary of departmental activities.

One person was killed in the mishaps and 11 were injured, including one pedestrian. Officers logged 665 radio transmissions and made 86 arrests, including three for driving while intoxicated.

The department investigated 10 burglaries, 23 petty thefts and 25 instances of vandalism. Nine autos were reported stolen. Nine persons were reported missing, with three still unlocated.

Seventeen cars were towed off streets, principally as a result of traffic mishaps. Sixteen casualty reports were filed on persons aided by police after they were injured or taken ill.

The statistics are compiled monthly by Capt. Kenneth Mooney and Det. William A. Devon of the detective bureau for use of the local department and agencies such as the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the National Safety Council.

The U.S. Geological Survey scientists calculate that the heat in the upper six miles of earth crust beneath the United States equals the energy generated by 900 trillions tons of coal.

County Presidential Vote Lowest In Last 20 Years

By ROBERT POPP

Showing an apathy at odds with the feelings of the rest of the nation, Columbiana County cast the lowest vote in a presidential election in 20 years Tuesday.

The turnout in the 170 polling places hit 43,576, about 2,500 under the low range of a pre-election forecast that called for 46,000 to 48,000 votes. It was the smallest turnout for a presidential election since 1948, when the county cast only 38,972 votes.

AN UNUSUALLY light vote in East Liverpool helped cut into the county total. The city cast only 5,697 ballots, although 8,100 were eligible.

The county's all-time record vote was the 48,830 cast in 1960 in the Kennedy-Nixon presidential race. There were 45,067 votes in 1964, the Johnson-Goldwater contest.

In the 1940 presidential election, the Roosevelt-Willkie race, the county cast 44,267. It showed 38,972 votes in 1944, when FDR defeated Thomas Dewey. In 1952, when Eisenhower defeated Stevenson, the county cast 46,090 votes. The turnout was 43,727 in 1956, when Ike defeated Stevenson for a second time.

The light vote did not come as a complete surprise. A sampling of East Liverpool precincts yesterday morning indicated the city was casting the lightest presidential vote in at least eight years.

THE COMBINATION of a light vote and election machinery that functioned without a hitch allowed the County Election Board to complete all returns by 2 a.m., an hour and a half sooner than the task was finished at the last presidential election in 1964.

The tabulation was complete at 10:30 p.m. Tuesday on returns on top-of-the-ticket races in 49 East Liverpool area precincts. Countywide returns were complete on the top races at 11:15, an hour and 15 minutes faster than the job was finished in 1964.

Precinct 2-E was the last East Liverpool polling place to report returns, hours behind the other 33. The Salem district was the last to report in the entire county. Its cumulative totals were telephoned to the election board about 1:20 a.m.

Forty minutes later the figures had been placed on the board's charts and the totals had been added and double-checked, finishing the election night task.

It was the first general election in many years in which write-in votes were permitted for every office, including president, and some jokesters took advantage of the blank spots.

The name of Frank Dawson was written in for county coroner. Pat Paulson, the comedian, received several write-in votes for president. One voter, apparently unsatisfied with the choices offered by the major parties, wrote in the name of Nixon for president and Muskie, the Democrat, for vice president. Many more write-ins will be turned up when the official canvass of votes is made.

Miss Rebecca Resnick, director of elections, praised precinct workers, district collectors, the board's staff and other employes for "a fine, conscientious job of reporting the returns quickly and accurately."

THE ELECTION meant a 20-hour day, except for breaks for meals, for Miss Resnick and the day was nearly as long for Mrs. Hillis Conner, deputy director, and Mrs. Mary Alice Cupp, clerk. It stretched from 6 Tuesday morning — a half hour before the polls opened—until after 2 this morning.

The tabulation completed by the board early today was complete but unofficial. The members and clerical help will meet Thursday morning at the office in East Liverpool to begin the official canvass of returns to be certified to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown at Columbus. The official canvass may require three days.

Rotary Briefed On Services Of Bank's Trust Department

Services offered by the trust department of the First National Bank were outlined during the Rotary Club's luncheon meeting Tuesday noon at the Travelers Hotel.

The speaker, Charles B. Lang, the bank's trust officer, pointed out the department was launched in 1922 through the Neville Institute Trust. It now handles 179 accounts and has assets of some $18 million.

Trust funds are set up for various reasons — scholarships, real estate, pensions and estate guardianship.

The department is responsible to the Internal Revenue Service, the Veterans administration, the administrator of the National Bank of Washington, D. C., the attorney general of the state of Ohio and Probate Court in Lisbon.

One misconception, Lang said, is that an attorney can make wills, etc. for customers of the bank. "State law forbids this—neither corporations, nor their employes can draft wills or leases," he said. "We can advise, but we refer customers to their attorneys."

Investment counseling service, actual investing, estate planning and the saving of tax dollars for customers are some of the services offered.

"Taxes are what we have to pay for living in a civilized society, but no one owe any public duty to pay more than the law demands."

Lang cautioned: "Do not procrastinate in arranging your affairs. See your attorney if you have no will or need to change it."

Leetonia Voters Back New Levy

LEETONIA — Village voters approved a new 2-mill levy to meet operating expenses and joined with other residents of the exempted village school district in overwhelmingly renewing an 8-mill operating levy.

The vote on the village levy was:

For	519
Against	445

Voters in two of the four precincts approved the tax issue, which will be in effect for five years, while voters in the other two precincts rejected the proposal.

The school levy was renewed for a continuing period of time. The complete but unofficial returns showed:

For	1,230
Against	537

Trust funds are set up for various reasons — scholarships, real estate, pensions and estate guardianship.

The department is responsible to the Internal Revenue Service, the Veterans administration, the administrator of the National Bank of Washington, D. C., the attorney general of the state of Ohio and Probate Court in Lisbon.

One misconception, Lang said, is that an attorney can make wills, etc. for customers of the bank. "State law forbids this—neither corporations, nor their employes can draft wills or leases," he said. "We can advise, but we refer customers to their attorneys."

Investment counseling service, actual investing, estate planning and the saving of tax dollars for customers are some of the services offered.

"Taxes are what we have to pay for living in a civilized society, but no one owe any public duty to pay more than the law demands."

Lang cautioned: "Do not procrastinate in arranging your affairs. See your attorney if you have no will or need to change it."

Leetonia Voters Back New Levy

LEETONIA — Village voters approved a new 2-mill levy to meet operating expenses and joined with other residents of the exempted village school district in overwhelmingly renewing an 8-mill operating levy.

The vote on the village levy was:

For	519
Against	445

Voters in two of the four precincts approved the tax issue, which will be in effect for five years, while voters in the other two precincts rejected the proposal.

The school levy was renewed for a continuing period of time. The complete but unofficial returns showed:

For	1,230
Against	537

makeup, and in addition the disposition, of each state delegation are what would count.

Early estimates were that Humphrey might be able to count on 13 states with predominantly Democratic delegations, and Republican Richard M. Nixon on 15 dominated by members of his party.

Three state delegations were tied and the status of the othrs was clouded by various factors. Some states were carried by third party candidate George C. Wallace and in others newly elected members had pledged themselves in various ways to vote for the candidate favored by popular vote, regardless of party.

In any case, switches among the electors, most of whom are legally free agents, could settle the election by Dec. 16, when they meet in their respective states.

Wallace, who won at least 39 electoral votes, repeatedly has said the election would never be allowed to go to the House, although he has denied making any deals with the other candidates.

The 91st Congress, it was evident, will look much like its predecessor, although the GOP gains and the return of Southern Democrats who frequently vote with Republicans, would give it a somewhat more conservative cast.

Most party leaders and committee chairmen were returned.

One long-familiar face will again be on the Senate scene—Barry Goldwater regained the Arizona seat he gave up four years ago to run for president on the Republican ticket.

Recreational Levy Beaten Soundly Here

East Liverpool voters gave a resounding defeat Tuesday to a half-mill levy that would have provided $20,000 to $22,000 annually to finance a year-round recreation program.

Requiring only a bare majority for approval, the issue was rejected by a margin of 2,093 votes.

The complete, unofficial tabulation showed:

For the Levy	2,344
Against Levy	4,437

The proposal was defeated soundly in each of the four wards. The First Ward cast 426 in favor and 1,084 against. The Second Ward showed 973 in favor and 1,457 against.

The Third Ward cast 421 votes in favor of the issue and 710 against. In the Fourth Ward, the vote showed 524 in favor of the issue and 1,186 opposed.

The levy would have provided funds to hire a full - time recreation director at $6,000 to $8,000 a year. It also would have financed an expanded recreation program involving public parks, playgrounds and ball fields and would have helped create community centers in several former school buildings that were turned over to the city by the Board of Education for token charges.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce, which promoted the expanded recreation program, helped campaign in support of the levy. Council voted to place the issue on the ballot late last summer.

Levy Handed Wide Margin

Easily the most popular issue on Tuesday's ballot was renewal of a two-tenths of a mill levy to provide funds for maintenance and operations of Columbiana County's school for the mentally - retarded and a workshop.

It was approved by more than 16,000 votes.

The vote was:

For	29,117
Against	12,713

The renewal will be in effect for 10 years, beginning with the 1970 tax year.

The levy originally was passed by voters in May 1962 and renewed for five years in 1965. It amounts to two cents on each $100 of valuation.

Based on the current valuation, the levy yields about $52,000 yearly.

Voters in all sections of the county supported the levy.

East Liverpool cast 4,316 in favor of the levy and 2,388 against and Wellsville 2,522 to 1,383.

Salem voters were in favor, 5,833 to 1,759, Leetonia 1,783 to 644, East Rochester 1,497 to 774, Columbiana 2,326 to 891, Lisbon 2,224 to 1,112 and Hanoverton 1,574 to 540.

Two members of the Ohio University coaching staff have sons playing on the 1968 Bobcat Varsity football team. They are head basketball coach Jim Snyder, whose son Todd is a split end, and assistant football coach Cliff Heffelfinger, whose son Jim is a center.

Mrs. L. J. Albersold of Lorain and Joseph R. Ruk of Pittsburgh have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Nancy Ellen Ruk, to Spec. 4 Gerald Lee Sayre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis E. Sayre of Chester RD 2.

Both attended Chester schools. The prospective bridegroom is serving with the Army in South Vietnam.

The couple will wed next September upon his return from Vietnam.

West Virginia Girl Weds In Ceremony At Midland

Miss Cynthia Nauman, daughter of Mrs. Orene Nauman of Beverly, W. Va., became the bride of Robert Aukscunas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Aukscunas of Industry, in Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses at Midland on Oct. 26. The double-ring ceremony was performed by Donald Braeux.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Edward Nauman, wore an empire, A - line gown of white pebble velvet trimmed in marabou and featuring bell sleeves. Her double-tiered chapel - length veil of silk illusion was attached to a pillbox of pebble velvet and trimmed in marabou. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and ivy.

Miss Shirley Nauman, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. She wore an empire, A-line gown of turquoise sculptured velvet, which also featured bell sleeves. Her pillbox headpiece was covered in the same material, and she carried a cascade bouquet of aqua carnations.

Nick Aukscunas of Industry served his brother as best man. A reception was held in the Fairview Grange.

After a honeymoon trip to Miami, the newlyweds will make their home in Weston, W. Va.

The bride is a graduate of Doddridge County High School and is a missionary with Jehovah's Witnesses. The bridegroom is a graduate of Midland High School and Allegheny Tech, Pittsburgh. He is employed with the Union Bankers Insurance Co.

Congress

makeup, and in addition the disposition, of each state delegation are what would count.

Early estimates were that Humphrey might be able to count on 13 states with predominantly Democratic delegations, and Republican Richard M. Nixon on 15 dominated by members of his party.

Three state delegations were tied and the status of the othrs was clouded by various factors. Some states were carried by third party candidate George C. Wallace and in others newly elected members had pledged themselves in various ways to vote for the candidate favored by popular vote, regardless of party.

In any case, switches among the electors, most of whom are legally free agents, could settle the election by Dec. 16, when they meet in their respective states.

Wallace, who won at least 39 electoral votes, repeatedly has said the election would never be allowed to go to the House, although he has denied making any deals with the other candidates.

The 91st Congress, it was evident, will look much like its predecessor, although the GOP gains and the return of Southern Democrats who frequently vote with Republicans, would give it a somewhat more conservative cast.

Most party leaders and committee chairmen were returned.

One long-familiar face will again be on the Senate scene—Barry Goldwater regained the Arizona seat he gave up four years ago to run for president on the Republican ticket.

Recreational Levy Beaten Soundly Here

East Liverpool voters gave a resounding defeat Tuesday to a half-mill levy that would have provided $20,000 to $22,000 annually to finance a year-round recreation program.

Requiring only a bare majority for approval, the issue was rejected by a margin of 2,093 votes.

The complete, unofficial tabulation showed:

For the Levy	2,344
Against Levy	4,437

The proposal was defeated soundly in each of the four wards. The First Ward cast 426 in favor and 1,084 against. The Second Ward showed 973 in favor and 1,457 against.

The Third Ward cast 421 votes in favor of the issue and 710 against. In the Fourth Ward, the vote showed 524 in favor of the issue and 1,186 opposed.

The levy would have provided funds to hire a full - time recreation director at $6,000 to $8,000 a year. It also would have financed an expanded recreation program involving public parks, playgrounds and ball fields and would have helped create community centers in several former school buildings that were turned over to the city by the Board of Education for token charges.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce, which promoted the expanded recreation program, helped campaign in support of the levy. Council voted to place the issue on the ballot late last summer.

Levy Handed Wide Margin

Easily the most popular issue on Tuesday's ballot was renewal of a two-tenths of a mill levy to provide funds for maintenance and operations of Columbiana County's school for the mentally - retarded and a workshop.

It was approved by more than 16,000 votes.

The vote was:

For	29,117
Against	12,713

The renewal will be in effect for 10 years, beginning with the 1970 tax year.

The levy originally was passed by voters in May 1962 and renewed for five years in 1965. It amounts to two cents on each $100 of valuation.

Based on the current valuation, the levy yields about $52,000 yearly.

Voters in all sections of the county supported the levy.

East Liverpool cast 4,316 in favor of the levy and 2,388 against and Wellsville 2,522 to 1,383.

Salem voters were in favor, 5,833 to 1,759, Leetonia 1,783 to 644, East Rochester 1,497 to 774, Columbiana 2,326 to 891, Lisbon 2,224 to 1,112 and Hanoverton 1,574 to 540.

2 Youths Cited For Local Theft

Two teen - age youths have been cited to appear before Juvenile Officer Edward Hedrick following their apprehension in attempted thefts from trucks parked on Dresden Ave. near the new post office building.

They were arrested shortly after 8:30 Tuesday night.

Police said they received a call that young boys were entering trucks belonging to the Van Fossan Demolition Co. of Chester. When they arrived they found Thomas Williams of Midwest Contractors holding one of the boys, with the other fleeing down the alley toward Smith St.

Questioning of the one youth brought out the name of the other and he also was picked up.

A number of small tools and a rope taken from the truck were recovered, police said.

'Sludge' Has Arrived In The Tri-State Area

The "sludge" has arrived.

The big charge of pollution released into the Allegheny River more than a week ago at an oil refinery in Butler County, Pa., has been slowly making its way down the Ohio River and was first spotted in the area this morning.

The first part of the pollution started pouring over the Montgomery Dam at 6:30 a. m., and personnel said it immediately started foaming.

Within a short time, a thick, sudsy foam could be seen approximately a mile below the locks, headed toward Midland.

The foam slowly disappears until it is stirred again by the rush of the water.

Witnesses said the foam blanket is from 150 to 200 feet wide. Donald Craik, manager of the Midland Municipal Authority, said the borough plans to continue pumping water from the Ohio as the pollutant passes.

He obtained samples yesterday farther upriver and said the water filtration plant will continue in operation, treating the water with heavier charges of carbon to remove the detergents and quell the odor and bad taste.

If the pollution gets too strong at the peak it passes Midland, the plant will be shut down, he said.

A boat — a floating laboratory — is traveling with the sludge, carrying officials of the Federal Pollution Control Board.

Tests of the water are being taken every four hours from the water in the center and at both ends of the pollution area. The scientists have been in contact with Craik, relaying their reports.

It will take an estimated 60 hours for the sludge to pass East Liverpool. The foam is expected to dissipate and probably will not be seen as it passes here.

Millions of fish were killed when the pollution first poured into the Allegheny River and officials have been calling for action to prevent any future occurrence.

tabulated, moved Smoleski into the lead.

A breakdown by districts in the sheriff's race showed Smoleski receiving 6,426 votes in Butler District, 1,726 in Grant and 1,032 in Clay. Patrick received 5,743 in Butler, 2,237 in Grant and 1,155 in Clay.

If a recount is requested, it will mark the first in a general election since 1956 when Clayton Hobbs edged George Konchar for the post.

Smoleski has served as constable of Butler District since 1952, being re-elected to three consecutive terms. He is employed at Weirton Steel. Patrick was making his second bid for the sheriff's office. He also is an employe of Weirton Steel.

While the sheriff's race was close, the county's other Democrats won by more comfortable margins.

Joseph Manypenny of New Cumberland defeated his Republican opponent, Dr. Dale Williams of New Cumberland, for the post of county commissioner.

The complete but unofficial vote was:

Manypenny	9,973
Williams	7,311

Manypenny is a former sheriff and New Cumberland police chief. Williams is a former president of the Hancock County Board of Education.

Edward A. Zagula of Weirton defeated Republican W. Dean DeLaMater in the race for prosecuting attorney.

The vote was:

Zagula	11,827
DeLaMater	5,891

Zagula, 43, a native of Weirton, is the senior member of the Zagula, Stevenson and Altomare law firm.

Anthony Pirraglia continued his party's domination by winning his bid for assessor over Chester Councilman Richard Johnston.

The vote was:

Pirraglia	10,858
Johnston	6,410

Pirraglia, of Weirton, is a registered public accountant employed at Weirton Steel.

In the race for Clerk of County Court, George Konchar, who is completing his first term in the office, was an easy winner over Republican Jack Evans of New Cumberland.

The vote was:

Konchar	10,343
Evans	7,075

Incumbent Dan Grossi of Weirton was named Clerk of Circuit Court over Republican Edward Suplee.

The vote was:

Grossi	10,693
Suplee	6,400

Michael Comer of Weirton was elected county surveyor over James B. Riddel of Weirton.

The vote was:

Comer	9,457
Riddel	6,468

Moore Lone GOP Choice In Hancock

Arch More, who won the West Virginia governor's seat in Tuesday's general election, was the only Republican to win in Hancock County.

The county gave Democrats the edge in all other races.

Moore of Moundsville gained 11,882 votes while his Democrat opponent Jim Sprouse of Charleston received 6,644.

Hancock County voters gave Humphrey 10,133 votes, Nixon 6,157 and Wallace 2,479. Comedian Pat Paulson received one write-in in Weirton precinct 25.

In the 1st Congressional District race Bob Mollohan of Fairmont 10,594 votes to 6,870 for Republican Tom Sweeney of Wheeling.

Voting in Hancock County for other state offices were: Secretary of State, John D. Rockefeller (D), 11,793 and John S. Callebs (R-), 5,327; State Treasurer, John H. Kelly (D) 9,663 and J. Kenton Larbert (R), 6,557; Commissioner of Agriculture, Gus R. Doublass (D), 9,219 and Edwart T. White (R), 6,570; Attorney General, Chauncey Browing Jr. (D) 9,138 and Charles H. Haden (R) 7,128; Judge of Supreme Court of Appeals, Fred H. Caplan (D), 9,702 and Dennis R. Knapp (R) 6,451; Judge of Circuit Court (2 to be elected) Ralph E. Pryor, (D) 11,662, William J. Moore, 9,254 and James G. McClure (R) 8,643.

Latest Discussion Fails To Bring School Accord

NEW CUMBERLAND — An agreement could not be reached Tuesday in the second private meeting between the Hancock County school administration and the county's non - teaching personnel.

According to the school administration, an offer presented amounted to a package deal of some $45,000 in increased salaries.

Under the plan, salary increases would be granted custodians, bus drivers, maintenance people, secretary and food service employes.

The range of the wage increases in the various categories were from 5 cents to 24 cents more an hour.

This latest offer was rejected by the service employes, the administration said.

Dr. Vernon Wyland, school superintendent, said today "the board finds itself in a position where it cannot offer more and still retain fiscal responsibilities for the operation of the district."

"The non - teaching personnel" the superintendent continued, "are seeking demands that cannot be meant legally or financially. In fact, during each session the service personnel adds to the list of demands, the latest being that all employes be paid for those days the boycott has been in effect.

"The board is requesting these employes report back to work immediately and has directed the administration to begin immediate recruitment and selection of new personnel for these positions."

Officers of the Tax Payer Group, an organization formed this week as a result of a boycott of work assignments, issued a statement Tuesday concerning this meeting.

The text of the statement signed by the Rev. Allen S. Fields, the Rev. P. H. Johnson and Jack Cooper said: "Because of the failure of Tuesday's meeting between the school superintendent and the negotiation committee of the school service personnel to reach any result, and in pursuance of the will of the taxpayers expressed at a meeting held Monday at the courthouse, the Board of Education is ernestly urged to close the schools until the dispute is permanently settled."

"This request is made to prevent further formenting of the anger arising out of this situation and is urged in the best interest of the school children."

Officers Elected By Youth Group

Officers were elected by the Young People For Christ organization Sunday night at the Wellsville First Christian Church.

Named were Alan Swearingen, president; Pam Ralston, vice president; Beth Delauder, secretary, and Howard Leith, treasurer.

Thirty - five attended. A Toronto youth group presented a program on "Who Is The Boss?" The local YPFC will visit in Toronto early in December.

The group meets each Sunday at 6:30 p. m. at the church.

Allison And Hart Win District Squire Contest

Three of four incumbents were re-elected in Justice of the Peace and Constable races in Hancock County's Grant District.

Returned as Justice of the Peace was Republican Eugene Allison of Chester. But Republican Lloyd Nalley Jr., incumbent at Newell, lost to Democrat Roy E. Hart of Chester who finished second in the four-way race which included Monty Mack Grimes of Newell.

The complete but unofficial total was:

Allison	2,179
Hart	1,898
Nalley	1,683
Grimes	1,513

Republican incumbent constables Harold Davis of Chester and J. Carl Durham of Newell won in a close race over Democrats Joseph (Bill) Cornell of Chester and Charles Glendenning of Newell.

The vote was:

Durham	1,897
Davis	1,831
Cornell	1,805
Glendenning	1,790

In Clay District, Democrat Ray Ewing and Republican incumbent John D. Herron won bids for Justices of the Peace defeating Winford Martin.

The vote was:

Ewing	1,410
Herron	1,263
Martin	914

Tre constable race in Clay District was won by Bill Webster and Don Dunlevy who defeated the Republican candidate Harry Watson.

The vote was:

Webster	1,577
Dunlevy	1,325
Watson	829

'Sludge' Has Arrived In The Tri-State Area

The "sludge" has arrived.

The big charge of pollution released into the Allegheny River more than a week ago at an oil refinery in Butler County, Pa., has been slowly making its way down the Ohio River and was first spotted in the area this morning.

The first part of the pollution started pouring over the Montgomery Dam at 6:30 a. m., and personnel said it immediately started foaming.

Within a short time, a thick, sudsy foam could be seen approximately a mile below the locks, headed toward Midland.

The foam slowly disappears until it is stirred again by the rush of the water.

Witnesses said the foam blanket is from 150 to 200 feet wide. Donald Craik, manager of the Midland Municipal Authority, said the borough plans to continue pumping water from the Ohio as the pollutant passes.

He obtained samples yesterday farther upriver and said the water filtration plant will continue in operation, treating the water with heavier charges of carbon to remove the detergents and quell the odor and bad taste.

If the pollution gets too strong at the peak it passes Midland, the plant will be shut down, he said.

A boat — a floating laboratory — is traveling with the sludge, carrying officials of the Federal Pollution Control Board.

Tests of the water are being taken every four hours from the water in the center and at both ends of the pollution area. The scientists have been in contact with Craik, relaying their reports.

It will take an estimated 60 hours for the sludge to pass East Liverpool. The foam is expected to dissipate and probably will not be seen as it passes here.

Millions of fish were killed when the pollution first poured into the Allegheny River and officials have been calling for action to prevent any future occurrence.

tabulated, moved Smoleski into the lead.

A breakdown by districts in the sheriff's race showed Smoleski receiving 6,426 votes in Butler District, 1,726 in Grant and 1,032 in Clay. Patrick received 5,743 in Butler, 2,237 in Grant and 1,155 in Clay.

If a recount is requested, it will mark the first in a general election since 1956 when Clayton Hobbs edged George Konchar for the post.

Smoleski has served as constable of Butler District since 1952, being re-elected to three consecutive terms. He is employed at Weirton Steel. Patrick was making his second bid for the sheriff's office. He also is an employe of Weirton Steel.

While the sheriff's race was close, the county's other Democrats won by more comfortable margins.

Joseph Manypenny of New Cumberland defeated his Republican opponent, Dr. Dale Williams of New Cumberland, for the post of county commissioner.

The complete but unofficial vote was:

Manypenny	9,973
Williams	7,311

Manypenny is a former sheriff and New Cumberland police chief. Williams is a former president of the Hancock County Board of Education.

Edward A. Zagula of Weirton defeated Republican W. Dean DeLaMater in the race for prosecuting attorney.

The vote was:

Zagula	11,827
DeLaMater	5,891

Zagula, 43, a native of Weirton, is the senior member of the Zagula, Stevenson and Altomare law firm.

Anthony Pirraglia continued his party's domination by winning his bid for assessor over Chester Councilman Richard Johnston.

The vote was:

Pirraglia	10,858
Johnston	6,410

Pirraglia, of Weirton, is a registered public accountant employed at Weirton Steel.

In the race for Clerk of County Court, George Konchar, who is completing his first term in the office, was an easy winner over Republican Jack Evans of New Cumberland.

The vote was:

Konchar	10,343
Evans	7,075

Incumbent Dan Grossi of Weirton was named Clerk of Circuit Court over Republican Edward Suplee.

The vote was:

Grossi	10,693
Suplee	6,400

Michael Comer of Weirton was elected county surveyor over James B. Riddel of Weirton.

The vote was:

Comer	9,457
Riddel	6,468

Moore Lone GOP Choice In Hancock

Arch More, who won the West Virginia governor's seat in Tuesday's general election, was the only Republican to win in Hancock County.

The county gave Democrats the edge in all other races.

Moore of Moundsville gained 11,882 votes while his Democrat opponent Jim Sprouse of Charleston received 6,644.

Hancock County voters gave Humphrey 10,133 votes, Nixon 6,157 and Wallace 2,479. Comedian Pat Paulson received one write-in in Weirton precinct 25.

In the 1st Congressional District race Bob Mollohan of Fairmont 10,594 votes to 6,870 for Republican Tom Sweeney of Wheeling.

Voting in Hancock County for other state offices were: Secretary of State, John D. Rockefeller (D), 11,793 and John S. Callebs (R-), 5,327; State Treasurer, John H. Kelly (D) 9,663 and J. Kenton Larbert (R), 6,557; Commissioner of Agriculture, Gus R. Doublass (D), 9,219 and Edwart T. White (R), 6,570; Attorney General, Chauncey Browing Jr. (D) 9,138 and Charles H. Haden (R) 7,128; Judge of Supreme Court of Appeals, Fred H. Caplan (D), 9,702 and Dennis R. Knapp (R) 6,451; Judge of Circuit Court (2 to be elected) Ralph E. Pryor, (D) 11,662, William J. Moore, 9,254 and James G. McClure (R) 8,643.

Latest Discussion Fails To Bring School Accord

NEW CUMBERLAND — An agreement could not be reached Tuesday in the second private meeting between the Hancock County school administration and the county's non - teaching personnel.

According to the school administration, an offer presented amounted to a package deal of some $45,000 in increased salaries.

Under the plan, salary increases would be granted custodians, bus drivers, maintenance people, secretary and food service employes.

The range of the wage increases in the various categories were from 5 cents to 24 cents more an hour.

This latest offer was rejected by the service employes, the administration said.

Dr. Vernon Wyland, school superintendent, said today "the board finds itself in a position where it cannot offer more and still retain fiscal responsibilities for the operation of the district."

"The non - teaching personnel" the superintendent continued, "are seeking demands that cannot be meant legally or financially. In fact, during each session the service personnel adds to the list of demands, the latest being that all employes be paid for those days the boycott has been in effect.

"The board is requesting these employes report back to work immediately and has directed the administration to begin immediate recruitment and selection of new personnel for these positions."

Officers of the Tax Payer Group, an organization formed this week as a result of a boycott of work assignments, issued a statement Tuesday concerning this meeting.

The text of the statement signed by the Rev. Allen S. Fields, the Rev. P. H. Johnson and Jack Cooper said: "Because of the failure of Tuesday's meeting between the school superintendent and the negotiation committee of the school service personnel to reach any result, and in pursuance of the will of the taxpayers expressed at a meeting held Monday at the courthouse, the Board of Education is ernestly urged to close the schools until the dispute is permanently settled."

"This request is made to prevent further formenting of the anger arising out of this situation and is urged in the best interest of the school children."

Nixon Receives Edge In County

Columbiana County voters gave Republican Richard M. Nixon a razor-thin edge of 568 votes over Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, his Democratic rival, in Tuesday's balloting. George Wallace, the third party candidate, polled about 9 per cent of the vote.

Complete but unofficial returns showed:

Nixon	19,952
Humphrey	19,384
Wallace	3,876

Although the American Independent Party candidate trailed badly, his 9 per cent of the votes cast in the presidential contest prevented either of the major party nominees from receiving a majority.

Nixon received 46.1 per cent of the 43,212 votes cast for president in the county's 170 precincts and Humphrey's percentage was 44.8. There were 364 voters who went to the polls but did not vote on the presidential ticket. The county had 43,576 voters, the County Election Board reported.

VOTERS gave Atty. Gen. William Saxbe a greater edge than Nixon in his bid to defeat John Gilligan, Democrat, for the U. S. Senate seat. The vote:

Saxbe	21,181
Gilligan	20,325

County residents also favored Kingsley A. Taft over John C. Duffy for chief justice of the Ohio Supreme Court. Duffy is a nephew of East Liverpool Councilman Frank Duffy and the late James M. Duffy, former IBOP president. The vote:

Taft	20,710
Duffy	15,178

Thomas M. Herbert outpolled Merrill D. Brothers for Supreme Court judge. Complete but unofficial returns showed:

Herbert	22,388
Brothers	10,387

John M. Matthias received 28,766 complimentary votes in his unopposed bid for the other Supreme Court post.

—:—

STATE Amendment 1, the highways and capital improvements bond issue, was approved, but Issue 2, the homestead exemption act, was rejected by county voters.

The vote on Issue 1 was:

For	20,891
Against	17,054

On the homestead exemption act, the balloting showed:

For	18,362
Against	19,130

In giving Nixon a narrow edge in the presidential balloting, county voters continued a trend in which the Democratic candidate has carried the county only once since 1940. That was in 1964 when Lyndon B. Johnson soundly whipped Barry Goldwater.

But Nixon's small margin was in sharp contrast to the 1960 White House battle when he outpolled the late John F. Kennedy by more than 8,000 votes.

Humphrey rolled up leads in East Liverpool and Wellsville, while the Republican standard-bearer was favored in the Salem, Columbiana, Leetonia, East Palestine, Hanoverton, Lisbon and Salineville areas.

Humphrey received 6,147 ballots in the East Liverpool area's 49 precincts to 4,413 for Nixon and 1,017 for Wallace. Wellsville's 17 precincts showed 2,343 for the Democratic nominee, 1,333 for Nixon and 427 for Wallace.

In Salem's 29 precincts, Nixon outpolled Humphrey 3,867 to 3,444, with Wallace receiving 533 votes. The vote in Columbiana's 13 precincts showed Nixon with 1,948, Humphrey, 1,102 and Wallace, 235.

LISBON voters cast 1,864 ballots for the Republican nominee to 1,303 for Humphrey and 300 for Wallace, while the vote in 14 East Palestine precincts showed Nixon with 1,861 to 1,696 for the vice president and 283 for the former Alabama governor.

Nixon had a 3-vote margin in the 9 Leetonia area precincts, receiving 1,109 to 1,106 for Humphrey and 255 for Wallace. Hanoverton area voters cast 1,340 votes for the Republican nominee to 609 for Humphrey and 250 for Wallace. It was a close race in seven Salineville precincts, with Nixon getting 586 votes, Humphrey 575 and Wallace, 128.

The senatorial battle between Saxbe and Gilligan followed much the same pattern, with the Democratic nominee outpolling his foe in East Liverpool and Wellsville and also capturing the majority in the Leetonia precincts, while the Republican state official carried the other voting areas.

East Liverpool voters cast 6,293 for Gilligan to 4,789 for Saxbe and Wellsville area residents favored the Democratic nominee by 2,368 to 1,491.

Salem area residents gave Saxbe 3,964 to 3,725 for his Cincinnati opponent, while Columbiana went for the attorney general 2,026 to 1,176.

THE LISBON area balloting showed 1,999 for Saxbe, with Gilligan getting 1,332, while East Palestine voters favored Saxbe by 1,994 to 1,611. Hanoverton area precincts backed Saxbe by 1,383 to 726 for his opponent and Salineville voters cast 615 votes for Saxbe to 604 for Gilligan.

The Democratic candidate won in the Leetonia area 1,217 to 1,160.

Voters favored Issue 1, the highways and capital improvements bond issue which is expected to provide funds for a Pottery museum in East Liverpool and also is to provide nearly $1.8 million for the Columbiana County branch of Kent State University, which operates centers in Salem and East Liverpool.

Plans for a new building for the Salem center were unveiled last week by KSU officials.

Bus Carries 19 To Cleveland's Induction Center

LISBON — Nineteen Columbiana County youths went to the Cleveland induction center the long way around this morning.

The bus was dispatched from Youngstown, rather than Pittsburgh, and continued on to Carrollton to pick up the Carroll County contingent. Usually the Carroll County men are on the bus when it stops at Lisbon.

Selective Service Board 16 here sent 10 men for induction and nine for pre-induction physical examinations. Prospective inductees were:

Tracy W. Bissell, 832 Homewood Ave.; Douglas J. Pitts, 1210 E. 3rd St., and Garry J. Shasteen, 2107 Oak St., all of Salem; Mark E. Baughman, 165 Pennsylvania Ave., East Liverpool; Richard L. Whittington, East Liverpool RD 3; Barry L. Whitaker, Maple Hill, Salineville; Melvin J. Van Fossan, Leetonia RD 1; Gary L. May, East Palestine; Jeffrey J. Dorrance, N. Market St., Lisbon; Kenneth R. Votaw, Lisbon RD 4.

Musical Director Of Church Honored At Surprise Event

A surprise reception was held Sunday night honoring the years of service of Mrs. Walter (Stella) Flowers, director of music at the First Christian Church in New Manchester.

In addition to conducting the chancel Choir and various youth choirs through the years, Mrs. Flowers has participated actively in other church functions and community, club and school affairs. She has been pianist for the church for 34 years.

A DAUGHTER of Mrs. Elizabeth Ulbright and the late Charles Ulbright, Mrs. Flowers was born in MacDonald, Pa. and reared in Hancock County, W. Va. She began attending the First Christian Church in 1928 when the Rev. Paul Hobensack was minister.

Mr. and Mrs. Flowers, who reside on Rt. 8, New Cumberland RD 1, are the parents of three sons — Edwin and Ronald, also of New Cumberland RD 1, and Dales of Phoenix, Ariz., and eight grandchildren. Mr. Flowers is a retired postman.

Also interested in music, Mrs. Flowers has given piano lessons in her home for 20 years.

The commemorative service, an old - fashioned hymn sing, was led by Richard Cameron. Mrs. Flowers was accompanist. The Rev. H. Robert Rowe, present minister, gave the invocation and Mrs. Paul Huff a reading.

Edwin Flowers presented his mother with a corsage of pink rosebuds and gave her a bulletin of the service, which was the first she knew of the event.

SPECIAL numbers were presented by Ray Mitchell, Bobby Reed and Don Lamp, by Mrs. Kathryn Carson, by Ted Cunningham and by the Chancel Choir.

Mrs. Earl Priest presented Mrs. Flowers with a gift from the Golden Rule Class, which sponsored the event of which Mrs. Flowers is a longtime member and one-time teacher.

A contribution toward an organ for the church was made in Mrs. Flowers' name by her three sons and their families.

A reception followed in the church social rooms. The table was centered by a bouquet from the Dale Flowers family. In front of this was a piano-shaped cake.

Refreshments were served by members of the Golden Rule Class: Mrs. Earl Priest, Mrs. Ruth Lohr, Mrs. Clarence Robb and Mrs. Paul Huff, assisted by Mrs. Richard Cameron and Mrs. Edmund Cotherman. Mrs. George Arehart was in charge of the guest book.

Special messages were received from Mrs. Douglas Gregory (Gracie Huff), Mrs. Paul Madsen (Dottie Arehart) and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Flowers, who could not attend.

Nixon Receives Edge In County

Columbiana County voters gave Republican Richard M. Nixon a razor-thin edge of 568 votes over Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, his Democratic rival, in Tuesday's balloting. George Wallace, the third party candidate, polled about 9 per cent of the vote.

Complete but unofficial returns showed:

Nixon	19,952
Humphrey	19,384
Wallace	3,876

Although the American Independent Party candidate trailed badly, his 9 per cent of the votes cast in the presidential contest prevented either of the major party nominees from receiving a majority.

Nixon received 46.1 per cent of the 43,212 votes cast for president in the county's 170 precincts and Humphrey's percentage was 44.8. There were 364 voters who went to the polls but did not vote on the presidential ticket. The county had 43,576 voters, the County Election Board reported.

VOTERS gave Atty. Gen. William Saxbe a greater edge than Nixon in his bid to defeat John Gilligan, Democrat, for the U. S. Senate seat. The vote:

Saxbe	21,181
Gilligan	20,325

County residents also favored Kingsley A. Taft over John C. Duffy for chief justice of the Ohio Supreme Court. Duffy is a nephew of East Liverpool Councilman Frank Duffy and the late James M. Duffy, former IBOP president. The vote:

Taft	20,710
Duffy	15,178

Thomas M. Herbert outpolled Merrill D. Brothers for Supreme Court judge. Complete but unofficial returns showed:

Herbert	22,388
Brothers	10,387

John M. Matthias received 28,766 complimentary votes in his unopposed bid for the other Supreme Court post.

—:—

STATE Amendment 1, the highways and capital improvements bond issue, was approved, but Issue 2, the homestead exemption act, was rejected by county voters.

The vote on Issue 1 was:

For	20,891
Against	17,054

On the homestead exemption act, the balloting showed:

For	18,362
Against	19,130

In giving Nixon a narrow edge in the presidential balloting, county voters continued a trend in which the Democratic candidate has carried the county only once since 1940. That was in 1964 when Lyndon B. Johnson soundly whipped Barry Goldwater.

But Nixon's small margin was in sharp contrast to the 1960 White House battle when he outpolled the late John F. Kennedy by more than 8,000 votes.

Humphrey rolled up leads in East Liverpool and Wellsville, while the Republican standard-bearer was favored in the Salem, Columbiana, Leetonia, East Palestine, Hanoverton, Lisbon and Salineville areas.

Humphrey received 6,147 ballots in the East Liverpool area's 49 precincts to 4,413 for Nixon and 1,017 for Wallace. Wellsville's 17 precincts showed 2,343 for the Democratic nominee, 1,333 for Nixon and 427 for Wallace.

In Salem's 29 precincts, Nixon outpolled Humphrey 3,867 to 3,444, with Wallace receiving 533 votes. The vote in Columbiana's 13 precincts showed Nixon with 1,948, Humphrey, 1,102 and Wallace, 235.

LISBON voters cast 1,864 ballots for the Republican nominee to 1,303 for Humphrey and 300 for Wallace, while the vote in 14 East Palestine precincts showed Nixon with 1,861 to 1,696 for the vice president and 283 for the former Alabama governor.

Nixon had a 3-vote margin in the 9 Leetonia area precincts, receiving 1,109 to 1,106 for Humphrey and 255 for Wallace. Hanoverton area voters cast 1,340 votes for the Republican nominee to 609 for Humphrey and 250 for Wallace. It was a close race in seven Salineville precincts, with Nixon getting 586 votes, Humphrey 575 and Wallace, 128.

The senatorial battle between Saxbe and Gilligan followed much the same pattern, with the Democratic nominee outpolling his foe in East Liverpool and Wellsville and also capturing the majority in the Leetonia precincts, while the Republican state official carried the other voting areas.

East Liverpool voters cast 6,293 for Gilligan to 4,789 for Saxbe and Wellsville area residents favored the Democratic nominee by 2,368 to 1,491.

Salem area residents gave Saxbe 3,964 to 3,725 for his Cincinnati opponent, while Columbiana went for the attorney general 2,026 to 1,176.

THE LISBON area balloting showed 1,999 for Saxbe, with Gilligan getting 1,332, while East Palestine voters favored Saxbe by 1,994 to 1,611. Hanoverton area precincts backed Saxbe by 1,383 to 726 for his opponent and Salineville voters cast 615 votes for Saxbe to 604 for Gilligan.

The Democratic candidate won in the Leetonia area 1,217 to 1,160.

Voters favored Issue 1, the highways and capital improvements bond issue which is expected to provide funds for a Pottery museum in East Liverpool and also is to provide nearly $1.8 million for the Columbiana County branch of Kent State University, which operates centers in Salem and East Liverpool.

Plans for a new building for the Salem center were unveiled last week by KSU officials.

The first major redesign of Canadian coinage in 30 years commemorated the country's 100th anniversary as a confederated nation. The widlife motifs on the coins, such as the wildcat on the 25-cent piece flect the character and spirit of symbolizing independece, re the Canadian people.

Bus Carries 19 To Cleveland's Induction Center

LISBON — Nineteen Columbiana County youths went to the Cleveland induction center the long way around this morning.

The bus was dispatched from Youngstown, rather than Pittsburgh, and continued on to Carrollton to pick up the Carroll County contingent. Usually the Carroll County men are on the bus when it stops at Lisbon.

Selective Service Board 16 here sent 10 men for induction and nine for pre-induction physical examinations. Prospective inductees were:

Tracy W. Bissell, 832 Homewood Ave.; Douglas J. Pitts, 1210 E. 3rd St., and Garry J. Shasteen, 2107 Oak St., all of Salem; Mark E. Baughman, 165 Pennsylvania Ave., East Liverpool; Richard L. Whittington, East Liverpool RD 3; Barry L. Whitaker, Maple Hill, Salineville; Melvin J. Van Fossan, Leetonia RD 1; Gary L. May, East Palestine; Jeffrey J. Dorrance, N. Market St., Lisbon; Kenneth R. Votaw, Lisbon RD 4.

Musical Director Of Church Honored At Surprise Event

A surprise reception was held Sunday night honoring the years of service of Mrs. Walter (Stella) Flowers, director of music at the First Christian Church in New Manchester.

In addition to conducting the chancel Choir and various youth choirs through the years, Mrs. Flowers has participated actively in other church functions and community, club and school affairs. She has been pianist for the church for 34 years.

A DAUGHTER of Mrs. Elizabeth Ulbright and the late Charles Ulbright, Mrs. Flowers was born in MacDonald, Pa. and reared in Hancock County, W. Va. She began attending the First Christian Church in 1928 when the Rev. Paul Hobensack was minister.

Mr. and Mrs. Flowers, who reside on Rt. 8, New Cumberland RD 1, are the parents of three sons — Edwin and Ronald, also of New Cumberland RD 1, and Dales of Phoenix, Ariz., and eight grandchildren. Mr. Flowers is a retired postman.

Also interested in music, Mrs. Flowers has given piano lessons in her home for 20 years.

The commemorative service, an old - fashioned hymn sing, was led by Richard Cameron. Mrs. Flowers was accompanist. The Rev. H. Robert Rowe, present minister, gave the invocation and Mrs. Paul Huff a reading.

Edwin Flowers presented his mother with a corsage of pink rosebuds and gave her a bulletin of the service, which was the first she knew of the event.

SPECIAL numbers were presented by Ray Mitchell, Bobby Reed and Don Lamp, by Mrs. Kathryn Carson, by Ted Cunningham and by the Chancel Choir.

Mrs. Earl Priest presented Mrs. Flowers with a gift from the Golden Rule Class, which sponsored the event of which Mrs. Flowers is a longtime member and one-time teacher.

A contribution toward an organ for the church was made in Mrs. Flowers' name by her three sons and their families.

A reception followed in the church social rooms. The table was centered by a bouquet from the Dale Flowers family. In front of this was a piano-shaped cake.

Refreshments were served by members of the Golden Rule Class: Mrs. Earl Priest, Mrs. Ruth Lohr, Mrs. Clarence Robb and Mrs. Paul Huff, assisted by Mrs. Richard Cameron and Mrs. Edmund Cotherman. Mrs. George Arehart was in charge of the guest book.

Special messages were received from Mrs. Douglas Gregory (Gracie Huff), Mrs. Paul Madsen (Dottie Arehart) and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Flowers, who could not attend.

The vote was:

Brenda	10,880
Griffith	10,631
Crow	6,009
Owen	4,630

Tompos received 12,079 votes from Hancock County in his bid for the First Senatorial seat while Republican Willis Andrew Baldwin of Follansbee was given 5,282 Hancock votes.

Driver Charged In Area Mishap

SALINEVILLE — An 83-year-old Salineville area resident was cited for improper backing Tuesday when his 1953 auto struck another vehicle on Route 39 in the East End.

Edward R. Garren of Salineville RD 2 was cited by Chief of Police Gordon Sweeney when his auto struck a 1962 sedan operated by Odean Marie Gouge, 20, of Salineville RD 2 as Garren was backing out of a driveway at his home.

A charge of failure to stop within an assured clear distance was filed against Harold W. Twaddle, 36, of Salineville RD 2 after his westbound 1969 station wagon struck the rear of a 1961 auto operated by Sheldon Morrow, 70, of W. Main St. Monday at 7:15 p.m. as Morrow halted to make a left turn into a driveway along W. Main St.

The International Bridge, Tunnel and Turnpike Assn. Inc. says the increase of traffic on the Benicia - Martinez Bridge in California is the highest of any toll facility in the world. The second quarter of 1968 shows 1,880,727 crossings compared with 1,303,272 for the same period of 1967, a 44.3 per cent increase in use. Second highest traffic growth rate was on the San Mateo - Hayward Bridge in California with 25.9 per cent, just ahead of Portugal's Salazar Bridge with 25.3 per cent.

Bond Backfires, New Hearing Due In Lisbon Case

LISBON — Police said a bond check given Saturday night by George Faloba of Lisbon RD 3 proved worthless and they had him placed in custody last night.

Faloba was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol and his wife Eileen with intoxication. He gave a check to cover a $300 bond for himself and a $50 bond for Mrs. Faloba.

He was released last night when a bondsman put up the money. Police said Faloba secured an attorney and was granted a continuance of the hearing. They said he requested a jury trial and the case may be transferred from mayor's court to County Southwest Court here.

Two drivers involved in traffic mishaps last weekend forfeited $15 appearance bonds in mayor's court last night. They were Daniel R. Rota, 26, Pittsburgh, failure to stop in an assured clear distance, and Sylvanus Lipscomb, 71, Lisbon RD 4, improper left turn.

David Wamsley, 24, of Smiths Ferry RD 1, charged with an improper right turn Friday after his tractor-trailer squeezed a car against a utility pole on the Square, pleaded no contest. Mayor Clyde B. Pike found him not guilty and dismissed the case.

The number of parks in the National Park System is now 35, with the newest being Redwood National Park, North Cascades National Park, National Wild and Scenic Rivers System and National Trails System. The country's scenic rivers and historic trails are under federal protection for the first time.

3 Drivers Are Fined In Traffic Violations

LISBON — Three drivers were fined by Judge J. L. MacDonald Tuesday in Columbiana County Southwest Court.

They were Roy R. Sanor, Hanoverton RD, left of center, and Richard Hoopes, Salem RD 2, speeding, $15 and costs each, and Vicky L. Ridgway, Lisbon RD 4, speeding, $10 and costs.

Forfeiting appearance bonds were Walter L. Lautzenheizer, Damascus, 890 pounds overload; Ernest L. Leeth, Greenfield, 1,580 pounds overload, and Kenneth L. Noble, Wilmington, Del., speeding, $30 each, and Louis R. Joy, Wellsville RD, failure to yield to oncoming traffic, $20.

Man, 102, A Veteran At Voting

ROMANCE, W.Va. (AP) — Jenkins "Jink" Jones, 102, cast his ballot for president Tuesday for the 20th time.

Jones, a resident of this hamlet north of Charleston, said he has been a Democrat since he first voted, in the 1888 presidential contest. He has not missed a presidential election since, he said.

He voted for Grover Cleveland then, and Hubert H. Humphrey Tuesday.

ABOUT SHINGLES

(HERPES ZOSTER)

Shingles is a virus infection attacking the nerves. Usually it is a "one sided" disease, since nerves branching out of the spinal cord spread out on each side. It is characterized by a vesicular eruption and severe neuralgic pains arising in the affected nerve root ganglia.

Shingles are more frequent in males and while it may happen to anyone, it is more common after 50. After about the fifth day the eruptions usually dry up and scab. A painful neuralgia may last for years. Diagnosis is difficult in the preeruptive stage. A physician is needed.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

Griffith	10,631
Crow	6,009
Owen	4,630

Tompos received 12,079 votes from Hancock County in his bid for the First Senatorial seat while Republican Willis Andrew Baldwin of Follansbee was given 5,282 Hancock votes.

Driver Charged In Area Mishap

SALINEVILLE — An 83-year-old Salineville area resident was cited for improper backing Tuesday when his 1953 auto struck another vehicle on Route 39 in the East End.

Edward R. Garren of Salineville RD 2 was cited by Chief of Police Gordon Sweeney when his auto struck a 1962 sedan operated by Odean Marie Gouge, 20, of Salineville RD 2 as Garren was backing out of a driveway at his home.

A charge of failure to stop within an assured clear distance was filed against Harold W. Twaddle, 36, of Salineville RD 2 after his westbound 1969 station wagon struck the rear of a 1961 auto operated by Sheldon Morrow, 70, of W. Main St. Monday at 7:15 p.m. as Morrow halted to make a left turn into a driveway along W. Main St.

The International Bridge, Tunnel and Turnpike Assn. Inc. says the increase of traffic on the Benicia - Martinez Bridge in California is the highest of any toll facility in the world. The second quarter of 1968 shows 1,880,727 crossings compared with 1,303,272 for the same period of 1967, a 44.3 per cent increase in use. Second highest traffic growth rate was on the San Mateo - Hayward Bridge in California with 25.9 per cent, just ahead of Portugal's Salazar Bridge with 25.3 per cent.

Bond Backfires, New Hearing Due In Lisbon Case

LISBON — Police said a bond check given Saturday night by George Faloba of Lisbon RD 3 proved worthless and they had him placed in custody last night.

Faloba was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol and his wife Eileen with intoxication. He gave a check to cover a $300 bond for himself and a $50 bond for Mrs. Faloba.

He was released last night when a bondsman put up the money. Police said Faloba secured an attorney and was granted a continuance of the hearing. They said he requested a jury trial and the case may be transferred from mayor's court to County Southwest Court here.

Two drivers involved in traffic mishaps last weekend forfeited $15 appearance bonds in mayor's court last night. They were Daniel R. Rota, 26, Pittsburgh, failure to stop in an assured clear distance, and Sylvanus Lipscomb, 71, Lisbon RD 4, improper left turn.

David Wamsley, 24, of Smiths Ferry RD 1, charged with an improper right turn Friday after his tractor-trailer squeezed a car against a utility pole on the Square, pleaded no contest. Mayor Clyde B. Pike found him not guilty and dismissed the case.

The number of parks in the National Park System is now 35, with the newest being Redwood National Park, North Cascades National Park, National Wild and Scenic Rivers System and National Trails System. The country's scenic rivers and historic trails are under federal protection for the first time.

3 Drivers Are Fined In Traffic Violations

LISBON — Three drivers were fined by Judge J. L. MacDonald Tuesday in Columbiana County Southwest Court.

They were Roy R. Sanor, Hanoverton RD, left of center, and Richard Hoopes, Salem RD 2, speeding, $15 and costs each, and Vicky L. Ridgway, Lisbon RD 4, speeding, $10 and costs.

Forfeiting appearance bonds were Walter L. Lautzenheizer, Damascus, 890 pounds overload; Ernest L. Leeth, Greenfield, 1,580 pounds overload, and Kenneth L. Noble, Wilmington, Del., speeding, $30 each, and Louis R. Joy, Wellsville RD, failure to yield to oncoming traffic, $20.

ABOUT SHINGLES
(HERPES ZOSTER)

Shingles is a virus infection attacking the nerves. Usually it is a "one sided" disease, since nerves branching out of the spinal cord spread out on each side. It is characterized by a vescular eruption and severe neuralgic pains arising in the affected nerve root ganglia.

Shingles are more frequent in males and while it may happen to anyone, it is more common after 50. After about the fifth day the eruptions usually dry up and scab. A painful neuralgia may last for years. Diagnosis is difficult in the pre-eruptive stage. A physician is needed.

HAVE YOU A QUESTION?

QUESTION:
"Do families actually discuss funeral details before death occurs?"

ANSWER:
During the last few years an increasing number of families have discussed arrangements in advance of need. There are many advantages in knowing what to do before the need arises.

Dump Problem Reviewed By Wellsville Councilmen

Further study of the need to improve Wellsville's city dump or find a new dumping facility was discussed by Council Tuesday night.

Councilman Paul Todd, chairman of the refuse committee, reported that County Sanitarian Harry Stockdale had indicated the Ohio Health Department has not changed its directive that the dump should be closed because it has not met required standards.

TODD SAID he believes the cost of improving and maintaining the dump to meet the state standards would be prohibitive and that the advice of a qualified engineer would be required before the city could proceed with any project related to the dump.

Todd agreed to seek a meeting of his committee and East Liverpool officials concerning possible use of facilities elsewhere.

Councilman Russell Keefer, chairman of the property committee, reported on a meeting with representatives of the Ohio and Columbiana County health departments. He said he had been given a book of regutions on the operation of dumps.

The proposal to improve the dump includes closing of a section, covering of the disposal area with six inches of tamped earth daily, a gate for the disposal area, obtaining of a license, stationing a man at the dump at all times and two other men part time. The dump is inspected weekly.

Keefer pointed out the city has only a limited time to prepare a plan for the dump. He also said a salary would be required for the dump man.

A REQUEST for a three-way traffic signal for the McDonald School area from Mrs. Helen Martin, president of the McDonald Parent - Teacher Association, was referred to the street and light committee.

Council authorized a purchase of a copying machine for use by city departments. Legislation is to be prepared for the purchase, expected to amount to $536.

A maximum of $125 was set for the uniform allowance for the city's two meter attendants. The finance committee is to meet with the men.

City Solicitor William Bush, asked about completion of a recodification project, said Council would have to adopt the recodified ordinances and resolutions before sending them to the publishing firm.

The Ohio Valley Gas Co. has advised city officials of adjustments in service rates, including a decrease of .67 per cent on bills after Oct. 1 and a decrease of .12 per cent on bills after Dec. 1. to Nov. 1, 1969.

Todd repeated a suggestion of last month that a city-owned building at 12th and Main Sts. be cleaned. He said he would obtain a cost estimate.

He also recommended a meeting with officials of the Tri-State Asphalt Co. concerning the dusty condition of resurfaced Riverside Ave. Councilmen Glenn Mathess commented that the street seems to be in better condition since calcium was spread, and more could be used if needed.

Clerk Wayne Rose reported on an apparent timing problem with a traffic signal at Route 45. Councilman Russell Keefer offered to notify Fire Chief Robert Lewis to suggest an inspection of the signal.

Councilmen Jack Call and Brad Phillips were absent.

Republicans Hold Margins In Assembly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Republicans apparently held on to comfortable margins in both houses of the Ohio General Assembly in Tuesday's balloting but lost at least two incumbents in each chamber, including a former congressman who had served nine terms in the Ohio Senate.

Returns filtered slowly into the Statehouse early Wednesday as a result of closely contested national and statewide races, but the GOP claimed 51 of 99 House seats with a score to be heard from and 21 of 33 in the Senate with results from four districts missing.

In the last legislature, the GOP dominated the House 62-37 and held a 23-10 margin in the upper chamber. It appeared likely the Democrats would come within 40-55 in the House and 12-21 in the Senate when the smoke cleared.

Sen. Tom V. Moorhead of Zanesville, first elected to the Senate in 1945, was the major GOP casualty in the Senate. He lost to another former congressman, Democrat Robert T. Secrest of Cambridge. The Senate clerk's office also reported, without giving vote totals, that one-term Sen. John Longsworth of Salem had lost to Douglas Applegate, three - term House member from Steubenville.

Otherwise, incumbents in the upper chamber breezed to reelection, all for four-year terms. Two had no opposition. They were GOP Sens. Tennyson Guyer of Findlay and Sen. Max H. Dennis of Wilmington.

The House GOP victims were Rep. John Harvey Weis of Lancaster, defeated by Don S. Maddux, a 28-year-old teacher, and Rep. John Harvey Weis of Lanrain who lost to former State Sen. Donald J. Pease of Oberlin. Weis had served three terms in the House and once was mayor of Lancaster.

Defeats GOP Foe In Brooklyn

Congress To Have First Negro Woman In January

NEW YORK (AP) — When Congress convenes in January, it will have in its membership for the first time a Negro woman—Shirley Chisholm, a Democrat with a capacity for confounding her male colleagues.

She defeated Republican James Farmer, former head of the Congress of Racial Equality, in the predominantly Negro Bedford-Stuyvesant district of Brooklyn. A Conservative party candidate ran third.

As an assemblywoman in the New York State legislature, Mrs. Chisholm lectured the lawmakers on their political practices, walked out of party caucuses and, more than once, brought out the less chivalrous instincts of the solons who attempted to shout her down.

"I have seen men take a course of action they did not want to take," explains Mrs. Chisholm. "One gentleman asked me, 'Shirley, do you know what fear is?' Why should I be afraid? We're all men and women, I answered. He looked at me and shook his head and walked away. Maybe I'm not a politician."

Politician or not, the wiry, articulate 43-year-old former teacher has succeeded within the labyrinth of New York's political system.

At the Democratic National Convention, she became the first Negro woman to be elected a national committeewoman — from either party—and as a legislator, her name was attached to a goodly share of successful legislation including a bill to give unemployment insurance to domestic workers.

Despite an operation for removal of a benign fibroid tumor that hospitalized her during the three weeks of the congressional campaign, she waged a strong campaign, emphasizing what she called Farmer's johnny-come-lately stance in the Bedford-Stuyvesant community.

On street corners she introduced herself as "Fighting Shirley Chisholm" and drew crowds who shouted back, "Sock it to 'em Shirley!"

Usually a picture of composure, Mrs. Chisholm occasionally allowed herself to shout back at men who argued Congress is a place for men." "It doesn't matter what you think, I'm going to win because I'm tough, baby . . ."

"All my life," she explains, "I was told never to give up, to fight for what I believe in . . . Anyone who knows anything about Shirley Chisholm knows I had a rough time."

Mrs. Chisholm was born in the Bedford-Stuyvesant district she represents and at the age of three, she and two sisters were sent to live with a grandmother in the West Indies while her parents saved money for their education.

As it turned out, Shirley Chisholm didn't need the money, she won scholarships to Brooklyn College where she graduated cum laude and then to Columbia where she received a master's degree in early childhood education.

She taught in the public schools, became an educational consultant for the Bureau of Child Welfare, and branched out into commuity activities.

After 19 years of clubhouse politics, she got the Democratic nomination for the Assembly and began the four year rise in public life that brought her to Congress.

Washington Township Turns Down Road Tax

A proposed new 2-mill levy for road purposes was rejected in Washington Township in Tuesday's general election.

The complete, unofficial returns showed:

For the Levy	364
Against Levy	482

The tax would have been in effect five years. It required a bare majority.

Salem Kills Bid To Slash Income Tax

SALEM — An attempt to repeal Salem's 1 per cent income tax rate was rejected by a 42-vote margin, according to complete but unofficial returns in Tuesday's balloting.

School district residents overwhelmingly approved renewal of a 2.5-mill operating levy for an indefinite period of time.

The vote on the income tax ordinance was:

Yes	2,968
No	3,010

Because the ordinance was submitted as an initiative petition, a "yes" vote favored returning the tax rate to a half of one per cent while a "no" vote favored retention of the existing rate.

The vote apparently ended a year-long controversy in which Mayor Dean B. Crammer twice vetoed ordinances approved by the Republican - dominated Council.

However, in May a Democratic councilman joined four Republicans to override the mayor's veto and the rate was boosted to 1 per cent on July 1.

Renewal of the school operating levy, which provides about $150,000 a year was approved by nearly 2½ to 1 margin. The vote was:

For	5,459
Against	2,231

Fairfield-Waterford's 2 Levies Win Renewal

The Fairfield - Waterford School District Tuesday voted approval of proposed renewals of two operating levies totaling 7 mills.

The tabulation on a 4-mill levy showed:

For the Levy	631
Against Levy	261

The count on a 3-mill levy was:

For the Levy	623
Against Levy	279

Both levies will provide funds for current expenses. With no cutoff date, they will be in effect "for a continuing period of time."

Pastor Assumes Reins In Resource Program

The Rev. Paul Randall will serve as acting president of the Community Resource Center until the election in January.

He replaces Thom Bell, who submitted his resignation Monday night, citing a heavy work schedule and classes at Kent State University.

Three are representing the center at a family planning conference in Akron today. They are Miss Jeannette Bell, center outreach worker; Mrs. Norman Scott, nurse, and Mrs. Jeannette Kimbrew, center secretary.

Any teens interested in helping to clean, paint and do other work on a teen-age cener within the Resource Center are asked to notify Mrs. Bea Henderson, director. She said activities for teens will begin as soon as the space is made ready.

The Kinoka Cuncil of Camp Fire Girls will conduct a public Thanksgiving service ceremonial Nov. 24 at St. Aloysius school beginning at 3 p.m. Proceeds will be used to expand the Day Care facilities, Mrs. Henderson said.

Mrs. Rose Cooper and Mrs. Lucy Jackson were named co-chairmen for an all-day sale of Christmas gifts, decorations, handmade items and baked goods, which will be held Dec. 3 from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. in the center on Pennsylvania Ave. Luncheon will be available at noon. Proceeds will be used for group projects.

Mrs. Henderson reported about 500 children attended a Halloween party held Oct. 28 in the Center by the Jayceeettes. Prizes for costumes were awarded.

The next meeting will be Dec. 2 at 7:30 p.m. in the center. Mrs. Henderson reminded that these are public meetings and interested residents are invited to attend.

Levy Defeated, Youngstown Schools To Close Nov. 27

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Youngstown city school operating levy failed at the polls Tuesday, and that city's schools will be closed from Nov. 27 until Jan. 3.

Toledo voters passed a similar school levy and prevented a city-wide teacher strike by raising salaries to the highest in the state.

Patrons of the Perry School District near Painesville approved a school levy that will permit schools to resume operations next Monday. They were closed Oct. 15 for a lack of operating funds.

The Youngstown shutdown will affect some 28,000 pupils.

The Youngstown School Board voted Oct. 20 to close the city schools if the levy failed.

The Toledo levy will make it possible to raise the teachers' salaries an average of $1,100.

Six of every 10 school districts in the state faced renewal or new operating levy issues. Early indications showed school levies also passed at Columbus, Dayton, and Cleveland.

While Toledo voters passed the school operating levy, they rejected seven city charter amendments.

Sandusky voters approved 5,340 to 3,938 a plan to fluoridate the city water system.

Early returns showed a proposal to flouridate Akron's water leading by 4,000 votes.

In Dayton, voters approved a plan to elect the city mayor directly. Presently the highest vote-getter among the city commissioners is named mayor. Daytonians rejected a proposal to raise salaries of the city commissioners. A 9-mill operating levy for Dayton schools passed by nearly 35,000 votes.

Cleveland voters passed both a 16.1-mill school operating levy and a 5.8-mill school operating levy increase. In addition they approved a $100 million anti-pollution bond; a .27 - mill increase to allow the metropolitan park system to begin operating the Cleveland Zoo; a $50 million bond issue for school construction.

But Cleveland voters rejected a $38.5 million bond issue for a new court-jail-office building;; a $5.9 million bond issue for a court building; $5 million for street improvement and $6 million for parking areas.

In Columbus voters approved a school operating levy but rejected a proposal to raise the city income tax from one per cent to 1.5 per cent.

Dump Problem Reviewed By Wellsville Councilmen

Further study of the need to improve Wellsville's city dump or find a new dumping facility was discussed by Council Tuesday night.

Councilman Paul Todd, chairman of the refuse committee, reported that County Sanitarian Harry Stockdale had indicated the Ohio Health Department has not changed its directive that the dump should be closed because it has not met required standards.

TODD SAID he believes the cost of improving and maintaining the dump to meet the state standards would be prohibitive and that the advice of a qualified engineer would be required before the city could proceed with any project related to the dump.

Todd agreed to seek a meeting of his committee and East Liverpool officials concerning possible use of facilities elsewhere.

Councilman Russell Keefer, chairman of the property committee, reported on a meeting with representatives of the Ohio and Columbiana County health departments. He said he had been given a book of regulations on the operation of dumps.

The proposal to improve the dump includes closing of a section, covering of the disposal area with six inches of tamped earth daily, a gate for the disposal area, obtaining of a license, stationing a man at the dump at all times and two other men part time. The dump is inspected weekly.

Keefer pointed out the city has only a limited time to prepare a plan for the dump. He also said a salary would be required for the dump man.

A REQUEST for a three-way traffic signal for the McDonald School area from Mrs. Helen Martin, president of the McDonald Parent - Teacher Association, was referred to the street and light committee.

Council authorized a purchase of a copying machine for use by city departments. Legislation is to be prepared for the purchase, expected to amount to $536.

A maximum of $125 was set for the uniform allowance for the city's two meter attendants. The finance committee is to meet with the men.

City Solicitor William Bush, asked about completion of a recodification project, said Council would have to adopt the recodified ordinances and resolutions before sending them to the publishing firm.

The Ohio Valley Gas Co. has advised city officials of adjustments in service rates, including a decrease of .67 per cent on bills after Oct. 1 and a decrease of .12 per cent on bills after Dec. 1. to Nov. 1, 1969.

Todd repeated a suggestion of last month that a city-owned building at 12th and Main Sts. be cleaned. He said he would obtain a cost estimate.

He also recommended a meeting with officials of the Tri-State Asphalt Co. concerning the dusty condition of resurfaced Riverside Ave. Councilmen Glenn Mathess commented that the street seems to be in better condition since calcium was spread, and more could be used if needed.

Clerk Wayne Rose reported on an apparent timing problem with a traffic signal at Route 45. Councilman Russell Keefer offered to notify Fire Chief Robert Lewis to suggest an inspection of the signal.

Councilmen Jack Call and Brad Phillips were absent.

Republicans Hold Margins In Assembly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Republicans apparently held on to comfortable margins in both houses of the Ohio General Assembly in Tuesday's balloting but lost at least two incumbents in each chamber, including a former congressman who had served nine terms in the Ohio Senate.

Returns filtered slowly into the Statehouse early Wednesday as a result of closely contested national and statewide races, but the GOP claimed 51 of 99 House seats with a score to be heard from and 21 of 33 in the Senate with results from four districts missing.

In the last legislature, the GOP dominated the House 62-37 and held a 23-10 margin in the upper chamber. It appeared likely the Democrats would come within 40-55 in the House and 12-21 in the Senate when the smoke cleared.

Sen. Tom V. Moorhead of Zanesville, first elected to the Senate in 1945, was the major GOP casualty in the Senate. He lost to another former congressman, Democrat Robert T. Secrest of Cambridge. The Senate clerk's office also reported, without giving vote totals, that one-term Sen. John Longsworth of Salem had lost to Douglas Applegate, three - term House member from Steubenville.

Otherwise, incumbents in the upper chamber breezed to re-election, all for four-year terms. Two had no opposition. They were GOP Sens. Tennyson Guyer of Findlay and Sen. Max H. Dennis of Wilmington.

The House GOP victims were Rep. John Harvey Weis of Lancaster, defeated by Don S. Maddux, a 28-year-old teacher, and Rep. John Harvey Weis of Lanrain who lost to former State Sen. Donald J. Pease of Oberlin. Weis had served three terms in the House and once was mayor of Lancaster.

Defeats GOP Foe In Brooklyn

Congress To Have First Negro Woman In January

NEW YORK (AP) — When Congress convenes in January, it will have in its membership for the first time a Negro woman—Shirley Chisholm, a Democrat with a capacity for confounding her male colleagues.

She defeated Republican James Farmer, former head of the Congress of Racial Equality, in the predominantly Negro Bedford-Stuyvesant district of Brooklyn. A Conservative party candidate ran third.

As an assemblywoman in the New York State legislature, Mrs. Chisholm lectured the lawmakers on their political practices, walked out of party caucuses and, more than once, brought out the less chivalrous instincts of the solons who attempted to shout her down.

"I have seen men take a course of action they did not want to take," explains Mrs. Chisholm. "One gentleman asked me, 'Shirley, do you know what fear is?' Why should I be afraid? We're all men and women, I answered. He looked at me and shook his head and walked away. Maybe I'm not a politician."

Politician or not, the wiry, articulate 43-year-old former teacher has succeeded within the labyrinth of New York's political system.

At the Democratic National Convention, she became the first Negro woman to be elected a national committeewoman — from either party—and as a legislator, her name was attached to a goodly share of successful legislation including a bill to give unemployment insurance to domestic workers.

Despite an operation for removal of a benign fibroid tumor that hospitalized her during the three weeks of the congressional campaign, she waged a strong campaign, emphasizing what she called Farmer's johnny-come-lately stance in the Bedford-Stuyvesant community.

On street corners she introduced herself as "Fighting Shirley Chisholm" and drew crowds who shouted back, "Sock it to 'em Shirley!"

Usually a picture of composure, Mrs. Chisholm occasionally allowed herself to shout back at men who argued Congress is a place for men." "It doesn't matter what you think, I'm going to win because I'm tough, baby . . ."

"All my life," she explains, "I was told never to give up, to fight for what I believe in . . . Anyone who knows anything about Shirley Chisholm knows I had a rough time."

Mrs. Chisholm was born in the Bedford-Stuyvesant district she represents and at the age of three, she and two sisters were sent to live with a grandmother in the West Indies while her parents saved money for their education.

As it turned out, Shirley Chisholm didn't need the money, she won scholarships to Brooklyn College where she graduated cum laude and then to Columbia where she received a master's degree in early childhood education.

She taught in the public schools, became an educational consultant for the Bureau of Child Welfare, and branched out into commuity activities.

After 19 years of clubhouse politics, she got the Democratic nomination for the Assembly and began the four year rise in public life that brought her to Congress.

Washington Township Turns Down Road Tax

A proposed new 2-mill levy for road purposes was rejected in Washington Township in Tuesday's general election.

The complete, unofficial returns showed:

For the Levy	364
Against Levy	482

The tax would have been in effect five years. It required a bare majority.

Salem Kills Bid To Slash Income Tax

SALEM — An attempt to repeal Salem's 1 per cent income tax rate was rejected by a 42-vote margin, according to complete but unofficial returns in Tuesday's balloting.

School district residents overwhelmingly approved renewal of a 2.5-mill operating levy for an indefinite period of time.

The vote on the income tax ordinance was:

Yes	2,968
No	3,010

Because the ordinance was submitted as an initiative petition, a "yes" vote favored returning the tax rate to a half of one per cent while a "no" vote favored retention of the existing rate.

The vote apparently ended a year-long controversy in which Mayor Dean B. Cranmer twice vetoed ordinances approved by the Republican - dominated Council.

However, in May a Democratic councilman joined four Republicans to override the mayor's veto and the rate was boosted to 1 per cent on July 1.

Renewal of the school operating levy, which provides about $150,000 a year was approved by nearly 2½ to 1 margin. The vote was:

For	5,459
Against	2,231

Fairfield-Waterford's 2 Levies Win Renewal

The Fairfield - Waterford School District Tuesday voted approval of proposed renewals of two operating levies totaling 7 mills.

The tabulation on a 4-mill levy showed:

For the Levy	631
Against Levy	261

The count on a 3-mill levy was:

For the Levy	623
Against Levy	279

Both levies will provide funds for current expenses. With no cutoff date, they will be in effect "for a continuing period of time."

Pastor Assumes Reins In Resource Program

The Rev. Paul Randall will serve as acting president of the Community Resource Center until the election in January.

He replaces Thom Bell, who submitted his resignation Monday night, citing a heavy work schedule and classes at Kent State University.

Three are representing the center at a family planning conference in Akron today. They are Miss Jeannette Bell, center outreach worker; Mrs. Norman Scott, nurse, and Mrs. Jeannette Kimbrew, center secretary.

Any teens interested in helping to clean, paint and do other work on a teen-age cener within the Resource Center are asked to notify Mrs. Bea Henderson, director. She said activities for teens will begin as soon as the space is made ready.

The Kinoka Cuncil of Camp Fire Girls will conduct a public Thanksgiving service ceremonial Nov. 24 at St. Aloysius school beginning at 3 p.m. Proceeds will be used to expand the Day Care facilities, Mrs. Henderson said.

Mrs. Rose Cooper and Mrs. Lucy Jackson were named co-chairmen for an all-day sale of Christmas gifts, decorations, handmade items and baked goods, which will be held Dec. 3 from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. in the center on Pennsylvania Ave. Luncheon will be available at noon. Proceeds will be used for group projects.

Mrs. Henderson reported about 500 children attended a Halloween party held Oct. 28 in the Center by the Jayceeettes. Prizes for costumes were awarded.

The next meeting will be Dec. 2 at 7:30 p.m. in the center. Mrs. Henderson reminded that these are public meetings and interested residents are invited to attend.

Levy Defeated, Youngstown Schools To Close Nov. 27

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Youngstown city school operating levy failed at the polls Tuesday, and that city's schools will be closed from Nov. 27 until Jan. 3.

Toledo voters passed a similar school levy and prevented a city-wide teacher strike by raising salaries to the highest in the state.

Patrons of the Perry School District near Painesville approved a school levy that will permit schools to resume operations next Monday. They were closed Oct. 15 for a lack of operating funds.

The Youngstown shutdown will affect some 28,000 pupils.

The Youngstown School Board voted Oct. 20 to close the city schools if the levy failed.

The Toledo levy will make it possible to raise the teachers' salaries an average of $1,100.

Six of every 10 school districts in the state faced renewal or new operating levy issues. Early indications showed school levies also passed at Columbus, Dayton, and Cleveland.

While Toledo voters passed the school operating levy, they rejected seven city charter amendments.

Sandusky voters approved 5,340 to 3,938 a plan to fluoridate the city water system.

Early returns showed a proposal to flouridate Akron's water leading by 4,000 votes.

In Dayton, voters approved a plan to elect the city mayor directly. Presently the highest vote-getter among the city commissioners is named mayor. Daytonians rejected a proposal to raise salaries of the city commissioners. A 9-mill operating levy for Dayton schools passed by nearly 35,000 votes.

Cleveland voters passed both a 16.1-mill school operating levy and a 5.8-mill school operating levy increase. In addition they approved a $100 million anti-pollution bond; a .27 - mill increase to allow the metropolitan park system to begin operating the Cleveland Zoo; a $50 million bond issue for school construction.

But Cleveland voters rejected a $38.5 million bond issue for a new court-jail-office building;; a $5.9 million bond issue for a court building; $5 million for street improvement and $6 million for parking areas.

In Columbus voters approved a school operating levy but rejected a proposal to raise the city income tax from one per cent to 1.5 per cent.

Veterans Day Plans Pushed

Final plans for the annual Veterans Day parade Monday were presented by James Cregar, president of the Veterans City Council, when American Legion Post 374 met Monday night at the post home.

A special session of the council has been set for Thursday at 7 p.m. at Post 4, Cregar said.

Three new members were obligated by Vince McGeehan, a past commander. They are James Moffett, Paul Pattison and son, William Pattison, a Vietnam veteran, who has re-enlisted and will be leaving soon for another Vietnam assignment. John E. Brooks was enrolled as a new member.

Robert Milne, post adjutant, reported that to date the membership is 235.

Densel McKinney, chairman of the "Yanks Who Gave" project, announced that a roadblock will be conducted Nov. 23.

James Wallover, service officer, reported that Jack Pollock, Paul Hanna and Charles Heasley are hospital patients, and that Peter Morris, a patient at the Veterans Hospital in Butler, was able to spend the weekend with his family.

Tom Davison, second vice commander, announced that 185 boys and girls were treated at a Halloween party last week.

Lunch was served 45. Because of Veterans Day next week, the regular meeting has been canceled, John Long, commander, announced. The next meeting will be Nov. 18.

Camp Fire Girl News

Seventy - seven members and parents attended the flyup ceremony of the Blue Bird Group of West Point Monday night at the Bryan Recreation Center in Dixonville.

Mrs. Annabel White, neighborhood coordinator, welcomed the 19 girls into the Camp Fire Girls group.

Mrs. Harriet Faulk, group organization chairman, explained the program of seven crafts.

Participating in the candle ceremonial were Mrs. Bonnie Beohm, assistant leader; Mrs. Elizabeth Fryman, a committee member, and Betty Ann Fryman, Patty Evans and Cathy Treadway, members of Camp Fire Girls Group 5.

Mrs. Rose Keuper, training chairman, was introduced.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Beohm and Mrs. Bonnie Underwood.

Title Record Set By 667 Vehicles

LISBON — Columbiana County last month titled 667 new vehicles — a record for October — compared with 461 in the same month last year.

Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey said the new vehicles had a value of $2,271,861. His office titled 468 new vehicles in September.

The title department last month issued 4,032 auto titles, 51 duplicate titles, 945 memorandums two duplicate memorandums, 1,596 notations of liens, 1,286 cancellations of liens and 1,156 acknowledgments.

Ninety - five civil cases were filed in Common Pleas Court, compared with 82 in October last year.

Stacey said he paid the state treasurer $16,267 from the collection of sales and use tax, $94,622 from the collection of the dealers' tax, $2,204 for car title fees and $907 for inspection certificates. The clerk's office paid the county treasurer $8,952 in fees collected in Common Pleas Court and the car title department.

Gall Bladders And Governors

More Mail Miscellany

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The United States has become literally a nation on wheels. Some 80 per cent of its families now own automobiles.

The next time your know-it-all neighbor starts showing off his knowledge, ask him if he can name three animals that don't have gall bladders. The odds are 999 to 1 that he won't think of the right ones—deer, elk and moose.

Your wife probably rarely has more than a couple of U.S. governors to dinner at a time. But if she should invite a group of them, here's the proper protocol; they should be ranked not by age, charm or length of time in office but by the date when their states entered the Union.

Prosperity note: For the executive who likes to keep in instant touch with business matters, there is now available a portable radio telephone he can tote in his attache case. The price? A mere $2,160—or one can be rented for $49.50 a month.

Do you suffer regularly from eyelid flutter? Psychiatric studies show this symptom is common among manic-depressive patients. In your case, however, it is probably just a sign that you suffer from insomnia and aren't gteting enough sleep.

Quotable notables: "The fundamental defect of fathers is that they want their chliden to be a credit to them."—Bertrand Russell.

Cow juice: Every time you drink a glass of milk it gives you enough energy to walk a mile or dance an hour or climb 196 steps or play cards for 3½ hours.

Ever wonder why birds avoid eating Monarch butterflies? Scientists wondered, too. Now they've found out. The bodies of the butterflies contain certain heart poisons, called cardenolides, which make them noxious and indigestible to feathered life.

Alcohol and trains don't mix safely. A study of 94 persons killed in train accidents found that 30 per cent of the drivers, and 64 per cent of the pedestrians over 15, had been drinking.

Here's why many employers prefer hiring men rather than women: the average woman office worker sticks with the job only half as long as her male counterpart.

If you want to do something to help conserve the national water supply, take a shower instead of a tub bath. Then you'll use only 25 intead of 35 gallons of water.

Ants are among the most adaptable of nature's creatures. For example, some species develop their own antifreeze in winter. They generate alcohol which enables their system to cope with sudden cold waves.

Worth remembering: "You are getting old if it takes you longer to rest up than it did to get tired."

It was Caleb C. Colton who observed, "True contentment does not depend on what we have. A tub was large enough for Diogenes, a world too little for Alexander."

Christmas Tea Set

BEAVER — The Beaver County Homemakers Christmas Tea will be held Thursday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Grace Lutheran Church in Rochester. Christmas items and gift ideas along with various other exhibits will be displayed. The Central Homemakers group will be host.

Dog Owner Fined

Robert Artrip of Rogers RD 1 was fined $25 and costs Monday by County Judge Barry Dickson on a charge of failure to obtain a dog license, filed by County Deputy Dog Warden H. J. McCall. He was found not guilty on a charge of permitting dogs to run at large.

The cocoa (cacao) tree is a native of Central and South America, grows as high as 40 feet and its mature pods resemble cucumbers and cantaloupes.

Gall Bladders And Governors

More Mail Miscellany

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The United States has become literally a nation on wheels. Some 80 per cent of its families now own automobiles.

The next time your know-it-all neighbor starts showing off his knowledge, ask him if he can name three animals that don't have gall bladders. The odds are 999 to 1 that he won't think of the right ones—deer, elk and moose.

Your wife probably rarely has more than a couple of U.S. governors to dinner at a time. But if she should invite a group of them, here's the proper protocol; they should be ranked not by age, charm or length of time in office but by the date when their states entered the Union.

Prosperity note: For the executive who likes to keep in instant touch with business matters, there is now available a portable radio telephone he can tote in his attache case. The price? A mere $2,160—or one can be rented for $49.50 a month.

Do you suffer regularly from eyelid flutter? Psychiatric studies show this symptom is common among manic-depressive patients. In your case, however, it is probably just a sign that you suffer from insomnia and aren't gteting enough sleep.

Quotable notables: "The fundamental defect of fathers is that they want their chlden to be a credit to them."—Bertrand Russell.

Cow juice: Every time you drink a glass of milk it gives you enough energy to walk a mile or dance an hour or climb 196 steps or play cards for 3½ hours.

Ever wonder why birds avoid eating Monarch butterflies? Scientists wondered, too. Now they've found out. The bodies of the butterflies contain certain heart poisons, called cardenolides, which make them noxious and indigestible to feathered life.

Alcohol and trains don't mix safely. A study of 94 persons killed in train accidents found that 30 per cent of the drivers, and 64 per cent of the pedestrians over 15, had been drinking.

Here's why many employers prefer hiring men rather than women: the average woman office worker sticks with the job only half as long as her male counterpart.

If you want to do something to help conserve the national water supply, take a shower instead of a tub bath. Then you'll use only 25 intead of 35 gallons of water.

Ants are among the most adaptable of nature's creatures. For example, some species develop their own antifreeze in winter. They generate alcohol which enables their system to cope with sudden cold waves.

Worth remembering: "You are getting old if it takes you longer to rest up than it did to get tired."

It was Caleb C. Colton who observed, "True contentment does not depend on what we have. A tub was large enough for Diogenes, a world too little for Alexander."

Christmas Tea Set

BEAVER — The Beaver County Homemakers Christmas Tea will be held Thursday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Grace Lutheran Church in Rochester. Christmas items and gift ideas along with various other exhibits will be displayed. The Central Homemakers group will be host.

Dog Owner Fined

Robert Artrip of Rogers RD 1 was fined $25 and costs Monday by County Judge Barry Dickson on a charge of failure to obtain a dog license, filed by County Deputy Dog Warden H. J. McCall. He was found not guilty on a charge of permitting dogs to run at large.

Tiger Pitcher Denny McLain Named AL 'Most Valuable'

MVP MCLAIN. Denny McLain of the Tigers, shown in action during the past season, was named the American League's most Valuable Player yesterday. (UPI Telephoto)

31-Game Winner Unanimous Pick

By LARRY PALADINO
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Denny McLain has probably said, "This is the greatest thing that ever happened to me," about a half dozen times this year.

But Tuesday, the often brash Tiger pitcher received what is perhaps the ultimate honor in baseball. He was unanimously named Most Valuable Player in the American League.

"This the greatest honor I have ever had bestowed on me," he said. "I seriously didn't think I would get it."

The 24-year-old righthander is still negotiating his 1969 contract with Tiger management and he reportedly is seeking a salary of up to $100,000. How would the MVP award affect his contract talks

"I don't think it will hurt it," he said with a laugh.

McLain achieved many honors this year. He became the first American League hurler to win 30 games and first Tiger ever to win 30. He finished the season with a 31-6 record.

He led Detroit to its first pennant since 1945 and, although Mickey Lolich became the star pitcher in the World Series, McLain won one game as the Tigers beat the St. Louis Cardinals four games to three.

Last week he was named Cy Young Award winner for being voted the best pitcher in the American League.

McLain is the first AL pitcher to win the MVP Award by a unanimous vote and the first to win it at all since Philadelphia's Bobby Shantz in 1952.

McLain was placed first on every ballot by the 20 members of the voting committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America.

The only other players in either league to get all the top votes were: Orlando Cepeda, St. Louis, 1967; Frank Robinson, Baltimore 1966; Mickey Mantle, New York Yankees, 1956; Al Rosen, Cleveland, 1953; and Hank Greenberg, Detroit, 1935.

Catcher Bill Freehan, Denny's battery mate, was runnerup in the balloting with 161 points to McLain's 280. Fourteen points were awarded for first, nine for second and so forth, down to one for 10th.

Others in the top 10 were: Ken Harrelson, Boston, 103; Willie Horton, Detroit, 102; Dave McNally, Baltimore, 78; Louis Tiant, Cleveland, 78; Dick Mcauliffe, Detroit, 71; Frank Howard, Washington, 63; Carl Yastrzemski, Boston, 50; and Mel Sttotlemyre, New York, 43.

The National League's MVP will be announced next Wednesday.

East Liverpool's Chuck Winters saw extensive action at quarterback for Pitt the first time this season in the 48-0 loss to Miami Friday night.

Winters hit six of 17 passes for 35 yards, and had three intercepted. He is the second leading passer on the squad behind sophomore Dave Havern.

LINEBACKER Bill Saul has been reactivated by the Steelers. The move came just after his brother, Ron Saul, was lost for the season to Michigan State due to an injury suffered against Ohio State. Ron and his twin brother, Rich, also a Spartan, played at Butler High along with Notre Dame All-America Terry Hanratty.

THERE IS a good article about West Virginia's Tom Woodeshick, now starring with the Philadelphia Eagles, in the current "Sporting News".

THE PHILLIES, who let Tony Gonzalez go in the expansion draft, are counting on Portsmouth's Larry Hisle to play center field next season. Hisle missed most of the 1968 season with hepatitis. A basketball star in school, Hisle is now coaching the Ohio U. extension at Portsmouth.

HARRY CARAY, colorful St. Louis Cardinal broadcaster, is hospitalized in fair condition after suffering severe injuries when hit by a car Saturday night.

THE NORTH AMERICAN Soccer League has disbanded, meaning there will be no pro soccer in the United States next year, unless on an exhibition basis. A major reason was a CBS decision not to renew its television contract with the league. Soccer, an exciting sport that is the most popular in the world, was very poorly promoted in this country.

THE PIRATES were just as bad at home as on the road in 1968. The Bucs posted 40-41 marks in both environments.

LUIS TIANT set a new Indian record with his 1.60 ERA the past season. Not only did Tiant lead the league, it was the best ERA figure posted in the American League since 1919 when Walter Johnson fashioned a 1.49 mark.

Cleveland had a 12-4 record in extra-inning games — the best in the league.

OAK GLEN'S Marv Six has moved back into the West Virginia U. starting lineup at linebacker.

Six was a starter at the beginning of the season, but was sidelined by a broken thumb, and was replaced by Tom Thayer, another Oak Glen alumnus. Thayer in turn was injured, and now Six is ready to go again.

Moundsville Site Of Game For Oak Glen

The Oak Glen - John Marshall football game, scheduled for Newell Friday night, has been shifted to Moundsville, Oak Glen principal Russ Slack announced this morning.

John Marshall is a jointure of Moundsville and Benwood Union schools and uses Moundsville as its home field. Game time is 7:30.

Oak Glen season tickets will be honored at Moundsville and if they are not used for this game they will be refunded at Oak Glen.

The reason for the move is that there has been no maintenance of the field at Newell due to the strike by Hancock County non - certificated personel.

Robinson, Moss MAC Standouts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Tailback Roland Moss of Toledo is the Mid-American Conference Back of the Week, and Ohio University linebacker Steve Robinson is the Lineman of the Week.

Moss was picked for gaining 139 yards rushing in a tough loss to Miami and also catching six passes for 89 yards.

Robinson, a junior from Bellefontaine, figured in 25 tackles in Ohio's victory over Western Michigan that kept the Bobcats unbeaten.

Carl Yastrzemski of the Boston Red Sox wasted no time in going after the 1967 American League batting title. He singled his first time up against Whitey Ford of the Yankees.

Barry Paces Oak Win

Baylor Leads Laker Win; San Diego Still 1st In West

By The Associated Press

Elgin Baylor pulled off a last-minute rescue act, but it didn't help his Los Angeles Lakers gain any ground on San Diego in the National Basketball Association's torrid Western Division race.

Baylor whipped in a 10-foot jumper at the gun to tie it, then contributed four points in overtime Tuesday night as the Lakers put down the Chicago Bulls 112-109.

Meanwhile, surprising San Diego survived a late New York rally for a 113-109 conquest in the night's only other NBA game.

That left the Rockets on top of the Western Division with a 6-3 mark, just a shade ahead of Los Angeles, 6-4.

Oakland rode a 30-point outburst by Rick Barry to a 135-116 victory over the Dallas Chaparrals in the night's only American Basketball Association match.

Baylor finished with 33 points, while Jerry Sloan had 25 for Chicago.

New York used a dunk shot by Cazzie Russell with 10 seconds lft to trim its deficit to 111-109, but San Diego's Pat Railey countered with a layup with a second to go to secure the Rockets' third straight victory.

Don Kojis led San Diego with 28 and John Block and rookie Elvin Hayes each contributed 25. Russell topped New York with 26.

Oakland, with a commanding lead in the ABA's Western Division, bulled to a 53-42 halftime command and coasted the rest of tre way to its sixth triumph in seven games. It was the second straight loss for winless Dllas.

Rookie Warren Armstrong had 22 points for the Oaks. Charles Beasley led Dallas with 17.

Mike Clark Takes Lead In Scoring

NEW YORK (AP) — The kickers finally have taken over the lead in the National Football League scoring race with Mike Clark of Dallas edging fullback Bill Brown of Minnesota, 61 points to 60.

Brown is the only nonkicker among the top 10 scorers in the latest league individual statistics released today.

Don Meredith of Dallas has moved past Bart Starr of Green Bay in the passing statistics, based on Meredith's percentage of completions, 56.9, touchdown passes, 14, percentage of interceptions, 3.6 and average gain, 8.13.

Gale Sayers' tremendous day at Green Bay, 205 yards in 24 carries, boosted the Chicago speedster's rushing total to 824 yards despite Leroy Kelly of Cleveland, who gained 174 yards against San Francisco. Kelly is second with 763 yards.

Clifton McNeil of San Francisco still is way out front in pass receiving with 48 for 676 yards, including five for 92 yards and a touchdown against the Browns.

Penn St. Picked Over Miami (Fla.)

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Anyway you look at it, Saturday's clash between unbeaten Penn State and rugged Miami, Fla., boils down to a Ted-to-Ted confrontation.

Ted Kwalick, State's tremendous tight end, will be tangling with Ted Hendricks, the Hurricanes' towering defensive end.

Kwalick, a 6-foot-4, 230-pound blocking and pass-catching marvel, saved the Nittany Lions' No. 4 national ranking last Saturday by scooping up an onside Army kickoff and rambling 53 yards for the deciding touchdown in a 28-24 victory over the Cadets.

Hendricks, a 6-foot-8, 222-pound All-American, sparked a Miami defensive charge that demolished Pitt 48-0 last Friday night.

The hunch is that Kwalick, fleet halfbacks Bob Campbell and Charlie Pittman and the nifty Nittany Lion defensive unit will prevail in a tight squeeze.

We creep into the dog days of a long season with a .716 accuracy mark on 295 correct picks, 103 bloopers and 14 standoffs, with the ties counted against us. Last week's slate was 42-13-2.

Here's the way some of the other top games around the country this weekend look from here:

Alabama over Louisiana State: LSU's Charlie McClendon, a coaching disciple of 'Bama's Bear Bryant, hasn't beaten the Master in four tries.

Purdue over Minnesota: Leroy Keyes & Co. snagged Minnesota's Rose Bowl plans last fall with a 41-12 zinger. They should win again.

Tennessee over Auburn: The Plainsmen will be a high hurdle for unbeaten Tennessee to clear. But the Vols have the perfect answer ... High hurdler Richond Flowers.

Southern California over California: Orange Juice Simpson, limited to 67 rushing yards by Oregon last week, is due to break free again.

Kansas over Oklahoma: The second "s" in Jayhawk quarterback Bob Douglass' name stands for sensational.

Texas A&M over Southern Methodist: Texas popped the SMU balloon last Saturday.

Georgia over Florida: The Bulldogs held Houston's offensive juggernaut to 10 first quarter points. Gators should be a lark for Bill Stanfill and friends.

East—Army over Boston College; Syracuse over William & Mary; Harvard over Princeton; Dartmouth over Columbia; Yale over Pennsylvania; Cornell over Brown; Holy Cross over Massachusetts.

South—Georgia Tech over Navy; Kentucky over Vanderbilt; Mississippi over Chattanooga; North Carolina State over Duke; Wake Forest over South Carolina; Virginia over North Carolina; Clemson over Maryland; Houston over Memphis State; Virginia Tech over Richmond; Florida State over Mississippi State; Tulane over Tulsa; West Virginia over the Citadel.

Midwest—Ohio State over Wisconsin; Michigan over Illinois; Michigan State over Indiana; Notre Dame over Pittsburgh; Iowa over Northwestern; Missouri over Iowa State; Nebraska over Kansas State; Colorado over Oklahoma State; Ohio University over Bowling Green; Louisville over Cincinnati; Kent State over Marshall; Miami, Ohio over Dayton.

Southwest — Arkansas over Rice; Texas over Baylor; Texas Tech over Texas Christian; West Texas State over Western Michigan; North Texas State over Texas El-Paso.

Far West—Oregon State over UCLA; Air Force over Arizona; Oregon over Washington State; Stanford over Washington; Arizona State over Utah; Utah State over Brigham Young; New Mexico State over Wichita State; San Diego State over Southern Mississppi; Idaho over San Jose State.

Led Win Over Chiefs

Lamonica Outstanding AFL Offensive Player

NEW YORK (AP) — Daryle Lamonica passed for 352 yards in less than three quarters against Kansas City Sunday, completing 18 of 32 passes, tossed for two touchdowns and ran for another himself before he was forced out of the game by a knee injury.

"I was real disappointed when I had to leave," the Oakland quarterback said. "I had my sights set on a lot more completions."

Still, the Raiders easily whipped the Chiefs 38-21, and for his performance, Lamonica was named the American Football League's offensive player of the week by The Associated Press today.

The victory moved Oakland to within one-half game of the Western Division-leading Chiefs. But the Raiders now are more concerned about Daryle's left knee, which buckled when linebacker Jim Lynch hit him midway through the third quarter.

"It's not as serious as we thought," Lamonica said. "No cartilage or ligaments were torn.

"I feel confident I'll be able to play."

But the Raiders would be a lot happier if they knew Lamonica would be ready for Denver Sunday.

Among the other offensive stars last Sunday were Jim Turner, who kicked six field goals for New York, and three runners—Cincinnati's Paul Robinson, who gained 156 yards in 21 carries; Dick Post of San Diego, 151 in 21, and Denver's Floyd Little, 147 in 30.

Bowersock Beaver Local Top Back

Jim Bowersock, who scored both touchdowns in Beaver Local's 12-0 win over Toronto, was named offensive back of the week after the coaching staff studied the films of the game.

Bowersock gained 176 yards in 21 carries.

Dave Doak was named defensive back of the week for the fifth straight week. Tackle Bob Copestick was named offensive lineman of the week and end Bill Lucas defensive lineman of the week.

Moss was picked for gaining 139 yards rushing in a tough loss to Miami and also catching six passes for 89 yards.

Robinson, a junior from Bellefontaine, figured in 25 tackles in Ohio's victory over Western Michigan that kept the Bobcats unbeaten.

Carl Yastrzemski of the Boston Red Sox wasted no time in going after the 1967 American League batting title. He singled his first time up against Whitey Ford of the Yankees.

Barry Paces Oak Win

Baylor Leads Laker Win; San Diego Still 1st In West

By The Associated Press

Elgin Baylor pulled off a last-minute rescue act, but it didn't help his Los Angeles Lakers gain any ground on San Diego in the National Basketball Association's torrid Western Division race.

Baylor whipped in a 10-foot jumper at the gun to tie it, then contributed four points in overtime Tuesday night as the Lakers put down the Chicago Bulls 112-109.

Meanwhile, surprising San Diego survived a late New York rally for a 113-109 conquest in the night's only other NBA game.

That left the Rockets on top of the Western Division with a 6-3 mark, just a shade ahead of Los Angeles, 6-4.

Oakland rode a 30-point outburst by Rick Barry to a 135-116 victory over the Dallas Chaparrals in the night's only American Basketball Association match.

Baylor finished with 33 points, while Jerry Sloan had 25 for Chicago.

New York used a dunk shot by Cazzie Russell with 10 seconds lft to trim its deficit to 111-109, but San Diego's Pat Railey countered with a layup with a second to go to secure the Rockets' third straight victory.

Don Kojis led San Diego with 28 and John Block and rookie Elvin Hayes each contributed 25. Russell topped New York with 26.

Oakland, with a commanding lead in the ABA's Western Division, bulled to a 53-42 halftime command and coasted the rest of tre way to its sixth triumph in seven games. It was the second straight loss for winless Dllas.

Rookie Warren Armstrong had 22 points for the Oaks. Charles Beasley led Dallas with 17.

Mike Clark Takes Lead In Scoring

NEW YORK (AP) — The kickers finally have taken over the lead in the National Football League scoring race with Mike Clark of Dallas edging fullback Bill Brown of Minnesota, 61 points to 60.

Brown is the only nonkicker among the top 10 scorers in the latest league individual statistics released today.

Don Meredith of Dallas has moved past Bart Starr of Green Bay in the passing statistics, based on Meredith's percentage of completions, 56.9, touchdown passes, 14, percentage of interceptions, 3.6 and average gain, 8.13.

Gale Sayers' tremendous day at Green Bay, 205 yards in 24 carries, boosted the Chicago speedster's rushing total to 824 yards despite Leroy Kelly of Cleveland, who gained 174 yards against San Francisco. Kelly is second with 763 yards.

Clifton McNeil of San Francisco still is way out front in pass receiving with 48 for 676 yards, including five for 92 yards and a touchdown against the Browns.

Penn St. Picked Over Miami (Fla.)

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Anyway you look at it, Saturday's clash between unbeaten Penn State and rugged Miami, Fla., boils down to a Ted-to-Ted confrontation.

Ted Kwalick, State's tremendous tight end, will be tangling with Ted Hendricks, the Hurricanes' towering defensive end.

Kwalick, a 6-foot-4, 230-pound blocking and pass-catching marvel, saved the Nittany Lions' No. 4 national ranking last Saturday by scooping up an onside Army kickoff and rambling 53 yards for the deciding touchdown in a 28-24 victory over the Cadets.

Hendricks, a 6-foot-8, 222-pound All-American, sparked a Miami defensive charge that demolished Pitt 48-0 last Friday night.

The hunch is that Kwalick, fleet halfbacks Bob Campbell and Charlie Pittman and the nifty Nittany Lion defensive unit will prevail in a tight squeeze.

We creep into the dog days of a long season with a .716 accuracy mark on 295 correct picks, 103 bloopers and 14 standoffs, with the ties counted against us. Last week's slate was 42-13-2.

Here's the way some of the other top games around the country this weekend look from here:

Alabama over Louisiana State: LSU's Charlie McClendon, a coaching disciple of 'Bama's Bear Bryant, hasn't beaten the Master in four tries.

Purdue over Minnesota: Leroy Keyes & Co. snagged Minnesota's Rose Bowl plans last fall with a 41-12 zinger. They should win again.

Tennessee over Auburn: The Plainsmen will be a high hurdle for unbeaten Tennessee to clear. But the Vols have the perfect answer ... High hurdler Richond Flowers.

Southern California over California: Orange Juice Simpson, limited to 67 rushing yards by Oregon last week, is due to break free again.

Kansas over Oklahoma: The second "s" in Jayhawk quarterback Bob Douglass' name stands for sensational.

Texas A&M over Southern Methodist: Texas popped the SMU balloon last Saturday.

Georgia over Florida: The Bulldogs held Houston's offensive juggernaut to 10 first quarter points. Gators should be a lark for Bill Stanfill and friends.

East—Army over Boston College; Syracuse over William & Mary; Harvard over Princeton; Dartmouth over Columbia; Yale over Pennsylvania; Cornell over Brown; Holy Cross over Massachusetts.

South—Georgia Tech over Navy; Kentucky over Vanderbilt; Mississippi over Chattanooga; North Carolina State over Duke; Wake Forest over South Carolina; Virginia over North Carolina; Clemson over Maryland; Houston over Memphis State; Virginia Tech over Richmond; Florida State over Mississippi State; Tulane over Tulsa; West Virginia over the Citadel.

Midwest—Ohio State over Wisconsin; Michigan over Illinois; Michigan State over Indiana; Notre Dame over Pittsburgh; Iowa over Northwestern; Missouri over Iowa State; Nebraska over Kansas State; Colorado over Oklahoma State; Ohio University over Bowling Green; Louisville over Cincinnati; Kent State over Marshall; Miami, Ohio over Dayton.

Southwest — Arkansas over Rice; Texas over Baylor; Texas Tech over Texas Christian; West Texas State over Western Michigan; North Texas State over Texas El-Paso.

Far West—Oregon State over UCLA; Air Force over Arizona; Oregon over Washington State; Stanford over Washington; Arizona State over Utah; Utah State over Brigham Young; New Mexico State over Wichita State; San Diego State over Southern Mississppi; Idaho over San Jose State.

Led Win Over Chiefs

Lamonica Outstanding AFL Offensive Player

NEW YORK (AP) — Daryle Lamonica passed for 352 yards in less than three quarters against Kansas City Sunday, completing 18 of 32 passes, tossed for two touchdowns and ran for another himself before he was forced out of the game by a knee injury.

"I was real disappointed when I had to leave," the Oakland quarterback said. "I had my sights set on a lot more completions."

Still, the Raiders easily whipped the Chiefs 38-21, and for his performance, Lamonica was named the American Football League's offensive player of the week by The Associated Press today.

The victory moved Oakland to within one-half game of the Western Division-leading Chiefs. But the Raiders now are more concerned about Daryle's left knee, which buckled when linebacker Jim Lynch hit him midway through the third quarter.

"It's not as serious as we thought," Lamonica said. "No cartilage or ligaments were torn.

"I feel confident I'll be able to play."

But the Raiders would be a lot happier if they knew Lamonica would be ready for Denver Sunday.

Among the other offensive stars last Sunday were Jim Turner, who kicked six field goals for New York, and three runners—Cincinnati's Paul Robinson, who gained 156 yards in 21 carries; Dick Post of San Diego, 151 in 21, and Denver's Floyd Little, 147 in 30.

Bowersock Beaver Local Top Back

Jim Bowersock, who scored both touchdowns in Beaver Local's 12-0 win over Toronto, was named offensive back of the week after the coaching staff studied the films of the game.

Bowersock gained 176 yards in 21 carries.

Dave Doak was named defensive back of the week for the fifth straight week. Tackle Bob Copestick was named offensive lineman of the week and end Bill Lucas defensive lineman of the week.

Marshall, Kent State In Battle Of Winless

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—All-winning Ohio University shoots for a perfect record in its Mid-American Conference windup Saturday against Bowling Green.

But now that the Bobcats have wrapped up a trip to the Tangerine Bowl and a share of the MAC crown, the top attraction of the week could be at the other end of the standings.

Marshall and Kent State, both 0-5 in the loop, clash at Huntington, W. Va., in what could best be described as the Futility Bowl.

The tailenders are searching for that elusvie first victory. Marshall, which opened with a tie, has lost seven straight under new Coach Perry Moss and has a winless skein of 19 games, longest in the nation.

The Golden Flashes, also directed by a new coach, Dave Puddington, have lost eight straight.

Most opposing coaches haven't made uddington feel much better by describing Kent as the best winless team in the nation. Who then is the worst?

It's been 36 years since Kent went through a season without winning a football game. And in 1932, the Golden Flashes lost five but managed two ties.

A look at the statistics might help explain why Kent and Marshall have fared so poorly. Kent is fourth in the league in total defense, Marshall is last.

The not so Thundering Herd Flashes are last.

In rushing, Kent is averaging an unbelievable 48.6 yards a game, Marshall 84. In passing, Marshall has done much better with 160 yards a game or second place in the loop. Kent has gained only 101 yards a game via the airways.

Kent has scored only three touchdowns in MAC play, Marshall seven. The Flashes routed Marshall last year, 41-2, but the West Virginians have beaten Kent three times in the last five years.

Ohio, ranked 16th in the nation with a 7-0 record, could find Bowling Green tough. The Falcons are 5-1-1 in the season.

In the others, Miami, 6-2, plays host to Dayon; Toledo, 5-2-1, is at home to Xavier and Western Michigan, 3-5, journeys to West Texas State.

The picks:

Ohio 27, Bowling Green 0; Miami 26, Dayton 7; Toledo 34, Xavier 14; West Texas 45, Western 14, and, oh yes, Marshall 13, Kent 7.

Conigliaro Attempting Comeback

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Tony Conigliaro, who made his pro debut as a pitcher Monday, enters another phase of his comeback campaign today when he starts in right field as the Boston Red Sox team meets the Cincinnati Reds in an Instructional League baseball game.

The surprise move was announced by Manager Bill Gardner after telephone consultations with the Red Sox front office in Boston. It was based on encouragement generated by Conigliaro's hitting in the game Monday and in a special hour-long drill conducted Tuesday.

The onetime slugging outfielder lined out and walked in two appearances against the Philadelphia Phillies Monday, then smacked drives all over the field and three out of it during the session Tuesday.

The 23-year-old former American League home run champion, who hasn't see any regular season action since suffering an eye injury in an Aug. 18, 1967 beaning, also went through a 45-minute fielding drill.

Ohio State To Expand To 10 Games

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State has decided to go to a 10-game football season in the future, but the first such schedule may not be until 1975.

The OSU Faculty Council gave approval Tuesday to an Athletic Council proposal to expand the schedule from nine games to 10. Two stipulations are that the first game be the season opener and be played on the road.

Ohio State is one of the few major colleges that has played a nine-game schedule in recent years. The opener has traditionally been at home, sometimes before the opening of fall quarter classes.

OSU Athletic Department officials explain that it will take some time—possibly until 1975—to get a 10-game schedule, since games are booked far in advance by all major colleges.

Torma Takes Two Firsts In Skating

Another roller skating season has started and East Liverpool's Johnny Torma has started out where he left off at the end of last saeson, when he was a state champ.

Skating at the Ardmore Roller Palace in Pittsburgh Sunday, Torma took two first places, in the Men's Novice and Men's Silver figures.

Becky Burt took a first in the girls junior figures and a third in the ladies silver figures. Cassie Densmore took a second in the ladies novice figures, Peggy Weigand took a second in the ladies silver figures and Karen Ehnatko a third in the girls juvenile figures.

Tennessee, Wisconsin Play On Tartan Turf

NEW YORK—(NEA) — Two more major colleges are playing their football games on synthetic playing surfaces.

The Universities of Tennessee and Wisconsin installed the grasslike surface on their fields during the summer. The grass is called "Tartan Turf."

AFL Teams Rushing Over 50%

NEW YORK (AP) — American Football League teams are running more and passing less, statistics showed today.

While the number of plays by both teams in a game has remained just about the same as last year, 125, the percentage of running plays has gone up from 46.7 to 51.6. In other words, teams generally are using more running than passing plays.

The strongest team against the rush is the New York Jets, who have limited their opponents to 71.8 yards a game. Houston, which plays in New York Sunday, has the stingiest pass defense, allowing 116.2 yards a game.

The Jets have the best defense over-all with 236.2 yards a game.

San Diego, meanwhile, has the best offense, averaging 423.6 yards a game. Kansas City has rushed for the most yardage, an average of 173.8, while the Chargers have passed for the most, 277.0.

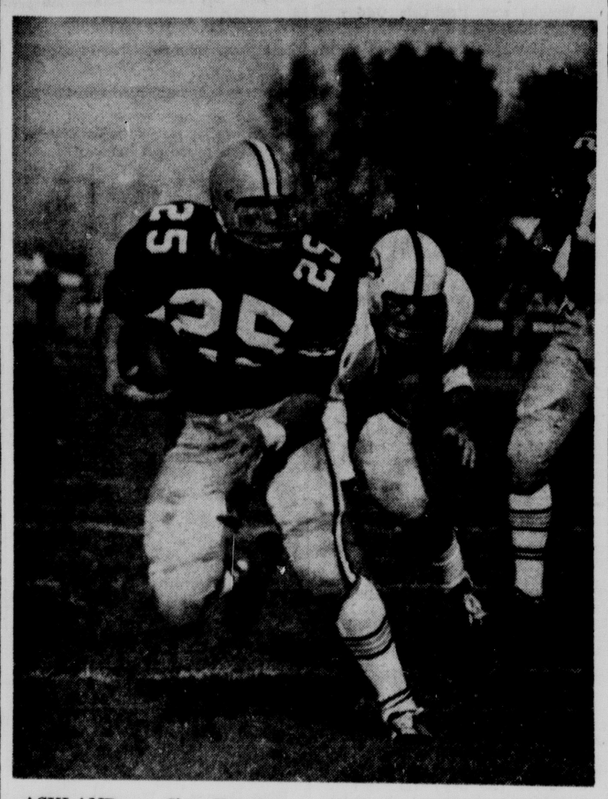
Jim Parker Gains 100 In Ashland Eagle Loss



ASHLAND — Jim Parker (25) of East Palestine enjoyed his finest game at Ashland College Saturday when he gained 100 yards in 23 carries.

His team still couldn't win, dropping a 20-12 decision to visiting Capital University before a Parents' Day crowd of 5,200 fans.

Parker, a sophomore fullback, moved into second place on the team in rushing with 387 yards on 105 carries this season. He is also the team's punter with 23 boots for a 36.6 average. Before hitting its current two-game losing streak, Ashland had gone 18 straight games without a loss.

Northside Boosters Meeting Tonight

The Northside Falcons Boosters Club will meet tonight at 8 at the Lincoln School.

Plans for the banquet will be discussed.

Ed Mantle of Carteret, N. J., who is at Syracuse working for his Master's degree and helping coach the freshman football team, posted a 3-2 record as a pitcher with Salt Lake City in the Pioneer League last summer.

Runners Dominating College Statistics

By The Associated Press

College football this season is producing some of the highest scoring in years, and the reason is not strictly due to the forward pass.

If anything, the 1968 college campaign probably will go down in the books as the year of the rushers—the fellows who move the ball on the ground.

It's almost certain that at least 16 players—compared with the 1967 record of 10—will finish the season with more than 1,000 yards rushing.

The country's leading ground gainer among major colleges is Gene Morris of West Texas State, who has piled up 1,199 yards in eight games. His closest challenger is O. J. Simpson of Southern California, who picked up 67 against Oregon last week for a total of 1,047 in six games.

Morris and Simpson also are engaged in a duel for scoring honors, each with 15 touchdowns for 90 points and the lead in this race.

Other top rushers of the year include Roland Moss of Toledo, 933 yards; Bill Enyart of Oregon State, 913; Ron Poe James of New Mexico State, 911; Steve Owens of Oklahoma, 910; Ron Johnson of Michigan, 902, and Paul Gipson of Houston, 861.

Chuck Hixson of Southern Methodist is both the country's leading passer and its total offense pace-setter. He has completed 195 of 341 passes for 2,217 yards and 12 touchdowns. He has lost ground rushing, having a total of 2,128 yards in the air and on the ground, but he has been responsible for 17 touchdowns.

Greg Cook of Cincinnati is second in overall offense, with 1,929 yards and 19 TDS. Terry Hanratty of Notre Dame is third with 1,745 yards and 14 TDS. The best punter is Bill Bell of Kansas, averaging 42.9 yards.

Shy Brothers Don't Get NFL Publicity

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Two players in the National Football League never seem to get much publicity.

They're "Shy." Literally.

Les Shy plays for the Dallas Cowboys and his brother, Don, is with the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Bob Feerick First NBA Leading Scorer

NEW YORK—(NEA) — Bob Feerick, San Francisco Warrior general manager, led the NBA in scoring in the league's first season ever. He averaged 16.3 points a game. Last season, that average would not have made the top 20.

'Paper Lion' Casts Athletes As Selves

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Vince Lombardi has gone "Hollywood."

The former Green Bay Packer coach, and 55 other prominent athletes, have been cast in "Paper Lion," the film version of George Plimton's best-seller about the NFL Detroit Lions.

Among others in the movie are Joe Schmidt, Alex Karras, John Gordy, Mike Lucci, Pat Studstill, Roger Brown, Frank Gifford and Sugar Ray Robinson.

Hot Rod Showed Off For Fan Doris Day

LOS ANGELES — (NEA) — Hot Rod Hundley, "color" commentator for Los Angeles Laker telecasts, remembers the time he was playing for the Lakers and spotted actress Doris Day in the crowd.

"I walked up to the foul line, turned toward Miss Day, and yelled, "This one's for you, Doris, baby.' Then I calmly hooked the ball through the basket. It was impressive"

Cunningham, Clark Hit Milestones

No individual leaders changed in the East Liverpool Potter football statistics this week, as Dan Cunningham hit the 1,000 yard mark in passing and Nelson Clark hit the 500 yard mark in rushing.

Steve Williams moved into second place in rushing, but is 114 yards behind Clark with one game left. Cunningham moved into second place in scoring, six points back of Jim Musuraca.

Tom Chambers, idled by an injury, retained his receiving lead by a slim margin. Musuraca has the same number of catches as Chambers, but has 30 less yards. John Johnson is one catch and 33 yards behind Chambers.

Cunningham has the total offense and passing sewed up.

In team statistics, the opponents have completed one more pass than the Potters, but have attempted 18 more, have had five more intercepted and have gained 69 less yards. The Potters still have a better than 2-1 margin in rushing.

Trumpeter Al Hirt Saints' Cheerleader

NEW ORLEANS — (NEA)—The New Orleans Saints of the NFL have been getting some sideline help from Al Hirt.

The bearded trumpeter never misses a Saints' home game and comes equipped with trumpet and microphone. During breaks in the action, he entertains the crowd with such well-known classics as, "Get That Ball," and "Go, Saints, Go."

Gainesway Farm, breeder of 1966 Hambletonian winner Kerry Way, is a 600-acre tract which includes part of the former C. V. Whitney breeding establishment on Versailles Pike in Lexington, Ky. It is owned by John R. Gaines whose father and grandfather sought to win the Hambletonian.

Miami's annual International Boat Show is set for Feb. 21-26 in Miami Beach's Convention Hall.

NOBLE BIRD, the golden eagle, is listed as one of a species that is vanishing faster than any other. The New York Zoological Society has expressed concern about the declining number of birds of prey, such as eagles, falcons and vultures.

Rattlesnake Hunter

NORMAN, Okla.—(NEA) — Joe Pearce, defensive halfback at Oklahoma, has an unusual hobby. He hunts rattlesnakes.

"I got my first one last spring," he says. "Went on a hunt near my home town of Olney, Texas. I stood all around 'em and didn't get bit. As long as you know where they are, you're O.K.

"Just don't lose track of 'em."

Lolich Pinch-Hits For Singer Patti Page

DETROIT—(NEA) — Mickey Lolich a pinch-hitter?

Right. The World Series star turned-vocalist was a last-minute pinch - hitter for Patti Page when the singing star was forced to bow out of a scheduled appearance at a Detroit supper club.

Runners Dominating College Statistics

By The Associated Press

College football this season is producing some of the highest scoring in years, and the reason is not strictly due to the forward pass.

If anything, the 1968 college campaign probably will go down in the books as the year of the rushers—the fellows who move the ball on the ground.

It's almost certain that at least 16 players—compared with the 1967 record of 10—will finish the season with more than 1,000 yards rushing.

The country's leading ground gainer among major colleges is Gene Morris of West Texas State, who has piled up 1,199 yards in eight games. His closest challenger is O. J. Simpson of Southern California, who picked up 67 against Oregon last week for a total of 1,047 in six games.

Morris and Simpson also are engaged in a duel for scoring honors, each with 15 touchdowns for 90 points and the lead in this race.

Other top rushers of the year include Roland Moss of Toledo, 933 yards; Bill Enyart of Oregon State, 913; Ron Poe James of New Mexico State, 911; Steve Owens of Oklahoma, 910; Ron Johnson of Michigan, 902, and Paul Gipson of Houston, 861.

Chuck Hixson of Southern Methodist is both the country's leading passer and its total offense pace-setter. He has completed 195 of 341 passes for 2,217 yards and 12 touchdowns. He has lost ground rushing, having a total of 2,128 yards in the air and on the ground, but he has been responsible for 17 touchdowns.

Greg Cook of Cincinnati is second in overall offense, with 1,929 yards and 19 TDS. Terry Hanratty of Notre Dame is third with 1,745 yards and 14 TDS. The best punter is Bill Bell of Kansas, averaging 42.9 yards.

'Paper Lion' Casts Athletes As Selves

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Vince Lombardi has gone "Hollywood."

The former Green Bay Packer coach, and 55 other prominent athletes, have been cast in "Paper Lion," the film version of George Plimton's best-seller about the NFL Detroit Lions.

Among others in the movie are Joe Schmidt, Alex Karras, John Gordy, Mike Lucci, Pat Studstill, Roger Brown, Frank Gifford and Sugar Ray Robinson.

Hot Rod Showed Off For Fan Doris Day

LOS ANGELES — (NEA) — Hot Rod Hundley, "color" commentator for Los Angeles Laker telecasts, remembers the time he was playing for the Lakers and spotted actress Doris Day in the crowd.

"I walked up to the foul line, turned toward Miss Day, and yelled, "This one's for you, Doris, baby.' Then I calmly hooked the ball through the basket. It was impressive"

Cunningham, Clark Hit Milestones

No individual leaders changed in the East Liverpool Potter football statistics this week, as Dan Cunningham hit the 1,000 yard mark in passing and Nelson Clark hit the 500 yard mark in rushing.

Steve Williams moved into second place in rushing, but is 114 yards behind Clark with one game left. Cunningham moved into second place in scoring, six points back of Jim Musuraca.

Tom Chambers, idled by an injury, retained his receiving lead by a slim margin. Musuraca has the same number of catches as Chambers, but has 30 less yards. John Johnson is one catch and 33 yards behind Chambers.

Cunningham has the total offense and passing sewed up.

In team statistics, the opponents have completed one more pass than the Potters, but have attempted 18 more, have had five more intercepted and have gained 69 less yards. The Potters still have a better than 2-1 margin in rushing.

Trumpeter Al Hirt Saints' Cheerleader

NEW ORLEANS — (NEA)—The New Orleans Saints of the NFL have been getting some sideline help from Al Hirt.

The bearded trumpeter never misses a Saints' home game and comes equipped with trumpet and microphone. During breaks in the action, he entertains the crowd with such well-known classics as, "Get That Ball," and "Go, Saints, Go."

Gainesway Farm, breeder of 1966 Hambletonian winner Kerry Way, is a 600-acre tract which includes part of the former C. V. Whitney breeding establishment on Versailles Pike in Lexington, Ky. It is owned by John R. Gaines whose father and grandfather sought to win the Hambletonian.

Miami's annual International Boat Show is set for Feb. 21-26 in Miami Beach's Convention Hall.

NOBLE BIRD, the golden eagle, is listed as one of a species that is vanishing faster than any other. The New York Zoological Society has expressed concern about the declining number of birds of prey, such as eagles, falcons and vultures.

Rattlesnake Hunter

NORMAN, Okla.—(NEA) — Joe Pearce, defensive halfback at Oklahoma, has an unusual hobby. He hunts rattlesnakes.

"I got my first one last spring," he says. "Went on a hunt near my home town of Olney, Texas. I stood all around 'em and didn't get bit. As long as you know where they are, you're O.K.

"Just don't lose track of 'em."

Lolich Pinch-Hits For Singer Patti Page

DETROIT—(NEA) — Mickey Lolich a pinch-hitter?

Right. The World Series star turned-vocalist was a last-minute pinch - hitter for Patti Page when the singing star was forced to bow out of a scheduled appearance at a Detroit supper club.

For cooks that know all about turkeys . . . and especially for those who don't. You can count on a BUTTERBALL turkey to be perfect every time. Naturally juicy. With a perfection of tenderness and flavor. Swift's special breeding and feeding makes it rounder and meatier, too, with an extra measure of delicate white meat. So buy a BUTTERBALL and relax. It'll turn out perfect no matter how you cook it — open or covered pan. Which is why cooks who know all about turkeys choose BUTTERBALL (and especially why cooks who don't, do).

Butterball Turkeys
ANY SIZE LB. 49¢

For cooks that know all about turkeys . . . and especially for those who don't. You can count on a BUTTERBALL turkey to be perfect every time. Naturally juicy. With a perfection of tenderness and flavor. Swift's special breeding and feeding makes it rounder and meatier, too, with an extra measure of delicate white meat. So buy a BUTTERBALL and relax. It'll turn out perfect no matter how you cook it — open or covered pan. Which is why cooks who know all about turkeys choose BUTTERBALL (and especially why cooks who don't, do).

we care

A&P

SELF-SERVICE, PRE-PACKAGED MEATS CAN BE A PROBLEM!

You can see the top side of the meat but not the bottom.
So you wonder.
The steak looks good, but is the bottom all bone and fat?

It's a problem...a problem we've given a lot of thought.
We think we have the answer.
We have a policy.
We put the best side down.
The side you don't see is guaranteed to be equal to or better than the side you can see.

Simple? as ABC.
Effective? No more gamble.
Fair and square? Sure because "We Care."

Is this a good reason for shopping A&P? It's one of many.

Jefferson County Bids For Appalachia Fund

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Appalachia Commission in Washington was asked Tuesday for a $732,535 grant to assist in development and construction of a multipurpose year-round recreational project in Jefferson County.

In requesting the grant, the Ohio Office of Appalachia said the proposed project would be constructed on a 1,000-acre stripmine reclamation area at a total cost of $976,714. The land was donated to the Jefferson County commissioners by the Hanna Coal Co. of Cadiz.

A full-grown lion weighs about 500 pounds, is about 3½ feet in height, and measures about 11 feet from its nose to the end of its tail.

4 U.S. Copters Lost In Combat

VC Saboteurs Blast Span Built By U.S. Engineers

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong saboteurs today blew out the three center spans of the biggest permanent bridge built by U.S. Army engineers in Vietnam, but the American Command said it expected traffic to be moving over a pontoon bridge by Thursday morning.

U.S. headquarters also announced the loss of four American helicopters in combat Monday and Tuesday, with one American killed and six wounded. Three of the choppers were shot down by enemy gunners along the jungle invasion routes northwest of Saigon. This raised to 914 the total of U.S. helicopters shot down during the war.

A military spokesman said frogmen apparently floated a massive charge beneath the heavily guarded 1,000-foot Phu Cuong Bridge just before dawn. About 180 feet of the bridge was blown out, but there was no report of casualties.

The bridge, 18 miles north of Saigon was one of the busiest in the nation, handling supply traffic for two U.S. divisions northwest of the capital.

Completed last June, the bridge was the pride of the U.S. Army engineers. It floated on piles driven almost 300 feet into the silt, and special protection against floating mines or frogmen was built around the piles.

In the air war, U.S. Air Force and Navy fighter-bombers streaked to within two miles of the Cambodian border and set off a massive chain of explosions in a Communist ammunition dump filled with rockets and mortars, military spokesmen reported today.

More than 10 bombers attacked the ammunition dump Tuesday in retaliation for heavy enemy shelling of a U.S. 4th Division base in the central highlands four days ago.

Pilots reported at least 37 secondary explosions that touched off two huge fires and sent fireballs 8,000 feet into the air.

The strikes were 15 miles west of the town of Dak To.

Several ground clashes were reported across the country, but the lull in major sustained fighting continued in its fifth week.

In the heaviest fighting reported, South Vietnamese rangers said they killed 79 Viet Cong in a day-long battle Tuesday in the Mekong Delta 64 miles southwest of Saigon. Nine rangers were killed and 30 wounded.

The fight erupted when a government battalion made a helicopter assault landing and ran into an enemy force of unknown size.

U.S. Marines clashed twice with enemy forces during sweeping operations just south of Da Nang. Eight Marines and at least three of the enemy were killed and 10 Marines were wounded.

About 30 miles north of Saigon, soldiers of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division reported killing seven Viet Cong during a reconnaissance mission. No U.S. casualties were reported.

The political front was quiet as South Vietnamese and American officials awaited the outcome of the American presidential election.

Premier Tran Van Huong told newsmen the Saigon government in a few days would make public a "new formula" for peace negotiations it considers acceptable. Although he gave no details, he said it would not compromise South Vietnam's vital interests.

"We will attend peace talks whenever we have in our hands enough sure guarantees," said Huong.

So far as could be learned there were no U.S.-Vietnamese conferences seeking to get President Nguyen Van Thieu to send a delegation to the postponed Paris peace talks. There also was no word of any high-level meeting among the South Vietnamese leaders, who apparently were waiting to see if Richard M. Nixon would be elected. The Vietnamese leaders think Nixon would support Thieu's refusal to attend a conference that gives the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front any more status than being part of North Vietnam's delegation.

The Paris peace talks had been scheduled to resume today with both the NLF and the Saigon government represented for the first time, but the United States postponed the meeting because of Thieu's refusal to send representatives.

Industrialist Seen Puerto Rico Winner

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) — Luis A. Ferre, a millionaire industrialist who wants Puerto Rico to be the 51st U.S. state, appeared early today to have been elected governor in a stunning upset of former Gov. Luis Munoz Marin's Popular Democratic party.

With only two precincts unreported, Ferre, the candidate of the New Progressive party, had a lead of 1,500 votes out of 868,000 cast in Tuesday's election for control of the commonwealth and local governments.

Ohioan Makes Human Torch Out Of Self

BLUFFTON, Ohio (AP)—William James Evans, 28, part-time instructor at Bluffton here, died Tuesday when he doused his clothes with gasoline and put a match to himself in a cornfield near an apartment building where he lived.

Allen County Coroner William E. Noble ruled death by suicide. He said Evans left a note and that friends reported he had been despondent lately.

Hussein, Guerrillas In Accord

Curfew On Amman Lifted As Confrontation Ends

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — The two-day confrontation between King Hussein and rebellious Palestinian guerrillas appeared ended today and the government lifted the curfew on Amman.

Commando sources in Damascus reported Hussein and leaders of four commando groups in Jordan had reached an agreement. They said the guerrilla leaders telephoned the news from the royal palace in Amman, but there was no immediate confirmation from Jordanian officials.

The curfew was lifted at midnight Tuesday.

Earlier Tuesday night machine-gun bursts sounded in scattered sections of the Jordanian capital but they were believed to be warnings for curfew violators. A fire broke out near a refugee camp outside Amman and was believed set by dissident commandos.

Reports varied on the casualties in Monday's fighting between the Jordanian army and one of the guerrilla groups that uses Jordan as a base for raids into Israel. Some sources said 17 persons were killed and 40 were wounded, but some diplomatic sources said more than 25 were killed and about 70 were wounded on both sides.

Jordanian authorities said earlier they had arrested the leaders of the Victory Phalanges, a splinter guerrilla group accused of starting Monday's fighting. The government accused the group of being paid agents of an unidentified foreign power whose aim was to stir up civil strife in Jordan rather than fight Israel. The foreign government was not identified.

In Jerusalem, meanwhile, Israeli Prime Minister Levi Eshkol told Parliament that Israel will never agree to any peace settlement that permits an Arab army west of the Jordan River.

In the Arab sector of Jerusalem, striking shopkeepers reopened for business after the Israeli High Court instructed Defense Minister Moshe Dyan to show cause within 30 days why his military police had seized 15 struck Arab stores last Saturday. Dayan was forbidden to seize any more stores meanwhile.

The military government seized the stores in an effort to break an Arab general strike. Other Arab merchants kept their shops closed in sympathy until the High Court acted on their appeal, which was handled by an Israeli lawyer.

Beaver Local OK's Levies

Beaver Local School District voters Tuesday gave easy victories to two proposed levy renewals.

The issues are a 2.3-mill levy for current expenses beginning with the tax year 1970 and a 1.6-mill levy, also for current expenses, starting with the tax year 1969. Both will be in effect for "a continuing period of time."

The tabulation on the 2.3-mill levy showed:

For the Levy	1,954
Against Levy	1,454

The count on the 1.6-mill proposal showed:

For the Levy	2,035
Against Levy	1,482

Wayne Township Vote Approves 1-Mill Levy

Wayne Township voters gave approval Tuesday to a new 1-mill levy to finance fire protecton.

The complete, unofficial tabulation showed:

It required only a majority vote for approval. The issue will be in effect five years.

Noted Singer Stabbed As He Performs

NEW YORK (AP) — Billy Daniels, the Negro singer who gained fame with his rendition of "That Old Black Magic," was stabbed in the back Tuesday night while performing at the Latin Quarter nightclub.

Police captured a man they identified as the assailant several minutes after the stabbing.

As 75 patrons looked on, police said, the man, also a Negro, rushed up on stage, forced Daniels to the side of the stage and stabbed him twice in the back with a switchblade knife.

Daniels, 62, was reported in satisfactory condition at Roosevelt Hospital where he remained overnight for observation.

Charged in the stabbing is Theodore Harmo, 43, of Manhattan. Police quoted him as saying Daniels "is a friend of mine and owes me money."

Police said that when they arrived at the nightclub several patrons crouched behind their chairs or held their chairs up to protect themselves.

The stabbing was not Daniels' first brush with violence.

In 1957, Daniels lost his New York City cabaret license in the aftermath of a 1955 shooting in a Harlem bottle club. Daniels pleaded guilty to criminally possessing a gun in connection with the shooting.

Three Hurt In Collision On Route 170

A Troy (N.Y.) couple residing at the Inn Town Motel and a Glenmoor area man were injured in a two-car collision on Route 170 at the St. Clair Shopping Plaza Tuesday night.

William C. Powell, 47, and his wife, Nancy, are "fair" today at City Hospital and Larry Edward Moore, 22, of Glenmoor is "satisfactory."

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Powell, driving north in a 1968 coach, attempted to make a left turn into the plaza and his car and the southbound 1966 coach of Moore collided at 7:15 p.m.

Powell suffered a back injury, his wife received possible fractured ribs and abrasions of the leg and Moore suffered a possible skull fracture.

The mishap is still under investigation, officers said.

Three Enrolled During Meeting Of Lisbon Group

LISBON — Three were enrolled into membership when the Lisbon Grange met Monday night at the hall on Route 30.

They are Kenneth Bilsky and Eleanor Bilsky and Blaine Crosser.

Fred Bates presided in the absence of Graydon Welling.

A donation was approved for the Columbiana County Welfare Department for the Christmas Gift fund for foster children.

Mrs. Roy Tolley, activity committee chairman, requested that members who have items to be included in the Vietnam package project send them to her or Mrs. James Bowles by today.

A Christmas party tentatively was set for Dec. 23. The next regular meeting will be Dec. 2 at 8 p.m.

Announcement was made that county officers' conference will be held at the Yellow Creek Grange Nov. 11.

The program was conducted by Mrs. James Lawrence, lecturer. It included a skit on Thanksgiving by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bates and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harris and their daughters, Lori, Lisa and Joyce, and a Thanksgiving quiz and guessing game.

Junior Grange met at the same time.

Mrs. Clarence Crosser, Mrs. Tolley and Mrs. Harris served lunch.

After taking a walk in the countryside north of New York City in 1844, William Cullen Bryant, the noted poet, urged that a large tract of the land be bought for public use while it was still inexpensive. The land was purchased 12 years later and is now known as Central Park.

Warning Given On False Alarms

Fire Chief Earl Flesch warned today that the Newell fire department will be forced to take appropriate action if a rash of false alarms continues.

The alarms were discussed during a meeting Monday night.

The purchase of turtle hooks was authorized for use during dragging operations. The gear will be assembled by fireman Ed Tice. The purchase of boats for use in emergencies also was discussed.

A tentative date of Dec. 20 was set for the annual community Christmas party. Jim Norris, chairman, will be assisted in the project by Flesch, Earl Talbott and Bob Duncan.

A hose laying and ladder practice session was held.

The next meeting will be Nov. 18 at 6:30 p.m.

Columbiana Issue Loses

COLUMBIANA — A $500,000 bond issue, which would have provided funds for revamping the village's sanitary sewer system, was soundly beaten by voters, who easily approved renewal of a 5.7-mill operating levy, however.

The bond issue vote was:

For	977
Against	1,307

On the school levy renewal, the balloting was:

For	1,977
Against	914

Proceeds from the bond issue would have been used for many projects in the sewage system, including construction of a new pumping station on the south side and the first section of a south side interceptor sewer.

Also included were plans for construction of part of a new interceptor sewer to service the Fairfield Ave.-Middleton Rd. area, rebuilding of the pumping station at the north end of town and the pump station in the Firestone Park area, both of which cause serious problems during rainy periods when raw sewage overflows into surrounding areas.

The bond issue also would have paid for chlorination facilities under way at the sewage treatment plant and construction of the first section of an interceptor sewer that would ultimately would serve the newly - annexed east end area.

Midland Woman Hurt In Two-Car Accident

A Midland woman received abrasions and lacerations in a two - car accident at 8:20 a.m. today in Midland.

Midland police said Mrs. Rita DiMarzio of 29 Park Pl. north was injured when her compact was struck by a car operated by Mrs. Mary Cancelli of 820 Maryland Ave.

Mrs. Cancelli told police she was unable to stop at the intersection of Maryland Ave. and Park Pl. because of the slick pavement.

The impact pushed the DiMarzio auto into a nearby fence owned by Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Schmitt of Virginia Ave., causing heavy damage.

Road Levy Approved In Franklin Township

A 2-mill road levy was renewed by Franklin Township voters by a wide margin in the general election Tuesday.

Hussein, Guerrillas In Accord

Curfew On Amman Lifted As Confrontation Ends

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — The two-day confrontation between King Hussein and rebellious Palestinian guerrillas appeared ended today and the government lifted the curfew on Amman.

Commando sources in Damascus reported Hussein and leaders of four commando groups in Jordan had reached an agreement. They said the guerrilla leaders telephoned the news from the royal palace in Amman, but there was no immediate confirmation from Jordanian officials.

The curfew was lifted at midnight Tuesday.

Earlier Tuesday night machine-gun bursts sounded in scattered sections of the Jordanian capital but they were believed to be warnings for curfew violators. A fire broke out near a refugee camp outside Amman and was believed set by dissident commandos.

Reports varied on the casualties in Monday's fighting between the Jordanian army and one of the guerrilla groups that uses Jordan as a base for raids into Israel. Some sources said 17 persons were killed and 40 were wounded, but some diplomatic sources said more than 25 were killed and about 70 were wounded on both sides.

Jordanian authorities said earlier they had arrested the leaders of the Victory Phalanges, a splinter guerrilla group accused of starting Monday's fighting. The government accused the group of being paid agents of an unidentified foreign power whose aim was to stir up civil strife in Jordan rather than fight Israel. The foreign government was not identified.

In Jerusalem, meanwhile, Israeli Prime Minister Levi Eshkol told Parliament that Israel will never agree to any peace settlement that permits an Arab army west of the Jordan River.

In the Arab sector of Jerusalem, striking shopkeepers reopened for business after the Israeli High Court instructed Defense Minister Moshe Dyan to show cause within 30 days why his military police had seized 15 struck Arab stores last Saturday. Dayan was forbidden to seize any more stores meanwhile.

The military government seized the stores in an effort to break an Arab general strike. Other Arab merchants kept their shops closed in sympathy until the High Court acted on their appeal, which was handled by an Israeli lawyer.

Noted Singer Stabbed As He Performs

NEW YORK (AP) — Billy Daniels, the Negro singer who gained fame with his rendition of "That Old Black Magic," was stabbed in the back Tuesday night while performing at the Latin Quarter nightclub.

Police captured a man they identified as the assailant several minutes after the stabbing.

As 75 patrons looked on, police said, the man, also a Negro, rushed up on stage, forced Daniels to the side of the stage and stabbed him twice in the back with a switchblade knife.

Daniels, 62, was reported in satisfactory condition at Roosevelt Hospital where he remained overnight for observation.

Charged in the stabbing is Theodore Harmo, 43, of Manhattan. Police quoted him as saying Daniels "is a friend of mine and owes me money."

Police said that when they arrived at the nightclub several patrons crouched behind their chairs or held their chairs up to protect themselves.

The stabbing was not Daniels' first brush with violence.

In 1957, Daniels lost his New York City cabaret license in the aftermath of a 1955 shooting in a Harlem bottle club. Daniels pleaded guilty to criminally possessing a gun in connection with the shooting.

Three Hurt In Collision On Route 170

A Troy (N.Y.) couple residing at the Inn Town Motel and a Glenmoor area man were injured in a two-car collision on Route 170 at the St. Clair Shopping Plaza Tuesday night.

William C. Powell, 47, and his wife, Nancy, are "fair" today at City Hospital and Larry Edward Moore, 22, of Glenmoor is "satisfactory."

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Powell, driving north in a 1968 coach, attempted to make a left turn into the plaza and his car and the southbound 1966 coach of Moore collided at 7:15 p.m.

Powell suffered a back injury, his wife received possible fractured ribs and abrasions of the leg and Moore suffered a possible skull fracture.

The mishap is still under investigation, officers said.

Three Enrolled During Meeting Of Lisbon Group

LISBON — Three were enrolled into membership when the Lisbon Grange met Monday night at the hall on Route 30.

They are Kenneth Bilsky and Eleanor Bilsky and Blaine Crosser.

Fred Bates presided in the absence of Graydon Welling.

A donation was approved for the Columbiana County Welfare Department for the Christmas Gift fund for foster children.

Mrs. Roy Tolley, activity committee chairman, requested that members who have items to be included in the Vietnam package project send them to her or Mrs. James Bowles by today.

A Christmas party tentatively was set for Dec. 23. The next regular meeting will be Dec. 2 at 8 p.m.

Announcement was made that county officers' conference will be held at the Yellow Creek Grange Nov. 11.

The program was conducted by Mrs. James Lawrence, lecturer. It included a skit on Thanksgiving by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bates and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harris and their daughters, Lori, Lisa and Joyce, and a Thanksgiving quiz and guessing game.

Junior Grange met at the same time.

Mrs. Clarence Crosser, Mrs. Tolley and Mrs. Harris served lunch.

After taking a walk in the countryside north of New York City in 1844, William Cullen Bryant, the noted poet, urged that a large tract of the land be bought for public use while it was still inexpensive. The land was purchased 12 years later and is now known as Central Park.

Homemakers Set For Annual Tea

SALEM — Mrs. Santa Claus will greet children during the Columbiana County Homemakers Council's 21st annual Christmas-at-Home Tea next Monday and Tuesday in the First United Methodist Church.

Features will include exhibits of food, decorations and gift ideas, an "Egg-O-Rama" presented by Mrs. Dorthea Vaughn, consumer information consultant for the Ohio Poultry Association, and James Marquand, area extension agent in poultry industries.

They will offer egg buying tips, receive ideas and show new egg products at 10:30, 1:30, 3, 7 and 8 daily.

Hours for the tea will be noon to 9 p.m. Monday and 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Tuesday. The public is invited.

Warning Given On False Alarms

Fire Chief Earl Flesch warned today that the Newell fire department will be forced to take appropriate action if a rash of false alarms continues.

The alarms were discussed during a meeting Monday night.

The purchase of turtle hooks was authorized for use during dragging operations. The gear will be assembled by fireman Ed Tice. The purchase of boats for use in emergencies also was discussed.

A tentative date of Dec. 20 was set for the annual community Christmas party. Jim Norris, chairman, will be assisted in the project by Flesch, Earl Talbott and Bob Duncan.

A hose laying and ladder practice session was held.

The next meeting will be Nov. 18 at 6:30 p.m.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Non-Violence And Adult TV

A funny thing happened to Paramount Television. It bought an adult antiviolent Western series and now can't sell it to any of the three major networks.

Hal Humphrey

"The Silent Gun," as it is called, tells the story of a Tombstone sheriff who "lives by his own code of nonviolence in one of the most violent of eras in Arizona territory." Bob Kane, original creator and writer of the "Batman" comic books, wrote the pilot script for "The Silent Gun."

-:-

WHEN PARAMOUNT made the deal with Kane and had a pilot script written a few months ago, the studio heads naturally thought they were answering a demand on the part of TV to cut down on all violence.

Well, wouldn't you think a nonviolent Western would sell, now that the networks are on a nonviolence kick Anyway, "The Silent Gun" didn't find a buyer. Maybe the script was no good. I don't know. But it's interesting that a hero who never uses his gun is not a salable item to a TV industry professing to purge itself of all unnecessary violence in the future.

Paramount has another series project in the works which I personally haven't much faith in. It's called "Holly Golightly" and is based on the leading character of the same name from novelist Truman Capote's "Breakfast at Tiffany's novella, which was made into the famous movie of that title with Audrey Hepburn.

THE MOVIE did a fair job of portraying Capote's slightly unhinged, freedom-loving Holly and her equally loose-moraled friends, but she'll never make it on TV — not as Capote conceived her, anyway.

I just finished rereading Capote's story, and Holly's mode of living is against all of TVs tenents. She's got to have visible means of support, for one thing, and Holly's "tips" from her escorts of the evening are not going to fall into that category.

Paramount calls its "Holly Golightly" series a "comedy." Capote's story was much more than comedy. Underneath his Holly's gay surface was really a tragic girl trying to figure out life.

THAT'S ONE of TV's troubles. It's never trying to figure out anything. It concerns itself with simple little everyday problems which were outmoded years ago by our complex civilization.

Stefanie Powers is going to play Holly in the pilot film which Paramount is shooting in partnership with ABC, and I'll bet a week's wages she'll turn out to be a cross between Doris Day and the Flying Nun and just as sophsticated.

Adult comedy just happens to be anathema to TV. Occasionally a series comes along that's a notch above the ordinary, like last season's "He and She" with Dick Benjamin and Paula Prentiss. It even had a passable rating, but CBS canceled it and bought from the same proeuction company (Talent Associates) a thing called "The Good Guys," whis is no-style piece of slapsticky nothing.

OF COURSE, it isn't easy to turn out a bright, adult comedy every week, but even when it's tried by producers the networks hover over them constantly to make sure it doesn't become too adult.

Now, violence they aren't so worried about, except insofar as it might cause them trouble with the FCC, PTA or some congressmen looking for issues. This season the networks are soft-peddling violence to assuage these groups. But next year they won't be so careful, unless the country is shocked by another political assassination.

If Paramount had been able to get "The Silent Gun" ready for the current season, it probably would have sold it. But the networks are hoping for things to be back to "normal" by the 1969-70 season.

As for Truman Capote, I'll never know why he sold the TV rights to Holly Golightly.

ANN LANDERS

Where Do Old Wives Go?

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: The Indians used to put out their old and ill and leave them to die. Elephants, when they sense the end is near instinctively go their own burial grounds. Where do old and tired wives go?

My ex-husband was a very slick operator. I was no match for him. I did not contest his divorce which was followed hastily by a marriage to a 20-year-old girl. (He was 51.) His new wife is pregnant now. He has lost 20 pounds, dyed his hair and drives a convertible.

After giving that man 30 years of my life and raising four sons, I must work to support myself. Two of our sons are married and the other two are in the service. I have wonderful friends but still there are many places an unescorted woman cannot go.

Loneliness is a horrible thing. I feel that nobody needs me and I have nothing to live for. That's why I'm asking, where do tired, old, used wives go? — HEARTSICK.

Dear Heartsick: I wish you'd have written BEFORE your husband obtained the divorce. If you had, he'd still be waiting for it and you wouldn't be working to support yourself.

Now I can only suggest that you keep yourself busy and in touch with the world. Get into work that will give you a sense of service as well as a living. Hospitals, homes for the aged and other organizations that help people are looking for paid personnel.

No one stands so tall as when he stoops to give someone less fortunate a lift. You need to be needed again. Get going.

Pesty Guests

Dear Ann: My brother and his family live about 100 miles from here. Every three or four months they drop in unexpectedly for the weekend. We never get a phone call or a postcard saying they're coming — just a knock at the door and they holler, "Surprise!"

My sister-in-law relaxes while I run after her three children (as well as our own two). The rest of the time I'm marketing, cooking, cleaning and changing beds.

Once I asked them nicely if they'd please give us a little notice so we could plan. They got mad and accused me of being inhospitable. My sister-in-law snapped, "We aren't company. We're family. I'd feel terrible if you went out of your way to do anything extra for us."

This has been going on for 10 years. We never have received an invitation to their home. They say when they move into a bigger place they'll invite us. (Their house has four bedrooms, just like ours.) How can I get a little consideration without making enemies of them? —SITTING DUCK.

Dear Ducky: If you've been letting these people barge in on you unexpectedly three or four times a year for 10 years and they never have invited you to their home even once, you must enjoy being schnooks.

I've said it before and I'll say it again. No one can impose on or take advantage of another person unless that person permits it. And you, my dear, have permitted it for 10 long years.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Washington Discloses U.S.-South Viet Split

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's plan to halt the bombing of North Vietnam and expand the Paris peace talks was threatened with indefinite delay and possible collapse last week when South Vietnam suddenly withdrew its agreement to the deal in a bid to change the terms.

The split between Washington and its South Vitnamese ally could have stalled the end of the bombing until after Tuesday's presidential election—and thus denied Democratic nominee Hubert H. Humphrey whatever political benefit he might have derived from it.

There has been some speculation here that President Nguyen Van Thieu was interested in putting off action until after the election to see wheher he might get the terms he wanted if Republican Richard M. Nixon won.

Nixon himself, who has generally supported Johnson's efforts to negtoiate an end to the bombing and advance the peace talks, said in an election eve television broadcast Monday night that "the negotiations came apart at the seams" when the Saigon government refused to participate in the talks.

Washington authorities had kept the split with South Vietnam secret. They finally disclosed details Tuesday after plans to start the expanded peace talks Wednesday collapsed. Thieu had refused to send a delegation to Paris.

His demands, which had been presented to Johnson through Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker in Saigon a week earlier, were two.

He wanted the United States to get an agreement from North Vietnam that it would deal directly with his delegation in Paris. He also wanted Hanoi to agree that a delegation of the South Vietnamese National Liberation Front (NLF) would participate in the talks only as a part of the North Vietnamese delegation.

Johnson rejected these conditions on the ground that they would produce new counter-demands by Hanoi, upset the understanding he had already reached, and deadlock negotiations indefinite.

The North Vietnamese had come to terms with him in a series of exchanges through negotiations in Paris on October 27th and 28th.

The final proposal to which they responded had been sent to them by Johnson about October 15. According to administration officials, President Thieu had approved that proposal before it was sent.

Thus on Monday, the 28th, the resident felt he was ready to end the bombing. At his request U.S Commander Gen. Creighton. W. Abrams Jr. flew back from Saigon, arriving at the White House at 2:30 a.m. Tuesday, to give his personal approval and join in a final review of military arrangements.

WASHN Vietnam split bjt

But on Tuesday, Johnson got word that Thieu and his associates were backing out of the agreement.

They declined to go through with plans to issue a joint communique with the United States on the bombing halt. Bunker asked for time to try to resolve the crisis.

Informants say that Johnson delayed his action on the bombing halt at least 24 hours. He would have acted sometime last Wednesday instead of Thursday night had the split not developed.

But new assurances offered to Thieu through Bunker that the United States intended no recognition of the Liberation Front and was not moving toward a coalition government in Saigon were unavailing.

Johnson then decided to go ahead in spite of his knowledge that the South Vientamese would not cooperate.

When he made his Thursday night announcement he said the South Vietnamese government was "free" t osend representatives to the Paris talks and that he expected the NLF would do so.

Administration officials, briefing newsmen on the negotiations which preceded Johnson's decision, played down the importance of what they called procedural questions still to be settled in connection with bringing Saigon and the NLF into the Paris sessions. They gave no indication of serious differences with Thieu over his conditions for entering the talks.

Former Pirate Hurler Wins Seat In House

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Republican Wilmer "Vinegar Bend" Mizell, a former pitcher with the St. Louis Cardinals and Pittsburgh Pirates, won a seat in the U.S. House of Representatives from North Carolina's 5th District Tuesday.

Mizell easily beat Democrat Smith Bagly, an heir to the R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. fortune.

Mizell, 37, born in Vinegar Bend, Ala., left the major leagues several years ago to become an executive of a Lexington soft drink bottling firm.

Ohio, New York Firms Consider Plan To Merge

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Leroy B. Griffith, 81, former mayor of nearby Newton Falls, died of a heart attack Tuesday at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Services will be at 1:30 p.m. Thursday at the James Funeral Home in Newton Falls.

Former Newton Falls Mayor Claimed At 81

NEW YORK (AP)—Marathon Oil Co. of Findlay, Ohio, and Cities Service Co. of New York are considering a possible merger.

The transaction would be subject to the approval of stockholders of both firms. The companies said terms of the proposed merger have not been worked out.

Marathon is an integrated oil producer, transporter, refiner and marketer. Earnings in 1967 totaled $73,858,000 on sales of $659,574,000. Maratron had assets of $977,349,000.

Cities Service is primarily a holding company owning securities of companies operating in the fields of oil, natural gas, natural gas transmission, petrochemicals, plastics, copper, plant feeds and graphic arts.

In 1967 it earned $127,836,000 on rvenues of $1,374,850,000. Assets totaled $1,828,626,000.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Non-Violence And Adult TV

A funny thing happened to Paramount Television. It bought an adult antiviolent Western series and now can't sell it to any of the three major networks.

Hal Humphrey

"The Silent Gun," as it is called, tells the story of a Tombstone sheriff who "lives by his own code of nonviolence in one of the most violent of eras in Arizona territory." Bob Kane, original creator and writer of the "Batman" comic books, wrote the pilot script for "The Silent Gun."

-:-

WHEN PARAMOUNT made the deal with Kane and had a pilot script written a few months ago, the studio heads naturally thought they were answering a demand on the part of TV to cut down on all violence.

Well, wouldn't you think a nonviolent Western would sell, now that the networks are on a nonviolence kick Anyway, "The Silent Gun" didn't find a buyer. Maybe the script was no good. I don't know. But it's interesting that a hero who never uses his gun is not a salable item to a TV industry professing to purge itself of all unnecessary violence in the future.

Paramount has another series project in the works which I personally haven't much faith in. It's called "Holly Golightly" and is based on the leading character of the same name from novelist Truman Capote's "Breakfast at Tiffany's novella, which was made into the famous movie of that title with Audrey Hepburn.

THE MOVIE did a fair job of portraying Capote's slightly unhinged, freedom-loving Holly and her equally loose-moraled friends, but she'll never make it on TV — not as Capote conceived her, anyway.

I just finished rereading Capote's story, and Holly's mode of living is against all of TV's tenents. She's got to have visible means of support, for one thing, and Holly's "tips" from her escorts of the evening are not going to fall into that category.

Paramount calls its "Holly Golightly" series a "comedy." Capote's story was much more than comedy. Underneath his Holly's gay surface was really a tragic girl trying to figure out life.

THAT'S ONE of TV's troubles. It's never trying to figure out anything. It concerns itself with simple little everyday problems which were outmoded years ago by our complex civilization.

Stefanie Powers is going to play Holly in the pilot film which Paramount is shooting in partnership with ABC, and I'll bet a week's wages she'll turn out to be a cross between Doris Day and the Flying Nun and just as sophsticated.

Adult comedy just happens to be anathema to TV. Occasionally a series comes along that's a notch above the ordinary, like last season's "He and She" with Dick Benjamin and Paula Prentiss. It even had a passable rating, but CBS canceled it and bought from the same proeuction company (Talent Associates) a thing called "The Good Guys," whis is no-style piece of slapsticky nothing.

OF COURSE, it isn't easy to turn out a bright, adult comedy every week, but even when it's tried by producers the networks hover over them constantly to make sure it doesn't become too adult.

Now, violence they aren't so worried about, except insofar as it might cause them trouble with the FCC, PTA or some congressmen looking for issues. This season the networks are soft-peddling violence to assuage these groups. But next year they won't be so careful, unless the country is shocked by another political assassination.

If Paramount had been able to get "The Silent Gun" ready for the current season, it probably would have sold it. But the networks are hoping for things to be back to "normal" by the 1969-70 season.

As for Truman Capote, I'll never know why he sold the TV rights to Holly Golightly.

Ex-Racketeer Files Habeas Corpus Writ

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Alex "Shondor" Birns, the former Cleveland numbers racketeer now serving a prison term in Marion Correctional Institution, has filed a writ of habeas corpus with U.S. District Court in Toledo.

Birns' writ cites 10 reasons why he is allegedly being held unlawfully on a bribery conviction which carries a sentence of from one to 10 years.

ANN LANDERS

Where Do Old Wives Go?

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: The Indians used to put out their old and ill and leave them to die. Elephants, when they sense the end is near instinctively go their own burial grounds. Where do old and tired wives go?

My ex-husband was a very slick operator. I was no match for him. I did not contest his divorce which was followed hastily by a marriage to a 20-year-old girl. (He was 51.) His new wife is pregnant now. He has lost 20 pounds, dyed his hair and drives a convertible.

After giving that man 30 years of my life and raising four sons, I must work to support myself. Two of our sons are married and the other two are in the service. I have wonderful friends but still there are many places an unescorted woman cannot go.

Loneliness is a horrible thing. I feel that nobody needs me and I have nothing to live for. That's why I'm asking, where do tired, old, used wives go? — HEARTSICK.

Dear Heartsick: I wish you'd have written BEFORE your husband obtained the divorce. If you had, he'd still be waiting for it and you wouldn't be working to support yourself.

Now I can only suggest that you keep yourself busy and in touch with the world. Get into work that will give you a sense of service as well as a living. Hospitals, homes for the aged and other organizations that help people are looking for paid personnel.

No one stands so tall as when he stoops to give someone less fortunate a lift. You need to be needed again. Get going.

Pesty Guests

Dear Ann: My brother and his family live about 100 miles from here. Every three or four months they drop in unexpectedly for the weekend. We never get a phone call or a postcard saying they're coming — just a knock at the door and they holler, "Surprise!"

My sister-in-law relaxes while I run after her three children (as well as our own two). The rest of the time I'm marketing, cooking, cleaning and changing beds.

Once I asked them nicely if they'd please give us a little notice so we could plan. They got mad and accused me of being inhospitable. My sister-in-law snapped, "We aren't company, We're family. I'd feel terrible if you went out of your way to do anything extra for us."

This has been going on for 10 years. We never have received an invitation to their home. They say when they move into a bigger place they'll invite us. (Their house has four bedrooms, just like ours.) How can I get a little consideration without making enemies of them? —SITTING DUCK.

Dear Ducky: If you've been letting these people barge in on you unexpectedly three or four times a year for 10 years and they never have invited you to their home even once, you must enjoy being schnooks.

I've said it before and I'll say it again. No one can impose on or take advantage of another person unless that person permits it. And you, my dear, have permitted it for 10 long years.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Washington Discloses U.S.-South Viet Split

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's plan to halt the bombing of North Vietnam and expand the Paris peace talks was threatened with indefinite delay and possible collapse last week when South Vietnam suddenly withdrew its agreement to the deal in a bid to change the terms.

The split between Washington and its South Vitnamese ally could have stalled the end of the bombing until after Tuesday's presidential election—and thus denied Democratic nominee Hubert H. Humphrey whatever political benefit he might have derived from it.

There has been some speculation here that President Nguyen Van Thieu was interested in putting off action until after the election to see whether he might get the terms he wanted if Republican Richard M. Nixon won.

Nixon himself, who has generally supported Johnson's efforts to negtoiate an end to the bombing and advance the peace talks, said in an election eve television broadcast Monday night that "the negotiations came apart at the seams" when the Saigon government refused to participate in the talks.

Washington authorities had kept the split with South Vietnam secret. They finally disclosed details Tuesday after plans to start the expanded peace talks Wednesday collapsed. Thieu had refused to send a delegation to Paris.

His demands, which had been presented to Johnson through Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker in Saigon a week earlier, were two.

He wanted the United States to get an agreement from North Vietnam that it would deal directly with his delegation in Paris. He also wanted Hanoi to agree that a delegation of the South Vietnamese National Liberation Front (NLF) would participate in the talks only as a part of the North Vietnamese delegation.

Johnson rejected these conditions on the ground that they would produce new counter-demands by Hanoi, upset the understanding he had already reached, and deadlock negotiations indefinite.

The North Vietnamese had come to terms with him in a series of exchanges through negotiations in Paris on October 27th and 28th.

The final proposal to which they responded had been sent to them by Johnson about October 15. According to administration officials, President Thieu had approved that proposal before it was sent.

Thus on Monday, the 28th, the resident felt he was ready to end the bombing. At his request U.S Commander Gen. Creighton. W. Abrams Jr. flew back from Saigon, arriving at the White House at 2:30 a.m. Tuesday, to give his personal approval and join in a final review of military arrangements.

WASHN Vietnam split bjt

But on Tuesday, Johnson got word that Thieu and his associates were backing out of the agreement.

They declined to go through with plans to issue a joint communique with the United States on the bombing halt. Bunker asked for time to try to resolve the crisis.

Informants say that Johnson delayed his action on the bombing halt at least 24 hours. He would have acted sometime last Wednesday instead of Thursday night had the split not developed.

But new assurances offered to Thieu through Bunker that the United States intended no recognition of the Liberation Front and was not moving toward a coalition government in Saigon were unavailing.

Johnson then decided to go ahead in spite of his knowledge that the South Vientamese would not cooperate.

When he made his Thursday night announcement he said the South Vietnamese government was "free" t osend representatives to the Paris talks and that he expected the NLF would do so.

Administration officials, briefing newsmen on the negotiations which preceded Johnson's decision, played down the importance of what they called procedural questions still to be settled in connection with bringing Saigon and the NLF into the Paris sessions. They gave no indication of serious differences with Thieu over his conditions for entering the talks.

Former Pirate Hurler Wins Seat In House

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Republican Wilmer "Vinegar Bend" Mizell, a former pitcher with the St. Louis Cardinals and Pittsburgh Pirates, won a seat in the U.S. House of Representatives from North Carolina's 5th District Tuesday.

Mizell easily beat Democrat Smith Bagly, an heir to the R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. fortune.

Ohio, New York Firms Consider Plan To Merge

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Leroy B. Griffith, 81, former mayor of nearby Newton Falls, died of a heart attack Tuesday at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Services will be at 1:30 p.m. Thursday at the James Funeral Home in Newton Falls.

Former Newton Falls Mayor Claimed At 81

NEW YORK (AP)—Marathon Oil Co. of Findlay, Ohio, and Cities Service Co. of New York are considering a possible merger.

The transaction would be subject to the approval of stockholders of both firms. The companies said terms of the proposed merger have not been worked out.

Marathon is an integrated oil producer, transporter, refiner and marketer. Earnings in 1967 totaled $73,858,000 on sales of $659,574,000. Maratron had assets of $977,349,000.

Cities Service is primarily a holding company owning securities of companies operating in the fields of oil, natural gas, natural gas transmission, petrochemicals, plastics, copper, plant feeds and graphic arts.

In 1967 it earned $127,836,000 on rvenues of $1,374,850,000. Assets totaled $1,828,626,000.

Wayne School Group Sets Rummage Sale

LISBON — A rummage sale was planned when the Wayne Home and School League met Monday night at the school.

It will be Dec. 5, 6 and 7 at Democratic headquarters.

Shirley Vincent, president, conducted the business session.

NOTICE OF BIDS

Sealed bids will be received by the Director of Public Service-Safety of the City of East Liverpool at his office until twelve o'clock Noon E. S. T. November 21, 1968, for a contract of lease to the City of a two - way radio system for the Police Department and for the maintenance of said equipment and replacement as needed to meet the requirements of the Federal Communications Commission as they may be changed from time to time, and according to specifications now on file in the office of the said Director.

Said contract shall be for a period of five (5) years and may include provisions for advance rentals and monthly rental payments. Said bids shall have the alternate provisions as follows:

A. Monthly rental payments, part of which shall pay for the cost of the equipment, resulting in ownership by the city at the end of the contract period.

B. Monthly rental payments resulting in no change of ownership.

Each bid must contain the full names of every person or company interested in the same and be accompanied by a certified check on some solvent bank payable to the Treasurer of the City of East Liverpool or by a bid bond in the amount of 5 per cent of the first year rental as a guaranty that if the bid is accepted, a contract will be entered into and its performance properly secured. Should any bid be rejected such will be forthwith returned to the bidder, and should any bid be accepted such check will be returned upon the proper execution and securing of the contract.

Envelopes containing bids should be marked on outside "Police Radio Bid". The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my husband, Sumner S. Van Dyke, who passed away Nov. 22, 1965. When all is still and silent, And sleep forsakes my eyes, My thoughts are in the silent grave, where my dear husband lies. I have lost my soul's companion, A life linked with my own, And day by day I miss him more, As I walk through life alone.
Wife, Etta.

Junior Editors Quiz on ARABIAN HORSES

QUESTION: How did the Arabian breed of horses get started?

* * * *

ANSWER: Horses were domesticated and bred in various ancient civilizations of Asia Minor and in India, Persia and Arabia, but it was in Arabia that horse breeding reached the highest point. Mythology credits the birth of the Arabian horse to the west wind. One can understand this myth, for the depth of chest, large girth and unusually large windpipe gives this horse remarkable speed and endurance. Moors from Africa brought the Arab breed to Spain. Later, Spaniards took these horses with them to the New World. In England, development of horse racing led to the importation of Arabian stallions to be bred with English mares. This mixture created the Thoroughbred breed, from which came the Morgan, Hambletonian and others. The Arabian is the oldest breed, and its blood flows in most of the "light horse breeds" of today. An Arabian's head is wedge shaped. The large, intelligent eyes are set low with a bulge above (1). The profile is concave (2) the muzzle small and delicate (3). A purebred Arabian has one less vertebra than other horses.

(Lynette Halsey of Pueblo, Colo., wins a prize for this question. You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)

How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

Q—How can I treat burnt marks on furniture?

A.—If not too deeply embedded, they will sometimes vanish when rubbed with your usual polish. If this fails, try using rottenstone or finely powdered pumice, mixed to a thin paste with raw or boiled linseed oil. Rub in the direction of the grain. Wipe with another cloth moistened with plain linseed oil. Repeat a number of times, if necessary, then polish.

Q.—How can I add flavor to fresh green peas?

A.—A sprig of mint added to the peas while they are cooking will enhance their flavor. And so will a teaspoonful of sugar.

Q.—How can I remove a grease spot on a wall caused by hair rubbing against it?

A.—Place a blotter over the spot and go over it with a warm iron. The heat of the iron will melt the grease enough to permit its being absorbed by the blotter.

Q.—What is the best way to cut fur?

A.—Don't attempt to use scissors when cutting fur. Instead, use a razor blade or a very sharp knife.

How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

Q—How can I treat burnt marks on furniture?

A.—If not too deeply embedded, they will sometimes vanish when rubbed with your usual polish. If this fails, try using rottenstone or finely powdered pumice, mixed to a thin paste with raw or boiled linseed oil. Rub in the direction of the grain. Wipe with another cloth moistened with plain linseed oil. Repeat a number of times, if necessary, then polish.

Q.—How can I add flavor to fresh green peas?

A.—A sprig of mint added to the peas while they are cooking will enhance their flavor. And so will a teaspoonful of sugar.

Q.—How can I remove grease spot on a wall caused by hair rubbing against it?

A.—Place a blotter over the spot and go over it with a warm iron. The heat of the iron will melt the grease enough to permit its being absorbed by the blotter.

Q.—What is the best way to cut fur?

Junior Editors Quiz on ARABIAN HORSES

QUESTION: How did the Arabian breed of horses get started?

* * * *

ANSWER: Horses were domesticated and bred in various ancient civilizations of Asia Minor and in India, Persia and Arabia, but it was in Arabia that horse breeding reached the highest point. Mythology credits the birth of the Arabian horse to the west wind. One can understand this myth, for the depth of chest, large girth and unusually large windpipe gives this horse remarkable speed and endurance. Moors from Africa brought the Arab breed to Spain. Later, Spaniards took these horses with them to the New World. In England, development of horse racing led to the importation of Arabian stallions to be bred with English mares. This mixture created the Thoroughbred breed, from which came the Morgan, Hambletonian and others. The Arabian is the oldest breed, and its blood flows in most of the "light horse breeds" of today. An Arabian's head is wedge shaped. The large, intelligent eyes are set low with a bulge above (1). The profile is concave (2) the muzzle small and delicate (3). A purebred Arabian has one less vertebra than other horses.

View Tuesday's Election

'Magnificent Victories,' Ohio Republicans Declare

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Republicans viewed Tuesday's election results as "magnificent victories."

Democrats were saying, in effect, "Wait until next time."

Officials of both parties conceded that the presence of George C. Wallace probably had some effect on the outcome.

GOP State Chairman John S. Andrews said William B. Saxbe's victory over John J. Gilligan in the U.S. Senate race was due to "Saxbe's excellent qualifications for the job, his will to win, and to the hard campaigning he had done."

He said key factors in the GOP triumph in Ohio were hard work by leaders, workers and candidates throughout the campaign.

Eugene P. O'Grady, Democratic state chairman, paid tribute to the candidates and party workers and congratulated the winners, adding:

"We look forward to giving them a better scrap the next time around."

He said Gilligan and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey "worked hard to take the issues to the people."

Complete unofficial returns in more than 13,000 polling places showed Saxbe outdistancing Gilligan 1,919,101 to 1,802,625.

Richard M. Nixon captured Ohio's prized 26 electoral votes with 1,783,734 votes to Humphrey's 1,691,505.

George Wallace of the American Independent Party polled 465,917.

Outcome of the presidential race in Ohio wasn't known until after dawn Wednesday. Although Humphrey had trailed throughout the count, supporters hoped that the late-reporting Cleveland area would put him over the top. But his margin of more than 123,000 votes there was not enough.

Analyzing the voting Wednesday, Frank King, president of the Ohio AFL-CIO, said: I think Wallace drew a little more from Humphrey than Nixon. Wallace did hurt."

But he said he doubted that Wallace cost Humphrey Ohio. "Many of the Wallace votes would have gone to Nixon anyway," King said. "They were protest votes to take out their spite."

Andrews said Wallace "hurt Nixon and Humphrey, but we just don't know how much damage he did to either one."

Saxbe told newsmen Wednesday that he will work in the Senate to seek an end to the Vietnam war and to control inflation and aid local law enforcement by establishing national training academies and assisting states in buying crime communications computers.

Saxbe, 52 - year - old Farmer-lawyer who is serving his third term as Ohio attorney general, is filling the seat being vacated by Sen. Frank J. Lausche. Gilligan defeated Lausche in the May primary.

Saxbe said he does not expect to be as conservative as Lausche has been. "The people voted for me in this state not to be conservative, they elected me to vote realistically," he said.

In other races Tuesday, Ohio elected 24 congressmen, 18 of them Republicans. Except for two races in the Cleveland area, all incumbents were returned to office.

Voters in the 22nd District ejected Frances P. Bolton, 83-year-old widow with 28 years' service in Congress, and elected Charles A. Vanik, who moved against Mrs. Bolton when his 21st District was revamped.

Two Negroes squared off for Vanik's old seat. Democrat Louis Stokes, brother of Cleveland Mayor Carl B. Stokes, won.

Republicans continued their domination of the Ohio General Assembly. They will control the Senate 21-12 and the House 64-35.

State Issue No. 1, calling for $759 million for highway and capital improvements, was approved by more than 176,000 votes. But voters rejected by more than 450,000 votes Issue No. 2, another constitutional amendment for an enabling law for a homestead exemption act.

Ohio Supreme Court Chief Kingsley A. Taft, a Republican, easily won re-election over John C. Duffy. Also winning high court seats were Republicans Thomas M. Herbert and John M. Matthias.

Attack On U.S. Omitted

Soviet Celebrates 51st Year Of Its Revolution

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Defense Minister Andrei A. Grechko omitted the usual attack on the United States today as the Soviet Union celebrated the 51st anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution with a display of missile might that included no new weapons.

In another break with tradition, Marshal Grechko in his speech at the annual Red Square ceremony made no mention of Vietnam.

The defense minister, flanked on Lenin's tomb by Soviet leaders, spoke only against "imperialists" in general, repeating the standard Soviet charge that they are "increasing tensions and creating the danger of a new world war."

Grechko did not refer to the U.S. presidential election or the Vietnam peace talks in Paris. But the departures from the usual wording of his speech seemed to indicate that the Kremlin does not want to hurt its chances of getting along with President-elect Richard M. Nixon.

They also appeared to be aimed at avoiding anything that might hamper progress toward bringing the Vietnam war to an end.

Grechko, in probably the mildest Bolshevik anniversary speech made here in many years, also refrained from attacking China or any other country by name.

His five-minute speech, always closely watched for indications of changes in Kremlin thinking, bore down heavily on the theme of Communist unity and threats to this from the West. This new emphasis was obviously linked to the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia and the dissension that caused in the Communist movement.

He never specifically referred to Czechoslovakia, and asserted that "just as in the past, the Soviet armed forces now serve not the purpose of attacking and capturing foreign territories, but of safeguarding the cause of peace, socialism, international freedom and independence."

Another Kremlin leader, Politburo member Kirill T. Mazurov said on Wednesday that the Soviet Union attaches "great importance to the normalization of relations between the Soviet Union and the United States which would be important not only to both our states but also to world peace." He declared, however, that "on the way to this goal there remain a number of serious obstacles created by aggressive manifestations of U.S. foreign policy."

These included, he said, the "poisoned atmosphere" created by the Vietnam war and U.S. attempts at "bridge-building" in East Europe.

He added that Moscow is working "for a relaxation of international tension, for removing hotbeds of military conflict and solving acute international problems by negotiation."

Mazurov spoke at the Kremlin meeting held annually on the eve of the Bolshevik Revolution anniversary.

After Grechko spoke, the annual parade of military might rolled through Red Square. It started with tanks and troop carriers and ended with three-stage intercontinental missiles more than 100 feet long, all of which have been seen many times before.

The big missiles "can bring down nuclear warheads of tremendous power upon an aggressor from any direction," the official Soviet news agency Tass boasted. "The armed forces of the U.S.S.R. have the most diverse missiles with nuclear warheads whose power attains dozens of megatons."

Body Recovered

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Fire Department life squad recovered the body of John Payne, 52, of Cincinnati from the Ohio River Wednesday near a boat dock from where he disappeared Saturday.

He was reported missing since he left a cafe on the dock.

The Love Of Freedom

Ironic as it may seem, it was America's traditional national sense of devotion to individual liberty and personal freedom that permitted "law and order" to become a battle cry during the presidential election.

The American ideal of granting the greatest degree of personal liberty to an individual, confident that he will react in a manner not detrimental to himself or his country, fails to recognize that man has weaknesses.

Ignorance, prejudice, lack of judgment, all of these can influence a man's actions. An atmosphere of pure personal freedom does not guarantee a right decision.

THE ARGUMENT has been advanced that the environment in which a decision is made is more important than the decision and its repercussions.

Practically speaking, that point is not valid because an anarchist's or a dictator's decision can affect the freedom of many others. Society, in its quest for liberty, has adopted a generally overly tolerant attitude.

It shows in parental permissiveness and court leniency. It has led to a breakdown in respect for authority and standards of acceptable behavior.

The 1968 presidential campaign signals a new trend. The love of freedom is as great as it ever was but there is new resolution that this country's freedom will thrive in a climate of justice based on law and order.

No provision is made in our system for dictatorial tactics. Authority is granted to maintain an orderly society. Citizens are expected to abide by the law which offers them a method of change if they feel it desirable.

THE NEW MOOD of the nation springs from an awakening to the phenomenon that love of freedom has spawned a monster that could destroy it.

The public became cognizant that tolerance was being viewed by some as a license to do whatever they wished. The campaign brought the matter to a head.

During the campaign, the American public made it evident it wants to be a society that discourages criminal activity and protects the law abiding.

Ordeal Well Met

As happens just about every election, someone telephoned The Review Tuesday afternoon to ask, "Who's winning?"

The average voter understands, of course no one can tell "who's winning" until the polls are closed and the ballot counting begins.

What the average voter doesn't understand very well is the amount of work, time and skill needed to properly process the vote tabulation and get the results to the correct officials and the waiting public.

The Columbiana County Board of Elections staff and poll workers have apparently measured up again to the well-established reputation of doing an excellent job of handling the ballot operation. Only the official count will indicate the accuracy of the tabulation, but the general efficiency and speed of the system was apparent Tuesday and early Wednesday, in contrast to the slow methods and limited achievements elsewhere in the nation.

Election day is generally an ordeal for the voters, candidates and those in charge of the process, but it is an ordeal well met in Columbiana County.

Job-Seekers Victims Of Do-Goodism

Unless court action by the American Newspaper Publishers Association and the Washington Star bears fruit before Dec. 1, job-seekers are going to find it more difficult to check classified advertising for job opportunities.

The U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission has ordered elimination of classified help wanted advertisements under the headings of "Male" and "Female."

The EEOC order came as a result of the feeling by commissioners that somehow the headings represent discrimination in employment.

The EEOC allows one exception to the rule. Male and female designations will be allowed when "sex is a bona fide occupational qualification for the job involved."

Who knows when that exception will be subject to varying interpretations?

It is another case of do-good federal intervension in an area where its do-goodism is going to work against the public.

The regulation will not mean that much more work for newspapers but think how tedious it will be for job-seekers to wade through hundreds of job descriptions looking for something of interest to them.

The separate listings for male and female help wanted advertisements are meant as an indication of which jobs normally appeal to one sex or the other. They are provided as a service to the job-hunter.

Should a woman wish to apply for a job listed under "Help Wanted-Male," there is nothing to keep her from doing so. The same is true of a man who is interested in an offering in the "Help Wanted-Female" column.

The unrealistic ruling is a farce and clearly will only result in inconvenience to the people seeking employment. It will have no bearing on alleged job discrimination because of sex.

Is there no limit to how far the federal government will go to make itself look ridiculous?

Good News From Lebanon

One successful research project at the American University of Beirut shows what can happen when proper motivation teams with research—even in an area beset with tension.

Lebanese farmers are getting ready for the annual task of sowing wheat—but there is a difference this year. They will be planting a new type of wheat, Najah—meaning "success"—developed in eight years of research at the American University.

NAJAH IS SIGNIFICANT because it is expected to double the wheat production of the Middle East and other low-rainfall regions of the world in a few years.

Field testing by a few Lebanese farmers started in 1966. Results have been excellent. The program now has been expanded to include all of Lebanon. The amount of the seed distributed has been carefully limited.

Demand for Najah is growing and the university has developed a barter system to prevent commercial exploitation. Bushels of Najahseed are swapped for local varieities with university people keeping strict records of every farmer growing the new wheat. The university also selects new fields for planting.

The agromony professor who developed Najah, Dr. W. W. Worzella, expects use of the seed to spread through Lebanon, Syria and Jordan in three years.

PROFESSOR WORZELLA is understandably excited about the possibilities involved in the Najah development. He says: "There are millions of arable acres of dry land in the Middle East, but only thousands of irrigated wheat-producting areas. Even a small increase in the yield of dryland wheat would mean millions of additional bushels of grain for the people of the Middle East. Irrigated land could then be used to increase the production of maize, sugar beets, alfalfa, fruit and vegetables."

In addition to the entire Middle East, the new wheat could be used in other low-rain areas of western Canada, the United States, Mexico, most of Australia, Spain, sections of Africa, Turkey, Pakistan, parts of India and large areas of Siberia and China.

Little wonder many people are excited about Najah.

We can use more of this type of news from the Middle East.

White House Memoirs

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — It is only natural, as the Johnson administration nears its end, that magazine and book publishers should be descending on the White House to sign up everybody in sight for their memoirs.

Art Buchwald

The sidewalk in front of the White House is jammed these days with editors carrying satchels of money that they have been ordered to give out in advances to anyone who can offer insights into the Johnson years. The competition for memoirs is something fierce.

As I was leaving a White House briefing the other afternoon, several editors ran up to me at the gate and shoved contracts in front of my face.

"I DON'T WORK in the White House," I explained. "I don't know any more about what went on there in the last five years than you do."

Disappointed, they turned away from me and then rushed up to a man in overalls carrying a bag of tools.

"What do you do in the executive mansion?"

"I'm an electrician," he said.

"I'll give you $10,000 to write the story of how you wired the White House," an editor shouted.

"Fifteen thousand," a book publisher yelled, "if you tell us the inside story of how President Johnson made you change all the bulbs."

"Are you crazy?" the electrician said. "I've already been offered $25,000 by Life magazine to write about the time the President blew a fuse during the Fulbright Gulf of Tonkin hearings."

"DON'T SIGN," the Look editor said, waving 35 $1,000 bills. "We'll give you this, plus a percentage, if you tell the inside story of when Johnson switched from AC to DC over Vietnam."

The electrician shook his head. "There are certain things between me and the President that I can't talk about, even after he leaves office. They're in my diary and that's where they're going to stay."

"You kept a diary?" a publisher asked.

"Sure. How else would I know where all the plugs were? That's a big house."

"I'll give you $50,000 for the diary without reading it," the publisher said.

"Gosh," the electrician shook his head. "I don't know what to say. There's some stuff in there that's very personal, like the time I put in an extension cord for the President's electric blanket when Lynda Bird decided to tell her parents about her engagement to Capt. Robb."

"I'll give you $75,000," another publisher shouted.

"What else is in the diary?" the editor of the Ladies Home Journal demanded.

"Well, there was the day when Walt Rostow was briefing the President on the Pueblo and he got so excited he stuck his finger in a socket and got a shock."

The Harper & Row editor said, "I'll bid $100,000."

The electrician looked confused. "Is it worth that much?"

"Of course. You'd be the first one to shed any light on the Pueblo incident."

"I THINK I BETTER TALK this over with my agent," the electrician said. "All these offers are bewildering. I knew my memoirs were worth something, but I didn't think they would fetch $100,000."

"Why not?" the Putnam publisher said. "You controlled the power in the White House, didn't you?"

"Now that you mention it," the electrician said, "I guess I did. What am I offered for the movie rights?"

Letter To The Editor

Moral Revolution

I am writing this letter on the evening before the national election. I just listened to the TV show, "Ask Richard Nixon" I don't know if he will be our next president, but I know that one thing he said is true, and I think it is very important.

He said something to this effect that "America needs a moral revolution." I believe he is right, because if America doesn't turn from her immoral ways, she will fall the way the Roman Empire fell.

The Hippies and Yippies say theirs is a new morality, when it is in fact the same old immorality. They say it will satisfy everyone, but it will only satisfy a few, because Christians will be able to see through it, and see the destruction it will cause.

If we don't turn from immorality, America's enemies, like Russia, China and Cuba, will catch us off guard, and come in and take over the country. Then we won't be able to choose the man we want to run our great country.

I am proud to be an American, but I fear that unless the people of America wake up and realize their responsibilities, someday they will wake up and find themselves under the rule of Communism.

I think every American who really loves, honors, and respects America should get down on his knees at least once a day and ask God to help him live up to his responsibilities as an American.

The American people alone can't stop the spread of Communism. Human strength and power, not even with man - made weapons, can put an end to Communism. It takes special help, the kind that comes from God alone.

America is starting to divide against herself, because of civil rights, Vietnam, and law and order. The Bible says in Mark 3:24, "And if a kingdom be divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand."

I believe that every American, especially Christians, should pray everyday for the ones elected to run our country that they will be able to unite all of America together, so our nation can continue, with God's help, to be the greatest nation on earth. I believe we should pray especially for the President, because the largest part of the responsibilities of our country will rest on his shoulders for the next four years.

I am a student at Beaver Local, and I believe if America's Christians start praying today that this morality revolution that Mr. Nixon speaks of will begin much sooner than he expected.

Timely Quotes

"Just as in ancient Persia they would chop off the head of the messenger who brought news of defeat, so in America today when a news medium brings the public bad news, it is held to blame and is attacked."

—Merrill Panitt, editor of TV Guide, saying television is giving people front-row seats on world conflict and many viewers don't like what they see.

"I don't know what greatness would have come out of this country had only White Anglo - Saxon Protestants been allowed to work on atomic energy, on music or any other field."

—Whitney Young, executive director of the National Urban League, on whites who don't want their children to have contact with Negroes.

Odd Facts

The breathing rate of an infant averages about 55 times per minute, compared with about 20 "pants" per minute by an adult.

What is generally believed to have been the largest shark ever caught was a whale shark, harpooned off the Florida Keys in 1912—a monster 38 feet long and weighing 26,600 pounds.

DAVID LAWRENCE

Saigon's Pride

While on the surface it looks as if there is a deadlock in the Paris negotiations over the Vietnam War, there are ways to resolve the controversy and ultimately bring an agreement.

At the moment, the national pride of South Vietnam has become a major factor. Its government is unwilling to sit down at the same table and on equal terms with the "National Liberation Front" — the political arm of the Viet Cong guerrillas in South Vietnam.

The North Vietnamese, on the other hand, insist that the Viet Cong must participate in the conferences.

It is clear now that, while President Johnson accelerated the peace talks by his announcement of a halt in the bombing, it is going to take weeks, if not months, of informal talks before a procedure can be worked out that will be satisfactory to all concerned.

HANOI EVIDENTLY is willing to let matters drift for a while as the American government strives to find some compromise.

The simple way, of course, is not to try to bring all four parties into a formal conference but to let the United States act in the role of mediator by discussing vital issues with the North Vietnamese government and the Viet Cong.

American negotiators could then hold separate meetings with the South Vietnamese government at which there would be full disclosure of just what demands or concessions were being made by the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong.

Certainly the government at Saigon cannot go against its own public opinion by entering into a conference with the Viet Cong — an ally of the Hanoi government — which has been responsible for the guerrilla warfare and terrorism in South Vietnam.

The question of whether President Johnson knew about all of this when he announced the halt of the bombing is causing much comment.

He probably was aware that the government of South Vietnam would not be willing to sit down with the Viet Cong. At the same time, he realized that this issue would have to be fully discussed before much progress could be made, so he went ahead with the bombing halt.

Eventually the United States government will have to make up its mind whether to insist that the people of South Vietnam shall determine for themselves their form of government or whether a coalition of some kind is to be imposed upon them against their will.

Certainly American troops and the South Vietnamese forces have made many sacrifices in the last four years. It would be tragic if the Saigon government, which has placed so much faith in the United States, should find itself "sold out" — as the phrase is being used now by critics here and abroad to indicate that President Johnson has veered from his strong support of South Vietnam.

If the United States did go along with Hanoi's demand that the Viet Cong should play a prominent part in any future government of South Vietnam, the war would not be ended. Even if the president of the Saigon government agreed to a "coalition," it is doubtful whether the people themselves would concur, and this could mean more fighting in South Vietnam.

The problem is how to find a way to assure the people of South Vietnam — who have for years suffered heavy losses — a chance to maintain the government they have elected or be free to elect another one.

With the election in this country over, the new president will have to examine all phases of the controversy and reach a decision as to the extent that the government of South Vietnam will be supported. North Vietnam must be convinced that it cannot take over South Vietnam and the Viet Cong will have to be content with that decision.

IT MAY TAKE a long while before actual peace is established in Vietnam but the issues today are not much different from those which prevailed when the United States originally decided to throw its weight on the side of the South Vietnamese.

Either that decision is going to be upheld or the new administration in Washington is, in effect, going to concede that a mistake was made.

In any case, peace cannot be expected in Southeast Asia unless self-determination is accepted as a valid principle in the selection of a government by the people of any country, large or small.

GOP Shows 31-19 Edge In Governors

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six of the seven biggest states will have Republican governors next January, with the GOP holding a 31 to 19 edge nationwide—the party's biggest majority since the first years of the Eisenhower administration.

In all, Republicans will replace Democratic governors in seven states and there will be Democrats in place of Republicans in two others—for a net GOP gain of five.

Ironically, the Republican presidential victory Tuesday will eventually put another statehouse in the Democratic column. Maryland has no lieutenant governor and the successor to Gov. Spiro T. Agnew, vice president-elect will be named by the Democratic-controlled legislature.

The election of Richard B. Ogilvie puts Illinois in Republican hands along with New York, California, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Michigan where governors were not up for re-election. Texas, which elected Lt. Gov. D. Preston Smith to succeed retiring Gov. John Connally, is the only one of the most populous seven to have a Democrat as governor.

Besides Illinois, states that switched from a Democrat to a Republican are Delaware, Indiana, Iowa, New Hampshire, Vermont and West Virginia.2 Montana and Rhode Island went from a Republican to a Democrat.

Otherwise, the parties had an even split Tuesday. Arizona, New Mexico, South Dakota, Washington, Wisconsin and Arkansas, returned Republicans to the governor's mansion. Kansas, Missouri, North Carolina, North Dakota, and Utah joined Texas in retaining Democrats.

A total of 13 Republicans and 8 Democrats were elected. States that did not have a gubernatorial election this year were in control of 18 Republicans and 11 Democrats.

There wasn't any clear pattern of governors riding in on the presidential candidate's coattails. Kansas, Montana, North Carolina, North Dakota and Utah voted for Richard M. Nixon, while electing Democrats as governor. Utah and West Virginia were for Hubert Humphrey but voted Republicans for governors.

Incumbents re-elected are Jack Williams of Arizona, Winthrop Rockefeller of Arkansas, Robert Docking of Kansas, Warren E. Hearnes of Missouri, David F. Cargo of New Mexico, William L. Guy of North Dakota, Calvin L. Rampton of Utah, Daniel J. Evans of Washington and Warren P. Knowles of Wisconsin.

Three governors were defeated in re-election bids:

In Delaware, Gov. Charles L. Terry by Russell W. Peterson; in Montana, Gov. Tim Babcock by Forrest H. Anderson; in Rhode Island, Gov. John Chafee by Frank Licht.

Motorist, 23, Loses Permit For Speeding

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today ordered a 10-day suspension in the driver's license of John R. McLaren, 23, of Dairy Ln., who pleaded guilty to a charge of driving 70 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone on St. Clair Ave.

McLaren also was fined $20 and costs on the speeding charge and told to pay court costs on a charge of driving without an operator's permit. A new permit which he obtained after his arrest Sunday morning was suspended.

Arthur McElroy Jr. of Campground Rd. was fined $5 and costs on a charge of crashing a stop sign and granted a continuance until Nov. 13 on a charge of driving an auto with an expired operator's permit. The continuance was allowed McElroy to give him time to renew a permit he said expired Aug. 18.

McElroy was cited Wednesday at 11:15 p.m. on Hess Rd. in Liverpool Township by Constable Thomas Edgell.

Larry Sparks, 20, of Calcutta was fined $15 and costs on a charge of speeding 75 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on the Calcutta - Smiths Ferry Rd. He was cited by Edgell Wednesday at 9:15 p.m.

Sparks was ordered to pay court costs on a charge of "willfully eluding a police officer after receiving a signal to stop."

Sparks told the court he fled from the flushing red lights of Edgell's auto. He said he did so because he halted two weeks ago for a car which displayed flashing red lights and four young men then attempted to attack him.

"I believe your story," the judge said. Edgell, queried by the judge, said Sparks gave the same explanation at the time of his arrest.

The court granted a continuance until Tuesday in the case of Charles E. McGrath of Foundry Hill, Salineville, cited Monday by the Ohio Highway Patrol on Route 7 on a charge of driving after dark without headlights.

Pennsylvania Plane Crash Claims Three

CHURCHVILLE, Pa. (AP) — A light plane crashed in Northampton Township today, killing at least three persons.

Officials said the plane crashed in a driveway of a home near this lower Bucks County community.

One body, still strapped in a chair, landed on the roof of a nearby house.

Pope Applauds Nixon

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI congratulated Richard M. Nixon today on his election and said he prayed to God to guide him and to bestow peace and prosperity on the American people.

The oath of office as president was administered to Calvin Coolidge by his father.

Nixon

in Illinois, Ohio and California, appeared headed for 302 when late returns gave him the lead in Missouri where more than 100,000 absentee ballots will be decisive.

Absentee votes were also expected to decide Maryland where Humphrey was leading.

Humphrey received 29,677,152 votes under the Democratic column plus 53,120 in Alabama where he was listed in a second ballot position.

George C. Wallace received 9,291,807 votes.

President Johnson returned to the capital from Texas for the 75-day homestretch of his presidency, pledging to Nixon "everything in my power to make your burdens lighter" during the transition period.

Earlier in San Antonio, the Texas White House said that, at Nixon's request, a government aircraft had been made available to him. He already has Secret Service protection.

Johnson also offered Nixon government office space in Washington, but the winner said he would continue to work out of his New York offices in the weeks ahead.

Selection of a Cabinet, a White House staff and such other top aides as a budget director are among Nixon's first chores.

Detroit radio station WJR said Gov. George Romney of Michigan, who made a brief bid last winter for the GOP presidential nomination, probably will be Nixon's secretary of commerce.

The station also forecast that Dist. Atty. Evelle J. Younger of Los Angeles County "will become the next attorney general," and that Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York would be named "either as secretary of state or secretary of defense —most likely the latter."

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, meanwhile suggested that Nixon name "a shadow cabinet to work with the present Cabinet to smooth the transition."

And the Montana Democrat, who will preside over a reduced majority numbering 58 of the 100 senators, said he would support Nixon "when he is right" adding "when we disagree, we'll oppose not just for the sake of opposition but will try to offer constructive alternatives."

One Senate race remained undecided, the Oregon contest in which Republican Robert Packwood was leading four-term veteran Sen. Wayne Morse. If Packwood's lead holds up, Republicans will have made a net gain of five senators from their total in the outgoing 90th Congress.

In the House, the GOP gain was even smaller, a net of four in an election that saw only nine incumbents defeated, four in reapportioned districts where they were thrown in with other incumbents.

The new House will have 243 Democrats and 192 Republicans. But conservative southern Democrats could team with Republicans on many issues in both houses to give Nixon the equivalent of a slim working majority.

While Nixon prepared to assume governmental authority, the vice president-elect, Gov. Spiro T. Agnew, was preparing to shed his duties as Maryland's chief executive, probably giving way to a Democrat.

This would give the Democrats 20 governorships to 30 for the GOP.

Three Children Injured Slightly In 2-Car Wreck

Three Negley children were injured, but apparently not seriously, in a two-car accident two miles east of Rogers on Route 154 Wednesday at 3:25 p.m.

Lorie Dickey, 5, Kevin Dickey, 3, and Penny Haldiman, 5, of Negley RD 1 were passengers in a 1962 sedan operated by Mrs. Janet Dickey, 31, of Box 37, Negley.

According to the Ohio Highway Patrol, Mrs. Dickey's auto pulled onto Route 154 in front of an auto driven by George R. Dawson, 21, of Industry RD 1. Dawson was unable to stop his 1964 convertible in time and it struck the Dickey auto.

The children complained of injuries, but were not treated.

Mrs. Dickey was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Harmon R. Culoer, 77, of Alliance was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way as the result of a two-car accident on Route 517, 4½ miles east of Lisbon at 1:45 Wednesday afternoon.

Culoer backed his 1963 sedan out of a driveway and it was struck by a 1963 coupe operated by Richard E. Hill, 19, of Lisbon RD 5.

There were no injuries.

Judicious Advance

PAINTSVILLE, Ky. (AP) — William Hazelrigg remembers the time a 78-year-old man, convinced of murder, was sentenced to 20 years in prison. "I won't live that long," the prisoner complained. "You know my age." "Well," the judge replied, "you just go along and do as much of it as you can."

Advance Planning Record

$750,000 For Transition Set For Nixon And Agnew

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon and Spiro T. Agnew are beneficiaries of more advance planning for the transfer of government than ever before in United States history.

They will be the first to avail themselves of a $750,000 transitional expense account provided by Congress in 1964 which President Johnson as the incumbent didn't need.

And Johnson himself acted months ago to smooth the way by appointing a liaison man to plan with representatives of the three major candidates for the 76 days of decision that would face the new presidential team.

Every department and agency is handing over transition briefing papers to spell out administrative and budget problems and catalogue important jobs the president-elect will have to fill.

The incoming president and vice president get $375,000 each to pay for office staffs, consultants, travel expenses, postage, printing, telephones and communications.

President Johnson and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey get $75,000 each to ease them through the first six months of their transition to private life.

Fifty rooms in two executive office buildings near the White House have been furnished and fully equipped for the staffs of the new presidential team. However, Nixon said he would continue to work out of his New York offices.

In the days between now and inauguration, one of the biggest tasks facing the president-elect is finding new people to fill hundreds of important posts. He also must acquaint himself with pressing diplomatic and budgetary problems and start work on his own important State of the Union messages.

Aides say the Vietnam war has put top priority on selection of national security officials, including new secretaries of state and defense.

In the turnover of executive power, the president-elect has an estimated 450 to 500 key appointments to consider. All are high-level personnel who serve "at the pleasure of the president." He must pick a White House staff of about 40. And, ultimately, must take a look at some 1,600 other policy and support positions.

Arlington National Cemetery was formerly the property owned by Robert E. Lee. It was taken over for a government cemetery by the quartermaster general's office in 1864.

Suspect Held In Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — A 55-year-old E. Main St. man was being held in City Jail today following his apprehension at 2 a.m. in the Morris Brothers Golden Dawn Store on E. Taggart St. Plaza.

The suspect was taken into custody by Forrest Stallsmith, merchant policeman, on a routine check. He reportedly had shopping bags containing some $100 in cigarettes, and was preparing to leave the store.

Police have not released the name of the suspect pending filing of the charges against him.

Trial Slated For Motorist In Fatalities

LISBON — Robert E. Cusick Jr., 30, of West Point is scheduled for trial Tuesday in Common Pleas Court in connection with the traffic death of Albert G. Adkins, 55, formerly of 447 Virginia Ave., East Liverpool.

Four were killed in the head-on collision last Nov. 11 on Route 30 at the Route 45 junction near West Point.

The January Grand Jury indicted Cusick on three counts of traffic manslaughter, alleging he was driving while under the influence of alcohol, driving recklessly, failed to keep on the right side of the road and failed to obey a traffic control device.

A jury last July 17 convicted Cusick in the death of Paul V. Dawson, 48, formerly of 1004 St. George St., East Liverpool.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard sentenced Cusick to 1 to 20 years in the Ohio Penitentiary, and ordered his driver's license suspended for three years.

The defendant, a factory worker in Salem, posted a bond with Seventh District Court of Appeals to stay execution of the penitentiary sentence pending the outcome of his appeal.

Cusick is also under indictment for the death of Donald M. Adkins, 28, formerly of Midland Heights, who was driving the car in which the East Liverpool victims were passengers. They were returning from the Alliance - East Liverpool football game.

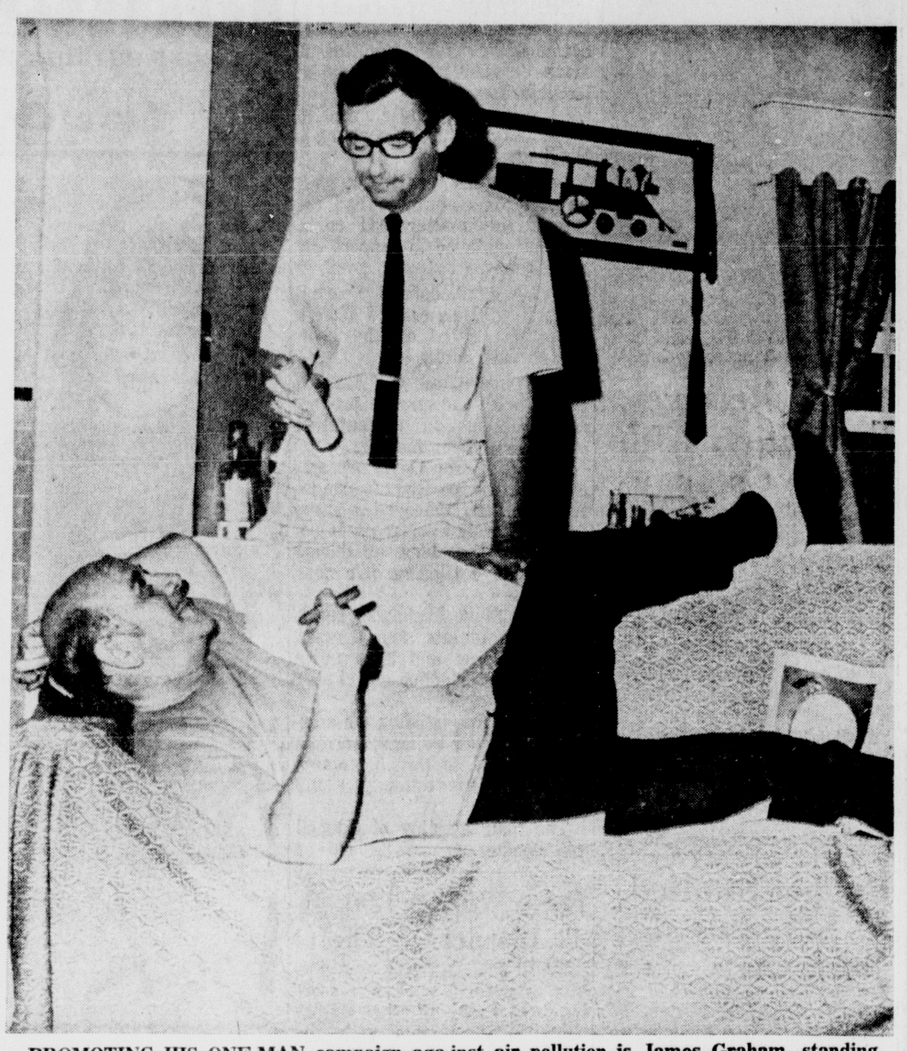
Also killed was Arnold Cusick, 19, Lisbon RD 1, the defendant's brother.

Washington's Nine Votes Gained By HHH

SEATTLE (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey picked up Washington's nine electoral votes in late ballot counting Wednesday but moved no closer to the presidency, with Republican Richard M. Nixon already the declared winner.

At Theater In Wellsville

Play Will Open Tonight



PROMOTING HIS ONE-MAN campaign aga inst air pollution is James Graham, standing, who portrays the "ultra-neat" half of "The Odd Couple," a three-act play which opens tonight at the Liberty Art Theater, Wellsville. The offender, Ed McCune, is the other half of the twosome.

The curtain will go up tonight at 8:30 on the opening performance of "The Odd Couple," a three-act comedy by Neil Simon, in the Liberty Art Theater at Wellsville. It is being presented nightly through Sunday by the Ceramic Playrites.

James Graham, president of the Playrites, one of the male leads, points out the play has enjoyed recent popularity throughout the country both on the screen and on the stage.

It is the story of a divorced, sloppy man, whose best friend, suffering from the pangs of his own divorce, moves in with him. The trouble begins when the sloppiness of the one is countered by the ultra-cleanliness of the other.

The cast includes McCune and Graham in the two male leads, Thomas Henthorn, Bill Arvin, Bob Lackner and Harold Thornton, the poker players, and Sue Smith and Frances Leon, the two British sisters. Nila Jo Bailey is the director.

Number Of Employes Rises Under Compensation System

The number of Columbiana County employes covered by the Ohio Unemployment Compensation Law increased by 1.2 per cent in 1967, a report from the Ohio Bureau of Employment Services office here shows.

This also represents an increase in payroll of 4.7 per cent over 1966.

The report covers 1,051 employers, with the number of employes in the field of mining and quarrying 246; contract construction 601; manufacturing 10,834; transportation and utilities 968; wholesale and retail trade 4,941; finance, insurance and real estate 733, and services, 1,435.

The workers represent a total 1967 payroll amounting to $111,207,484. The lowest monthly figure came in February, with 19,176 workers covered, and the high was August 20,168.

A further breakdown places the average weekly earnings of all workers at $108.09, ranging from a low of $33.28 a week to a high of $174.50.

A comparison with 25 years ago shows 16,630 workers in the county were covered in 1943 with total earnings of $31,670,353. While the average weekly wage has steadily increased, the number of workers has fluctuated. The highest number of workers for the county covered by the law was in 1951 when the average was 21,943.

At that time the average employed in manufacturing was 13,234, compared with 10,834 for 1967. However, at the same time, in 1943 there were 788 employed in services and 364 in finance, insurance and real estate, while today there are 1,435 employed in the services and 733 in finance, insurance and real estate.

Charles B. Boso, manager of the local office, pointed out that the law does not cover agricultural labor, interstate railroads, government and domestic service, certain nonprofit organizations and employers with fewer than three workers at any one time.

Animals other than dogs are susceptible to rabies. In wild animals so susceptible are the fox, skunk and raccoon; in domestic animals, the hog, sheep, horse and goat.

Sludge Mass Draws Near

"It is white all across the river."

That was the word this morning from Francis Wise, chemist for the city water department, as the "sludge" began spilling near Midland.

He said the sludge was not yet beyond Midland, and was moving very slowly.

Wise said he could not say with certainty when the mass will reach here and whether or not it will be visible.

Missouri Apparently Goes In Nixon Column

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Missouri apparently went with the winner but it will be several days before the final vote for Richard M. Nixon will be known.

As the unofficial tabulation of the regular vote was completed, Nixon edged into a sliver of a lead over Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey for the state's 12 electoral votes.

The margin was so thin it could be changed by the absentee votes which won't be counted until Friday or Saturday—or in some cases until Monday.

At the end of the unofficial tabulation without the absentees, with all precincts reporting, Nixon had 766,169, Humphrey 758,547 and George C. Wallace 195,455.

County DAR Meeting Set Here On Saturday

Mrs. R. Warren Scott, recording secretary of the Ohio Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, will be guest speaker during a joint meeting of the four chapters of Columbiana County Saturday at 1:30 p.m.

Rebecca Griscom chapter of East Liverpool and Bethia Southwick chapter of Wellsville are in charge of the arrangements for the countywide meeting at Mary Patterson Memorial here. Other chapters attending will be the Phoebe Fraunces of Salem and Lewis Kinney of Lisbon.

Mrs. Scott has been a member of the Massillon chapter since 1957. She has served as public relations chairman, program chairman and vice regent and regent for two terms. During the last year of her term as geneaological records chairman, Ohio placed first in the east central division and second in the nation.

Mrs. Scott, a graduate of Vassar, has had a successful career as a writer of fiction. More than 400 of her short stories have been published in national magazines in the United States and Canada. She also has taught creative writing courses to adults and has written articles in fiction techniques.

MRS. SCOTT
Will Speak At Rally.

The speaker is a member of the Cleveland Vassar Club, a past president of the Canton College Club, a past vice president of the Massillon Women's Club, a member of the Episcopal church, a member of the Daughters of the American Colonists, the United States Daughters of 1812 and the Ohio Society Dames of the Court of Honor.

Members of the four chapters will take part in the program. Refreshments will be served.

Wallace's Effort Played Part In Electing Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — George C. Wallace's third-party effort for the presidency appears to have played a substantial part in putting Republican Richard M. Nixon in the White House.

The votes he pulled in five key industrial states—California, Illinois, New Jersey, Ohio and Wisconsin—could have had the effect of nudging these states and their 121 electoral votes into Nixon's column.

Wallace appears to have pulled much of his support from blue-collar union workers. They usually support Democrats.

It is true that the five Southern states the former Alabama governor won were regarded as strong Nixon territory before Wallace came along but thei electoral votes total only 45. So electoral votes Wallace took from Nixon in the South may have been far fewer than those he denied to Hubert H. Humphrey in the North.

Although the third-party candidate ran a weak third in their states, Democratic leaders in California, Illinois and Sew Jesey attibuted the Humphrey's loss of their states' 83 electoral votes to the Wallace candidacy.

In Ohio and Wisconsin, with 38 electoral votes, politicians were less sure of Wallace's impact.

Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey said the results in his state were "a victory for Wallace and the hate vote, not a victory for Nixon over Humphrey."

Late, unofficial results put Nixon 54,000 votes ahead of Humphrey but Wallace polled some 253,000 votes.

Hughes said inroads by Wallace in Democratic strongholds such as Hudson, Middlesex, Passaic and Essex counties kept down Humphrey's pluralities.

In California, where Wallace polled some 481,000 votes while Nixon was ahead by only 221,000, former Democratic National Committeeman Eugene L. Wyman said Humphrey would have carried the state in a two-way race.

He said Wallace's votes were mainly in blue-collar and suburban areas, adding "It would have been difficult for these people to vote for Nixon."

But Leon Cooper, the new national committeeman and Humphrey's state chairman, disagreed, calling Wallace's vote "of nuisance value. It made the election closer, but that's about all."

In Illinois, where Wallace polled 336,000 and Nixon was leading by 74,000, William Flanagan of the All-Illinois Committee for Hubert H. Humphrey-Edmund S. Muskie said "Obviously the Wallace vote cut both ways, but also obviously it cut into the Humphrey vote more. It could have made the difference."

In Wisconsin, where Wallace's total of 126,000 was about double Nixon's margin, John Schmitt, president of the state AFL-CIO, said he could not guess at this stage which candidate was hurt most by Wallace.

In Ohio, there was mixed reaction. Frank King, president of the state AFL-CIO and Senate Democratic leader, said "I think many of the Wallace votes would have gone to Nixon anyway." But a Cincinnati Republican leader, David Bodley, said most of the Wallace vote in that area came from blue-collar, normally Democratic wards in the inner city.

Tools Valued At $312 Stolen From Vehicle

Frank J. Youst of 1015 Bradshaw Ave. told police Wednesday night a large assortment of tools valued at $312.50 was stolen from his vehicle while it was parked in front of his home yesterday between 1:30 and 5:30 a.m.

The thief forced the right vent window to enter the locked vehicle, Youst said. The major items of loss included a butane torch, a sander, an electric drill, a saber saw, a hacksaw, a ruler, files, pliers, screw drivers and a hammer, he said.

Postal Units To Be Closed Here Monday

The downtown post office at Broadway and E. 5th St., Station A in East End and the Calcutta branch will be closed Monday in observance of Veterans Day.

Postmaster Samuel W. Brown said mail will be received and dispatched in accordance with the usual holiday schedule and reminded that collection pickup times are posted on street boxes.

There will be no city or rural deliveries, with the exception of special delivery and perishable items, he said.

The lobby of the downtown office will be open only for the deposit of mail or for those patrons who have lock boxes. Brown said mail received will be placed in the boxes.

All window services will be suspended from Saturday noon until Tuesday morning in line with the holiday schedule.

The postmaster again urges those sending mail overseas to keep the following three dates in mind:

S.A.M. (space available mail) parcels must be mailed by Nov. 23 for Christmas delivery.

P.A.L. (Parcel air lift) parcels must be mailed by Nov. 30.

Air mail paid for all the way at regular rates must be sent by Dec. 11.

Brown pointed out that the dates are the last on which the post office will guarantee acceptance for delivery overseas to veterans of the various types of parcels.

He explained it takes two to three weeks for ships to reach the Vietnam zones and called for early mail so servicemen "won't be disappointed."
